California Oil Magnate Bares Employment of Former Cabinet Members by Various Companies

HOUSE VOTES ANNULMENT

(By International News Service Leased Wire to TRIBUNE.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—A new sensation was sprung this afternoon in the naval oil scandal when E. L. Doheny, multi-millionaire oil king, revealed he had employed on a wholesale scale ex-members of Presidential cabinets to act as counsel for various oil interests.

While the committee room sat stunned, Doheny calmly recited how he had employed William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury; Thomas W. Gregory, former attorney-general; Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior, and Lindley M. Garrison, former secretary of war.

Within an hour after Doheny had testified today that he had employed Gregory, the White House issued a formal statement indicating that the appointment of Gregory would be withdrawn. The statement said:

"Mr. Gregory is on his way here at the invitation of the president for the purpose of conferring with the president in regard to employment in the oil leases, representing the government, as previously stated to the public.

"In view of the statement of Mr. Doheny that Mr. Gregory had been his attorney, that employment might be an embarrassment to Mr. Gregory, and perhaps otherwise would be improper."

Gregory is scheduled to reach Washington at 1 o'clock tomorrow. Further word from the White House implies decision already is made not to employ Gregory.

McADOO DRAWS $50,000 PER YEAR.

McAdoo, the witness said, was still in his employ at a salary of $50,000 a year, and that the candidate for the Democratic nomination had been paid $250,000 to date.

McAdoo's work, he said, was the same as Gregory's, "to get justice for me in Mexican matters." Doheny denied, however, that he had employed any of the men named "while they were in the cabinet."

Under further questioning, Doheny said Lindley Garrison, former secretary of war, had been employed by Blair & Company, a New York banking company in which Doheny is interested. Earlier in his testimony, Doheny produced a mu-

Gen. N. P. Chipman, Lincoln Friend, Dies

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—General Norton P. Chipman, former presiding justice of the State Court of Appeals for the third district, and an intimate friend of President Abraham Lincoln, died here today at his home, 972 Bush street.

Chipman was nearly 89 years old. He sat on the platform when Lincoln delivered his famous Gettysburg address. He also was the writer of the order creating Memorial day, which he drew up while adjutant general of the G. A. R., in 1868.

General Chipman first came to California in 1876. He was for many years judge of the third Appellate Court in Sacramento and in his old courtroom there stands the desk he used during his short time in Congress as first and last representative of the District of Columbia.

Condemned Men Escape From Prison

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 1.—Three gunmen and murderers, awaiting electrocution at the State penitentiary here, escaped today. They overpowered and kidnaped Warden Hamp Martin, fleeing in his auto.

The warden entered the "death" cell to talk to the prisoners—Emery Connell, Joe Sullivan and Eulos Sullivan—when the three attacked him. They were armed with revolvers and shotguns which had been smuggled into the prison. They bundled the warden into his automobile and made their escape past prison guards.

Love Notes of Beauty Read to Defend Candler

Millionaire Claims Plaintiff Was Married at Time of Their Romance.

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 1. — The billets-doux of the beautiful Mrs. Onezima de Bouchel were relied on by defense attorneys today to defeat her $500,000 breach of promise suit against Asa G. Candler, aged multi-millionaire.

Continuing to read a bundle of love letters written on dainty pink, blue and yllow stationry, Attorny W. D. Thompson representing the defendant, expected to show a jury in Federal district colurt that the engagement of the soft drink king to the New Orleans society leader was contracted while she was a married woman and that a subsequent divorce was illegal.

The letters which are being presented, calling the aged capitalist "preciousness," "the most precious thing in ten thousand worlds," and other endearing terms, freely discussed plans for obtaining a divorce from Adolphe Rocquet, and at one time asked Candler's advice whether to pay $12,000 so Rocquet would not contest the suit.

Other portions of these letters tell of the "loneliness" in Reno while establishing a legal residence, and asks Candler to ascertain whether an uncontested divorce is recognized in Georgia.

BOYS DISAPPEAR; STIR POLICE HUNT

Robert Turner and George Metin Reported Missing by Mothers.

The local police are hunting for two boys reported missing by their mothers last night. Mrs. L. D. Turner of 27 Wyman Place reported that her 15-year-old son Robert had disappeared. She said he had been sick and was supposed to have gone to the doctor's office.

When he left home he wore an R. O. T. C. uniform with a corporal's stripes. He is 5 feet 3 inches tall, has blue eyes and light hair and two of his front teeth are broken.

Mrs. Grace Metin, 1566 Seventh street, reported that her son George, 9 years old, is missing. She described him as being five feet tall, weighing 75 pounds, and having black eyes and blonde hair. He was wearing a brown coat and blue overalls when she last saw him.

Dawes Sees Child-Feeding Operations

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—Brigadier-General Charles G. Dawes, head of the first committee of experts investigating German's financial condition here, forgot the reparation problem for a few hours today and, as chairman of the Chicago branch of General H. T. Allen's child feeding committee, visited the open air center for tubercular children on Emperor William's old parade grounds, where he witnessed the feeding of the children. Afterward, accompanied by American relief workers, General Dawes visited the elementary schools, where he was shown under-nourished children of various ages.

Venizelos Promises To Remain Premier

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

ATHENS, Feb. 1.—Meeting at the bedside of Premier Venizelos, the cabinet has accepted his promise to retain the premiership until he has received the verdict of the heart specialist, who is hurrying from Paris to examine him.

It is hinted that should the Republicans, in the absence of the premier from the assembly, succeed in winning over enough Venizelist deputies to pass their bill declaring the Glucks dynasty abolished, Venizelos might be tempted, if his physicians permit, to renounce his intention of resigning.

RUSS SOVIET RECOGNIZED BY BRITISH

RUSS SOVIET
BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Great Britain today recognized the Russian soviet government at Moscow. Official announcement to this effect was made this afternoon. Great Britain is the first of the allied and associated powers to extend the soviet regime.

Great Britain has accorded Russia le jure recognition, said an official statement. A conference is proposed to draw up an Anglo-Russian treaty to "settle all outstanding questions."

Recognition of Russia was the first decisive step in foreign affairs taken by the new labor government.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

HELSINGFORS, Feb. 1.—The soviet is withdrawing "red" troops from Siberia and massing them at Moscow, fearing clashes between the population and military, according to word received here today. The commissar, Djersjevski, has been authorized to arrest revolters.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 1.—Reorganized Russian "white" forces have opened a revolt against the "reds," proclaiming a free state in Amur province, according to reports received in Russian circles here today.

Anti-red peasants fought soviet troops at Blagoveschensk and occupied the city, the reports stated. Riots were reported at Habarovsk, where there was widespread refusal to obey orders to mourn Lenine's death.

The "whites," it is believed, control the railway from Harbin as no trans-Siberian mail has been received for five days.

The dead are: W. C. Welch, deputy sheriff of Sparta; Henry Wyatt and Milton Stewart.

The officers were dismantling a huge still when suddenly they were fired upon by alleged moonshiners. Welch fell mortally wounded. In the return fire two of the assailants were killed and the others fled to the hills.

Akron Uses Busses As Carmen Strike

AKRON, Ohio, Feb. 1.—Akron was without street car service today, but its citizens were not compelled to walk, as Mayor D. C. Rybolt arranged to motorize the city with several hundred busses and automobiles.

Street car service ended today in compliance with a city ordinance requiring the Northern Ohio Traction and Light Company to cease operation last midnight, when its 25-year franchise expired, unless it continued to operate at a 5-cent fare and free transfers.

Approximately 1000 carmen are idle.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Joseph P. Tumulty, Woodrow Wilson's former secretary, who made several visits to the home during the day, left the house a few minutes before 3 o'clock. "It's only a question of time, boys," he said to the group of reporters.

Shortly after 2:30 a hypodermic was given the former President while he slept.

By Associated Press Leased Wire to TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Personal friends inquiring at the Wilson home shortly after 2 p. m., today were told that the former President was very near death, but that he had awakened from a short sleep and still was conscious.

At 2:30 o'clock Wilson took a little light nourishment, although he was very weak. Dr. Grayson returned to the sick room with the intention of remaining through the day and night.

(By International News Service Leased Wire to TRIBUNE.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Oxygen and stimulants were administered to Woodrow Wilson this afternoon in a frantic effort to prolong his life.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Woodrow Wilson is at death's door.

Wasted by months of suffering the war-time president is fighting what his physicians believe may be his last battle.

After a sudden turn for the worse, during the night, he lay throughout the morning hours between life and death. He rallied slightly at noon and talked in whispers with those about him.

In the early afternoon he seemed perhaps to be resting easier, but his attendants saw little hope that the end could long be delayed.

At 1 o'clock his friend and physician, Dr. Grayson, announced that the former president was asleep, and that his pulse was "a trifle stronger."

A digestive disorder, first noticed several days ago, developed a condition during th enight that was described as being "very serious."

A crisis is believed likely before the day is over. The members of his family have been summoned by Mrs. Wilson, who is inconstant attendance at the bedside.

Dr. Grayson, in addition to the force of two nurses and an orderly already on duty, called in during the morning Dr. Sterling Ruffin and Dr. H. A. Fowler, both of whom helped care for Wilson, while he was ill in the White House.

PEOPLE SWARM PAST THE HOME.

As the former President's condition became known there was a steady flow of people into the ordinarily quiet residence street. One of those who called at the house was Joseph P. Tumulty, Wilson's private secretary when he was president and governor of New Jersey. Bernard M. Baruch remained at the residence practically all the entire day.

Special police guards were stationed not only in front of the residence but at the street intersections immediately adjacent to divert the flow of automobiles. One of the uniformed men led across the street a woman who wanted to gain admission to the house to attempt to heal Wilson by prayer.

During the afternoon the Rev. Dr. Robert Johnston of the St. John's Episcopal church, to which Wilson belongs, and Bishop Freeman, were also admitted to the house.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Woodrow Wilson was dying today in the quiet secluded house in S street which has been his home since his retirement from the White House in 1921.

At 11 o'clock Rear Admiral Grayson, chief of his attending physicians, emerged from the sick room and said there was little hope for the ex-President.

Only a short time before Dr. Grayson made the announcement that the ex-President had summoned him to lean over his bed, and in a whisper said:

"Doctor, I'm a broken man. I'm a broken piece of machinery. I am ready to go."

With that, Dr. Grayson said, the ex-President thanked him in a feeble voice for "all he had done for him."

Wilson was very weak at 11 o'clock, so weak that his voice was only a whisper. He was conscious, however, of everything about him and seemed to realize

VENIZELOS HAS PUZZLING MALADY

Illness Not Believed Serious, But Paris Specialist Is Summoned.

By PAUL ANDRAKIS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

ATHENS, Feb. 1. — Premier Eleutherios Venizelos is suffering from a serious malady which is puzzling the physicians to diagnose, it was learned today.

Minister of Justice Kafandaris, amidst great applause, told the assembly that the statesman's illness is not believed to be serious and that he already is showing improvement.

"But the ailment from which our distinguished colleague is suffering is a most mysterious one," added Kafandaris. "Sometimes the symptoms disappear entirely. At other times they become so aggravated that the patient appears to be dying. The chief fear of the doctors is that the stain will weaken the heart."

Venizelos has agreed not to resign until after the arrival of Professor Desques, famous French specialist, who is on his way here from Paris. He is due Monday.

In the meanwhile Kafandaris is planning a [illegible] cabinet.

LIFE IN DANGER SINCE TUESDAY

Even Physicians Deceived by Apparently Minor Character of Malady.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The first symptoms of former President Wilson's latest attack developed early this week when Wilson became a prey to a digestive derangement, at first of a minor character, but developing quickly into a condition that at once aroused the concern of those who have watched his illness in its smallest peculiarities.

Those who live in the vicinity of his home first guessed that something was amiss when the big automobile presented as a birthday gift a month ago by anonymous friends failed to draw up before the white portals of the trim brick house on S street to take the former chief executive for his customary ride in the late afternoon.

CHANGE IN NIGHT AROUSES FEARS.

On Wednesday Dr. Sterling Ruffin, who had helped attend Wilson in his illness at the White House, was summoned by Mrs. Wilson in the absence of Dr. Grayson. He made a careful examination and on Wednesday gave the public its first real news of the trouble in a statement saying that a complication had developed, but for the moment was not of proportions to

Dreams of Childhood

Do you remember as a child picturing an adult heaven as the proprietor of a candy store where you might eat your till without having to solve the troublesome problem of how to coax nickels and dimes out of your parents?

Well, the realization of that dream is within your grasp. There is an ice cream parlor and candy store offered for sale in "Business Opportunities," in last night's TRIBUNE, likewise a grocery with a side line of candy. Other attractions for more mature tastes are a poolroom business and the managership of a theatrical troupe.

In fact, it is rather unusual that but one confectionery should be advertised in yesterday's paper; commonly there are several, but possibly the recent severe cold weather temporarily depressed the business. A hunch—why doesn't someone open a chocolate fountain for winter trade? Perhaps you can find a person with the capital to finance such a venture.

perfectly, it was said, that the long fight for health which he has waged so grimly and with such tremendous courage for years, is about over.

No one was allowed to stay in the sick room, but Admiral Grayson. Mrs. Wilson was was in and out of the room.

By LAWRENCE MARTIN.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Woodrow Wilson, stricken suddenly by what at first appeared to be a slight digestite disorder, failed to respond to treatment and last night took a sudden turn for the worse which caused his doctor, Admiral Cary T. Grayson, to announce today that it was necessary to "be prepared for some sudden change."

Wilson is in a "very serious condition," Dr. Grayson said.

Three doctors and two nurses were in constant attendance on the former president.

All members of Wilson's family were notified of his condition. Miss Margaret Wilson and Mrs. William G. McAdoo were expected to come to Washington in response to messages sent them by Mrs. Wilson today on the advice of Dr. Grayson. Mrs. Francis Sayre, Wilson's daughter, is in Siam, where her husband is adviser to the king.

His face pale and drawn and bearing signs of deep anxiety, Dr. Grayson this morning told newspapermen assembled in front of the Wilson home that Wilson's condition was developing much along the same lines as when he was stricken in 1919.

Grayson was up all night with the patient. During the night, Wilson, who was forced to go to bed yesterday by weakness and discomfort occasioned by the digestive symptoms, was restless and uncomfortable and obviously grew weaker.

The symptoms were so alarming that early today Dr. Grayson called in Dr Sterling Ruffin and Dr. H. A. Fowler, specialists, who attended Mr. Wilson when he was ill in the White House. The three doctors will remain constantly in the Wilson home.

President and Mrs. Coolidge sent a note of sympathy to Mrs. Wilson and offered her any aid they can give.

McADOOS LEAVE FOR WASHINGTON.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—"Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo will leave for Washington on the first train available."

This was the announcement from McAdoo's office this morning, following receipt of additional advice from the east, telling them of the condition of Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. McAdoo's father.

"They will go today if they can possibly secure reservations, and hope to reach there in time," it was said.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 1.—Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War in the Wilson cabinet, cancelled a speaking engagement before the Women's Civic Club here tonight and prepared for a hurried trip to the bedside of Woodrow Wilson.

warrant alarm. He added that the development was unrelated to the old trouble that had assailed the former President during his western speaking trip late in 1919.

Dr. Grayson, on his return to Washington yesterday, confirmed that diagnosis and said he did not at that time regard the attack as serious unless it should fail to yield to treatment.

The change during the night, however, manifestly aroused grave fears of Dr. Grayson and Mrs. Wilson, who has been the faithful attendant of her husband since the first symptoms of his collapse became manifest during the western trip four and a half years ago. Today she notified all the members of Wilson's family of his condition, at the suggestion of Dr. Grayson. None of his three daughters is in Washington.

For a brief time this morning Dr. Grayson left the bedside of his patient and made a hurried trip to his own home. He did not take leave of the Wilson home even then, however, until he had summoned Dr. H. A. Fowler, a Washington kidney specialist, who had treated Wilson previously, to remain on watch.

Dr. Grayson said the step was taken as a precautionary measure.

News of the change for the worse spread rapidly throughout Washington as alarming rumors were disseminated over the whole country during the night by radio broadcasting stations. Early this morning, before Dr. Grayson had issued his bulletin, messages of sympathy and encouragement began arriving by the thousands.

President Coolidge was one of the first to convey his expressions of regret. As soon as he reached his office the President learned of the serious condition of Wilson and he immediately sent to Mrs. Wilson a message for himself and Mrs. Coolidge expressing concern and hope of a speedy recovery.

The messages of concern came from the lowest as well as the highest among the fellow citizens of the former president, as did the great pressure of telephone inquiries that beseiged newspaper offices as soon as the news spread. Washington and the country had heard many rumors heretofore about supposed relapses, but this time there seemed to be a universal realization that something grave had occurred. From admirers of the wartime president in distant states, from friends of Woodrow Wilson in his youth and his collegiate days, as well as from public officials throughout all the branches of the government the inquiries and expressions of sympathy and apprehension poured in a great tide of tilated note which he declared was the one given him by former Secretary of the Interior Fall to cover a $100,000 loan made Fall while they were negotiating for the Elk Hills, California, naval oil lease. The signature had been torn off the note but Doheny maintained the remainder of the note was in Fall's handwriting. The torn portion, he added, he had given to his wife to keep.

SENATOR PITTMAN DOUBTS DOHENY.

Further questioning of Doheny unearthed a series of discrepancies in his previous testimony which resulted finally in a flat statement from Senator Key Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, that he did not believe Doheny was telling the truth on the witness stand.

The Walsh resolution, declaring that the oil leases obtained from former Secretary of the Interior Fall by F. L. Doheny and Harry F Sinclair were issued "through fraud and corruption," was adopted unanimously by the house less than 24 hours after the same action had been accorded by the senate.

An effort was made in the house to bring up and pass the Fish resolution, requiring Sinclair to return to the United States immediately from Europe to appear in the oil probe. An objection was raised by Representative Underhill, Republican, of Massachusetts, and the resolution went over.

Physicians employed by the senate investigating committee to examine former Secretary of the Interior Fall reported that he is not too ill to testify and the committee subpoenaed him to appear before it tomorrow at 10 a. m.

Orgy of Democrat Frauds Charged by G. O. P. Chief

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Replying to the recent statement of Democratic National Chairman Hull on the naval oil disclosures, George H. Lockwood, secretary of the Republican national committee, upheld the course of President Coolidge in a statement published today in the National Republican.

At the same time Lockwood attacked the record of the Wilson administration in its conduct of the war and reviewed at length the disclosures before congressional committees that investigated war expenditures.

"Chairman Hull" said the statement, "has issued a pronouncemento in which he attempts to give the color of partisan politics to the disclosures in the Fall case. Secretary Fall is a Republican. It is true; he is a former member of the Harding administration.

WHO DOHENY IS.

"Doheny is one of the nation's most distinguished Democrats. He was a member of the platform committee of the last Democratic national convention; he made a speech in the convention, his name was placed before the convention for the vice-presidential nomination by the California delegation.

"Doheny was the largest contributor to the Democratic national campaign fund in 1916; he gave generously, it is said, to the Democratic campaign fund of 1920. It was at Doheny's instance that the late Secretary of the Interior Lane who had passed upon oil leases in which Doheny was interested under the Wilson administration, returned to accept employment with Doheny at a salary of $50,000 a year.

"Other important officials of the Wilson administration took employment with Doheny at fabulous salaries.

"The less said about partisan politics in this connection perhaps the better; it's not a matter of partisan politics but of personal and official wrongdoing for which no party can be held responsible unless it condemns the crime and fails to prosecute the offenders. Upon this point the Republican national administration has made itself clear; it will go to the bottom of the matter and prosecute any one found criminally liable."

CROOKEDNESS RAMPANT.

Lockwood continued that when the "shameful facts as to the weakness of our war management, under which wholesale crookedness ran rampant, became known," President Wilson attempted to drive out of the Democratic party those who protested.

"Contrast this with the action of President Coolidge," he said, "who, immediately the facts came to light, announced his purpose to prosecute every wrongdoing vigorously with the ablest counsel it is possible for the government to employ, representing both the great political parties."

"FEW HIGH SPOTS."

Chairman Hull having invited attention, Lockwood said, to the "unblemished record of honest and faithful service" under Democratic rule, it would be in order to recite "just a few of the high spots of the last Wilson administration."

"Some of those listed were as follows:

"Bought 41,000,000 pairs of shoes for 3,500,000 soldiers.

"Bought 149,456,611 bread cans, or 42 for every man under arms.

JEAN HANSON, who is to be seen in cast of Shaw comedy at Wheeler hall.

WHEELER HALL TONIGHT TO SEE SHAW'S COMEDY

BERKELEY, Feb. 1. — The Greek Theater Players of the University of California will inaugurate their spring season tonight with a presentation of Bernard Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion," to be given in Wheeler hall. The play will be repeated Saturday and Monday nights.

When "Androcles and the Lion" was produced by Granville Barker in New York it was hailed as one of the most amusing of the Shaw plays. It has not been seen on the coast, and the Greek Theater Players' production has, therefore, aroused interest. Besides Dorothea Johnston, Harold Minger, Jean Hanson, Phyllis Blake and Louis Martin, who are taking the leading parts in the play, the cast includes the following: Eugene Norman, Conrad Kahn, Berald Maulsmy, Cyril Armbrister, Anton Van Buren, Page Nourse, Henri Andiffred, Oliver Prickett, Clifford Hubbard, Vasa Macgowen, Clayton Lane and Betty Hillier.

Eastbay Hikes and Hikers

By Prof. J. Walker

"The outer world, from which we cower into our houses, seemed after all a gentle habitable place; and night after night a man's bed, it seemed, was laid and waiting for him in the fields, where God keeps an open house. I thought I had rediscovered one of those truths which are revealed to savages and hid from political economists: at the least, I had discovered a new pleasure for myself. And yet even while I was exulting in my solitude I became aware of a strange lack. I wished a companion to lie near me in the starlight, silent and not moving, but ever within touch. For there is a fellowship more quiet even than solitude, and which, rightly understood, is solitude made perfect. And to live out of doors with the woman a man loves is of all lives the most complete and free."

—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Domestic Heroines in Our Homes

Women who lead a domestic life seem to listen to every call of duty excepting the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. As long as they can drag themselves around women continue to work. Necessity to keep on their feet all day when overtired, or sitting in cramped positions day in and day out often brings on ailments from which women suffer tortures. For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been strengthening women and overcoming such ailments. Sickness and pain vanish under its influence and thousands of women have been benefited by it.—Advertisement.

'eterans' Bureau Criticised by Oddie

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Dissatisfaction with what is described as ..e failure of Director Hines to clean house" in the Veterans' Bu..au on the basis of disclosures ..e nine months of Senate investi..ation has arisen in the special ..nate Veterans' committee.

Senator Oddie (Rep.) Nevada, one of the members of the committee, declared in a statement today that he was "thoroughly dissatisfied and provoked because the very necessary changes that should have been made in the personnel of the Veterans bureau have not been made.

"As a result," he said, "there has not been the improvement in the handling of individual cases that there should have been. Continued injustice to a large number of former service men naturally have followed."

CURTAIN CALLS

By WOLF SOANES

So much has been written in the last week about the vote of confidence play and player that the following story from F. T. Marsh, who takes over Jed Harris' Cromwell line, comes as a supremely welcome relief.

Of course the document is frankly based in favor of Cromwell and his most recent production "Tarnish" but that is to be expected as most of the devotees of the immortal problem have been paid to think that way.

"During the past decade foreign plays have made a greater impression on the American theater than during the entire century before," Marsh begins. "When our knowledge of the higher European drama was restricted to French farces and the ladies who weren't exactly ladies.

"No one will deny that the foreign influence on the stage has been a fine one nevertheless at a time when Czechoslovakia, Russia and France had become the native land of the American theater it is good to encounter a play such as I propose and applaud by Americans.

TWENTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

"That play is Tarnish and perhaps one reason for its support both from the naive and the sophisticated is in the fact that the drama has a genuinely native theme and atmosphere. There's not a single Russian in the cast.

"Tarnish' deals with the problems that beset a young American girl, the only child in a family which has lost its money. The scene is played in a flat in the brown portion of the city. The play does not pretend to be in any sense metaphysical or profound but it is a human document full of real heart throbs and clever talk. It is good old fashioned, humorously and when deeply moved intensely. As a result the play breathes and glows.

"The play should bring a good deal of assurance to budding American playwrights and to all others who like to see an American theme succeed in America. For it proves that a play can be written by one of us and the scene laid among us, and still be interesting and successful at one and the same time."

Clayton Hamilton on John Galsworthy

The announcement by some little theater group or other in the bay region of a forthcoming presentation of Galsworthy's 'Joy' recalls a chapter on 'Dramatic and Theatrical Talent' in 'Problems of the Playwright' in which our old friend Clayton Hamilton discusses Galsworthy in his usual shrewd and gifted manner.

"No play of Mr. Galsworthy's has ever until very recently, made money in the theater," he writes in 1917, however before Barrymore undertook 'Justice.' This consideration matters so much to a solid success it not for the fact that the drama is dismal to see and that it is undesired. The duty of the dramatist to appeal to many and not the few.

"On the other hand Mr. Galsworthy has never written a play which was unworthy of serious consideration. His best plays are not so good as 'The Second Mrs. Tanqueray' but his worst plays are not as bad as 'A Wife Without a Smile.' Always in dramatic composition he has had something to say, always he has used living characters always he has told an interesting story through the medium of vital interesting people. Why then, may he be called to rank the great army of the theater-going public."

FORTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

Jeffreys Lewis is appearing in "Odette" at Baldwin's.

Hamlet propounded the question Hamilton proceeds to answer. In brief it becomes one's immediately interested in the theater there is a great deal to be enjoyed, whether that be the fundamental of the theater, this or that play, director Hamilton says. "The Show Box" "Stage" "Fusion" and "The Players" has neither one does it. "The Lower Sort" or "The Mob."

In summing up his explanation Hamilton says: "The theater is not an art, it is a business and it is not to be considered as a place to go to see a play. It is a place to go to see a play."

Henry Miller is also reported to have bespoken his mind on the subject of stage electricians the other night when some one pulled the wrong switch during a performance of "The Changelings" in Chicago and threw house and stage into darkness. Based on past performances Miller's monologue must have been entertaining to all but the recipient of the verbal bombs.

VARGAS GRANTED DIVORCE DECREE, CRUELTY CHARGE

Charge of Improper Conduct by Wife Not Proved, Declares Court.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 1.—Manuel J. Vargas, wealthy Santa Clara business man, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from his wife, Mrs. Leonore Vargas, by Superior Judge J. R. Welch, on the grounds of cruelty. The granting of the decree brings to a climax one of the most interesting and hardest fought divorce cases on record in Santa Clara county, after nearly three weeks of court battling. Mrs. Vargas left the courtroom in tears as judgment was pronounced.

In rendering his decision Judge Welch stated that there was no evidence of improper relations between Mrs. Vargas and "Bob" Fowler, prominent Pacific coast aviator, named as co-respondent in Vargas' complaint, but that Mrs. Vargas had certainly been indiscreet. Judge Welch also stated that there was no evidence to support Mrs. Vargas' charge in her answer and cross complaint that her husband had been guilty of improper relations with an unnamed woman at an Oakland hotel.

Awarding of the custody of the three Vargas children and division of the community property, understood to be valued at a large figure, will be thrashed out at a hearing to be held later, probably next week.

The last week of the trial was held behind doors closed to the public by stipulation of attorneys. Testimony of a most startling nature was introduced on several occasions during the trial.

Mrs. Josephine Fowler, wife of the aviator co-respondent in the case, was the principal witness called to the stand yesterday. She testified that she had on one occasion followed Mrs. Vargas and Fowler to the "love nest," that they kissed and caressed each other en route and that when she left the mountain lodge at 11 o'clock u. m. they were together in the building.

Oroville Lighting Cost Put at $35,000

OROVILLE, Feb. 1.—That the cost of installation of the new street lighting system to be installed in the city of Oroville will be approximately $35,000 was the announcement of Ernest Gibson, local manager of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, following the completion of details announced on the visit here of C. C. Campbell and E. A. McGinty, San Francisco engineers; C. P. Taylor, division superintendent for the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, and H. Smith, draughtsman.

C. of C. Directors To Meet Tonight

HAYWARD, Feb. 1.—Proposed activities for the present year will be outlined at a special meeting of the Hayward Chamber of Commerce board of directors, to be held in the Sastrowetzel rooms tonight. Financial affairs of the chamber will be principal subject of interest, reports of committees in charge to be made, the amount of dues for 1924 probably settled on and a general reconstruction program planned.

According to Jacob Harder Pr. newly-elected secretary of the chamber, the finances of the organization are rapidly rounding into shape. Outstanding bills are virtually all paid, while money owed the businessmen's body is being collected in a satisfactory manner. With the finances of the chamber balanced, says Harder, the period of partial inactivity for the past several months should be succeeded by one of advancement and action.

VANISHED SPINSTER.

PARIS.—Mlle. Lucille Dreleux, a spinster, 65, and reputed to be worth more than $800,000, has disappeared from her chateau near Lyons under mysterious circumstances.

The Island of Jamaica has become a source of supply for vanilla flavoring extract.

BABIES ASLEEP, DEATH IS SOUGHT

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 2.—Rocking her two little girl babies to sleep and safely tucking them away for the night with a kiss, Mrs. J. L. Hamilton, a 20-year-old mother, of this city, one night recently attempted suicide by drinking a quantity of iodine.

When she took the poison in a room adjoining the one where her two little girls were sleeping she fell to the floor with a scream. Neighbors arrived, and she was rushed to a local hospital, where physicians fought a winning battle with the poison, and Mrs. Hamilton soon was joyously reunited with her two babies.

"I was so lonely and blue and despondent," she said. "My husband is out of town so much, and I just felt I couldn't stand it, but when I thought I was going to die—that it was too late—and that I would never see my two babies again I regretted what I had done, and I prayed to get well. I am so glad, and never again will I do a thing like that!" she cried as she caressed her two laughing babies.

Ice Baths Make Carp Good Food

MCGREGOR, Ia., Feb. 1.—Dieting—the cause of worry to many a woman—changes the bowly carp to a fine-fleshed table delicacy.

From Lansing, Ia., and Genoa, Wis., come the reports of carp farming as extensive as cattle ranches. Commercial fishermen are engaged in the newest enterprise in the age-old endeavor to make of the "leather-back" a fish food comparable to bass, trout, salmon and others well known.

At Lansing a firm of fish dealers manage an extensive carp "farm." In a bay-like inlet of the Mississippi river they have formed a deep pool fed constantly by ice cold artesian wells. Carp are seined from their mud wallows in the Mississippi and placed in the ice baths of the farm.

In the cold waters they begin to live anew. Their food consists of corn and barley—for this strictly cereal diet holds them at their weight and combines with the cold waters in making the flesh firm and tender, at the same time giving it a new flavor.

WATER FUND APPROVED.

VALLEJO, Feb. 1.—The city council at the meeting today passed a claim of $1500 for the Vallejo water emergency fund. This money is for water furnished the city of Vallejo from the Suisol wells.

BABY BORN TO DAVISES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Another girl, their third, has come to the home of the secretary of labor and Mrs. James J. Davis. This brings the Davis family to four, three girls and one boy.

ITALY WILL GIVE LESSONS IN ART

ROME, Feb. 2.—With the object of demonstrating to Latin America Italy's progress in industry and the arts, the Mussolini government is sending a ship fitted out as a floating exhibition to the principal ports of South America early next year.

Since Premier Mussolini came into power he has persistently urged that Italian emigrants in other countries should be made to feel that they are still part of Italy, and the forthcoming cruise is regarded as the outcome of his endeavors.

The ship to be engaged on the cruise is the Italia, a large steamship owned by the Italian government.

She has seventeen show or exhibition rooms, each containing exhibits of some special Italian industry, such as marbles, textiles, electrical works, automobiles, books and aeroplanes.

The Italia will be absent about seven months, during which she will cover 25,000 miles and touch at thirty South American ports.

THIEF STEALS SAN JOSE SPEED COP'S MOTORBIKE

SAN JOSE, Feb. 1.—County Traffic Officer Gus Marlotti is on his feet again. He admits it and explains it as follows: The other day Gus left his motorcycle, fully equipped with siren, extra spotlights, etc., in a downtown garage when it rained and made it impracticable for him to work. Yesterday he went after his gasoline steed. It was gone. Gus is now traveling at high rates of speed on the highways by automobile, catching speeders and hoping against hope that some one who stole the motorcycle and posing as an officer, will attempt to hold him up while riding his motor, so that he can use the sawed-off shotgun he is carrying in the car.

San Jose Child Is Hurt Beneath Truck

SAN JOSE, Feb. 1.—Little Lambert Gally, small son of D. E. Gally, actor and playwright of 360 West Santa Clara street, is recovering today from a badly lacerated arm and facial cuts and bruises received when he was thrown beneath a motor truck while attempting to "get a tow" while roller skating. Rear wheels of the truck barely missed passing over him when he lost his grip on the rear of the truck and rolled beneath the heavy vehicle. A. Festa, the truck driver, rushed the boy to the San Jose hospital, where it was found that Lambert's injuries, while painful, will not prove serious. City Traffic Officer William Emig investigated.

Doctor's Prescription Amazing Success Overcomes Kidney Ailments and Backache

Thousands Die Yearly Who Ought Not to Die—Kidney Troubles Kill Them—It's Guaranteed

The small delicate sieves in the kidneys clog up—the poisons that should strain through and pass out with the water back up and get into the system—this means uremic poisoning and may mean the loss of some loved one.

Best for all of us to look the facts in the face and heed nature's plain danger signals.

The life work of Doctor Daniel G. Carey was the study of diseases of the urinary system and his famous prescription of roots and herbs known the country over as Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription 777 has helped others to get well—and stay well

If you have backache or frequent headaches, if your sleep is disturbed and you get up in the night, if your eyes are puffy and palms moist, cut out this notice, take it to your druggist and say: "This is what I want: Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription No. 777."

You can always get it in liquid or tablet form at all druggists. Both are equally effective. The price is $1.50 and, mind you, if you aren't glad in a week's time that you bought it, just get your money back—that's the way this successful medicine is sold.—Advertisement.

Says Ordinary Buttermilk Best For Freckles, Sunburn and Tan

Advises Old Time Recipe of Buttermilk Cream in a New Way—A Gentle Massage With Fingers Before Retiring Is All That Is Necessary.

Buttermilk and Cream—Simple Remedies Best—Keeps Face, Hands and Arms in Exquisite Condition—Soft, Smooth and Beautiful.

The old-time application of Buttermilk and Cream to whiten and [illegible] skin and remove harsh little [illegible]s and ugly sallowness is [illegible] mother's recipe and women throughout the country are again using it to insure a beautiful complexion and snow-white hands and arms.

Buttermilk, however, is not always obtainable, but a specialist has at last perfected a method of concentrating buttermilk and combining it with a perfect cream, which you can buy in small quantities ready to use at any first class drug store by simply asking for "Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just a common, ordinary buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream. That's all. Howard's Buttermilk Cream gently massaged with the tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth.

To get the best effect, be sure to follow the simple directions. Druggists guarantee a noticeable improvement after the first application or they will refund the money.—Advertisement.

QUARTET WILL ENTERTAIN OVER RADIO TONIGHT

The California Quartette, which has met with the unanimous approval of Loew's State theater patrons this week, will sing for the radio audience tonight from KLX.

The quartette is composed of Genevieve Davis, Vera La Mont, Ernest Morrison and Marion de Fonville.

In addition to this feature KLX will present Sue E. Hill well-known Eastbay vocalist, and Ray R. Toole, tenor-baritone, who is singing tonight by request. Toole sang for KLX several weeks ago, and so many of those who heard him requested another appearance at KLX that he has responded.

Accompanying Sue E. Hill will be Mildred Stombes-Warenskjold, pianist of recognized ability. Toole will be accompanied by Miss Helen Merchant.

Lenora Broadhead and Lloyd Kremer, artist pupils of Mrs. H. I. Krick, Eastbay teacher of piano, will also take part in the program, playing groups of three selections each in the classical.

As an added feature Pias, Hawaiians will play request numbers. This organization never fails to please the majority of the listeners-in and their appearance at KLX is always an attraction.

Artists at Radio KLX

Three of the artists who will entertain the radio audience from KLX this evening are SUE E. HILL (upper left), well-known coloratura-soprano; ERNEST MORRISON, tenor, (upper right), and member of the California Quartette, now appearing at Loew's State Theater in Oakland, and RAY R. TOOLE, tenor-baritone, who is coming back to KLX by request.

Heart Beats Heard On Radio Stethoscope

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The heart beats of a patient can be heard and studied by seventy-five persons together through the use of a radio stethoscope, the Journal of the American Medical Association announced today.

While the examination is proceeding, the lecturer, by removing the transmitter from the patient's chest and speaking into the instrument, can comment on the condition of the subject's heart, the article states. Large classes of students may be taught at the same time.

The apparatus is so delicate it distinctly reproduces the faintest murmurs. The receivers are arranged so a student can plug in his head piece at any desk.

FIRE IS STARTED TWICE IN SAME VACANT HOUSE

Incendiary Believed to Have Started Blazes on East Fourteenth Street.

A mysterious fire, which broke out twice this morning in an unoccupied house at 2432 East Fourteenth street, and caused damage amounting to about $1000, is being investigated by the police and fire prevention bureau. It is the belief of the officers that the blaze was incendiary, although as yet no traces of a "fire bug" have been found.

The first fire broke out this morning shortly after midnight. When the fire department arrived the rear portion of the structure was in flames. The blaze was extinguished and Police Sergeant A. B. Smith and Battalion Chief John Burke made a tour of all rooms to see that the fire whad been completely put out.

At about 5 o'clock this morning the department was called to the house again. Another fire had started and this time threatened to spread to adjoining houses.

Jackass, 'Lit Up,' Attacks Drys; Bares Big Still

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—An intoxicated jackass was sleeping in a pasture somewhere north of here today, according to Federal prohibition agents who say the animal attacked them while they were waiting in a field beside the State highway late yesterday for the appearance of an automobile believed to be carrying liquor. Under the vigor of the animal's hoof and mouth attack, they relate, they were forced to flee into a nearby barn where, after they had slammed the door in the face of the owner of the beast they found Chris Pender and Herman Ross tending a large still. They arrested the pair on a charge of making illicit liquor, confiscated forty gallons of freshly-made whisky and then escaped from the place with their prisoners while the jackass was busy taking on another meal of the alcoholic corn mash which, they explained, was strewn about the barnyard.

SIX MEN NAMED TO FARM BOARD

The board members are Fred H. Bixby, Long Beach; William H. Brooks, of Imperial county; Robert A. Condee, of Chino, and Sam H. Greene, of San Francisco.

J. A. Macomber, of Tulare county, and I. L. Borden of San Francisco, are the only two members reappointed by the governors.

The members who will retire are Ralph Bull of Arcata; E. F. Mitchell, of San Francisco; T. H. Dudley, of Santa Monica, and A. L. King, of Los Angeles.

When you crave nourishment!

A Duplex Fork for You

The unusual flavor of Gebhardt's Chili con Carne can be best developed when the food is heated in boiling water.

If care is exercised this can be done with little trouble and the resulting flavor is worth the effort.

Removing the can from the water and handling of other foods can be conveniently done with a Duplex Fork as shown.

You can have one of these useful kitchen tools at once. They are seldom to be found in the stores and are then sold for from 10c to 15c.

Send five labels from Gebhardt's Chili con Carne and 10c in coin or stamps and the fork will be sent postpaid. You will find the address on the package. The advertisement will be accepted as one label when accompanied by four more labels.

THERE are times when you're down-right hungry. Not with a usual everyday, matter-of-fact hunger, but a substantial desire that is almost a demand for real, flavorful, palate pleasing, hunger-satisfying food.

Then is another time when you'll relish and enjoy a meal of Gebhardt's Chili con Carne.

That sort of hunger comes unexpectedly and often goes unappeased because its satisfaction would require much time and inconvenience.

But not so with Chili con Carne. It's ready in a jiffy. Twenty minutes in boiling water gives hardly enough time to make coffee, slice bread and get ready the few accessories which every satisfying meal must have.

Tender red beef and fat, mealy Pinto beans covered with rich gravy seasoned to a piquant, spicy deliciousness with genuine Mexican peppers and spices. Government inspection and Gebhardt methods and snow-white-tiled kitchens have produced a food you can be sure of. Sure of its quality and purity—sure of its satisfaction when you "crave nourishment."

Mrs. Netherton was also granted custody of the couple's three-year-old son. Mrs. Netherton testified that her husband took the child from her home without her knowledge and went to Mexico a year ago. At that time she caused a warrant for her husband's arrest to be issued and Deputy Sheriff Ralph Harrison went to Mexico in search for him. Netherton waived extradition and returned to Martinez. Mrs. Netherton obtained the child in Mexico. The charge against Netherton was subse-

Public Utilities Men Make Survey

MARTINEZ, Feb. 1.—Investigating possibilities of the recently organized Eastbay public utilities district furnishing water for irrigation purposes to East Contra Costa county farmers and to industrial concerns along the waterfront, four officials of the district yesterday made a swing of Contra Costa county from Richmond to Brentwood, returning to Oakland by way of San Leandro. Officials making the trip were Marston Campbell, John Kimball, Arthur Davis and City Attorney W. J. Locke of Alameda.

At Crockett the officials conferred with officers of the California-Hawaiian Sugar Company and in the eastern end of the county they visited Crow canyon, which was declared a suitable reservoir site.

LITTLE RAIN IN FEBRUARY, SAYS FATHER RICARD

Santa Clara Astronomer in Monthly Forecast Sees Dry Time Ahead.

SANTA CLARA, Feb. 1.—Father Jerome S. Ricard, director of the University of Santa Clara observatory, today prophesied the following weather forecast for the coming month:

February 1—Fair, but somewhat disturbed by cirrus clouds in the afternoon, owing to the arrival of a moderate depression over the northwest.

February 2—Cloudy over the upper coast, with light rains; partly cloudy in California and possibly a sprinkle on February 2-3; an area of high pressure entering simultaneously and standing in the way of much rain.

February 3—Much cloudiness and rain in favored spots; mountains and foothills.

February 4, 5—Fair, or mostly so.

February 6—A recurrence under more favorable circumstances of the disturbance of January 9-10. Hence cloudy over the general coast with some rain.

February 7—Same storm continued.

February 8—Starting to clear.

February 9—Generally fair.

February 10—Cloudy over the northwest, with sprinkles over the western sections; partly cloudy in California, central and northern sections; fair in the south.

February 11—Generally fair.

February 12—A minor depression entering via Vancouver, causing some cloudiness from Siskiyou to the northwestward; light cloudiness in these parts; fair in the south.

February 13—Getting fair.

February 14, 15—Generally fair.

February 16—A storm of decided character landing over the high northwest and an equally strong high pressure settling south of it. That means dangerously high winds and cloudiness, but scanty rains from Oregon to British Columbia and hardly anything to apprehend or be thankful for in these parts.

February 17—Under the same storm, but with high pressure streaming in and floating cloudiness.

February 18—Mostly fair, from Oregon down, but starting to rain in British Columbia and Washington.

February 19—Cloudy and raining up north, threatening here and possibly a few sprinkles or showers.

February 20, 21—Generally fair.

February 22—A moderate disturbance entering by the northern gate, causing light rains over there, but barely noticed in our latitudes.

February 23, 24, 25—Generally fair.

February 26, 27—A well accentuated disturbance, consisting of two successives, to invade the western sections of the North Pacific States and to wend its way into lower latitudes, yielding some much needed rain in California generally.

February 28—Bad weather continued.

February 29—Clearing.

March 1—Ill omens, that is, storm and counter storms setting.

So February will be a dry month, despite the program presented above. However, the farmers will get enough to raise their crops and save the cattle.

HAYWARD

HAYWARD, Feb. 1.—Although appearance of most of the crops will be delayed anywhere from ten days to a month, vegetable growers of lower Alameda county are virtually assured of an average production, according to Andrew J. Garin, former president of the Alameda county association and a prominent agriculturist of the Hayward district.

The past rains, though comparatively light, worked wonders with the vegetable crops, says Garin. Further rains, while beneficial, are not wholly essential to the progress of the vegetables; a period of mild warm weather will bring the plants rushing to the surface.

The orchardists, however, are in need of considerably more rain, states Garin. The pasturage of the county is in good condition because of the rain and gives promise of supplying sufficient fodder for the cattle and sheep already moved into the highlands.

Horsebeans and peas, produced in large quantities through this section, will be about thirty days late in appearance, according to Garin, although their quality will be but slightly effected by the protracted dry spell. Rhubarb will be delayed about ten days.

Merchandise Fraud Is Laid to Suspect

HAYWARD, Feb. 1.—A. H. Colby, alias A. C. Morton, 35, a plasterer, was arrested at San Jose yesterday by Joseph Brandon, deputy constable of Eden township, and the San Jose police, on a charge of obtaining goods from a Hayward merchant under false pretenses. He was lodged in the San Jose jail and later in the day removed to the Alameda county jail. He will appear at the Hayward court Monday morning for a hearing.

According to the charge, Colby obtained $35 worth of wire from E. A. Smith, Hayward merchant, the first part of the week, stating that it should be charged to the Home of the Aged at Niles. Smith took the number of the man's machine at the time. When it was discovered later that the local merchant had been defrauded, the machine number was traced and Colby arrested.

In addition to admitting that he was guilty of the charge, Colby confessed that he was wanted at Santa Rosa for a similar offense, and that he had served time in the Nebraska state prison, according to Brandon.

Tacoma Episcopal Bishop Is Dead

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 1.—Right Rev. Frederic William Keator, of Tacoma, Wash., bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Olympia, Wash., died at a hospital here at 9:15 o'clock last night from heart disease.

Survey Planned to Cut Insurance Rate

HAYWARD, Feb. 1.—A complete resurvey of Hayward, resultant of which, it is believed, a considerable reduction in the present fire insurance rates will be made, is to be held here some time the first part of this month by engineers of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, with headquarters at San Francisco.

Through the combined efforts of the local fire department officials and the city council, arrangements have been made for the special survey, following purchase of a large and thoroughly modern fire pumping engine, installation of an additional and enlarged water main furnishing an abundance of water in case of fire and the adoption of an ordinance that extends the fire limits. With the new additions and improvements, it was pointed out to the underwriters, the fire menace in Hayward has been about cut in half.

The survey, it is estimated, will comprise from four to seven days, and will include inspection of various ordinances and fire and water apparatus and equipment.

Veterans of Lodge To Receive Jewels

HAYWARD, Feb. 1.—Arrangements are being perfected by members of the Hayward Sycamore Lodge No. 129, Odd Fellows, for a combined initiation of a class of candidates and presentation of veteran jewels, to be held the night of Feb. 11 at Odd Fellows hall here. The first degree initiatory ceremony will be given the candidates.

Veteran jewels will be presented Joseph Habernig and John Mikelson, both members of the Hayward lodge for the past fifty years. Chris Sanderson, C. E. Nicholsen and Andrew Block will receive awards for their 45 year membership.

Invitation has been extended several of the grand officers to attend the affair. Following transaction of the lodge business, a banquet will be held, the committee in charge consisting of Roy Underhill, C. E. Nielsen, Joseph Thiel, Jack Fledderman and George Christensen.

AUTOIST'S PLEA PROVES VAIN

HAYWARD, Feb. 1.—A check for $25, fine assessed George Stoneroad, of Newark, on a reckless driving charge, was received yesterday by the Hayward Justice's court. Although the defendant pleaded not guilty to the charge originally, he was pronounced otherwise by Judge Jacob Harder, Jr., following a week's investigation of the incident.

The charge was preferred by Lewie Eike, Alameda county traffic officer, who asserted that he had been forced from the road and nearly thrown into a ditch bordering the highway by Stoneroad's machine. Stoneroad strenuously protested Eike's testimony, stating that the officer's motorcycle did not have lights and as it was early evening, he couldn't see the approaching vehicle. Investigation disproved the latter assertion.

Funeral Held for Modesto Woman

MODESTO, Feb. 1.—Funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Charlotte Crist, 74, widow of the late Herman Crist. She died Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Crist, widely known here for 38 years, died of apoplexy in a local hospital. Her husband, a business man here for years, died eight years ago. Surviving Mrs. Crist are the following children: Ernest T., Mrs. J. H. Severin, Mrs. Phillip Mueller and Mrs. Andrew Stiefvater, all of Modesto, a sister, Mrs. Anna Sorensen, secretary of the Turlock irrigation district, and a brother, August Simon of Modesto.

PART-TIME AGENT BAN IS ASKED

HAYWARD, Feb. 1.—Decision to appeal to the State Insurance Commission with headquarters at San Francisco, to allow only the appointment of legitimate insurance agents and deprive many of the present "part time" agents of their licenses, was reached at a meeting of the Alameda County Insurance Board held at Hayward.

Under present conditions, it will be pointed out in the appeal to the commission, there are numerous agents in the county who sell insurance as a side line to their regular business, while it is even possible for a man to insure his own property and receive the commission that should rightfully go to some legitimate agent. Should the appeal to the commission produce results, it is pointed out, the number of agents in Hayward alone would be reduced from about seventy to thirty or less.

The county board consists of agents from only the southern end of Alameda county. F. V. Jones, of Niles, is president and Samuel Smith, of Hayward, is vice-president. The next meeting will take place at Niles the latter part of February.

K. C. PLAN SHOW.

VALLEJO, Feb. 1.—James Glynn and his "Million Dollar Follies" will feature one of the big acts for the Knights of Columbus minstrel show at Vallejo on February 28-29. Other numbers will be furnished by Lodena Edgcumbe and some of her pupils. Mrs. Du-Four, Mrs. Laurencelle and J. W. Gebhardt are to sing.

Bryan's Choice

DR. A. A. MURPHREE, president of the University of Idaho, who is William Jennings Bryan's choice for Presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket.

VETERANS TO INSTALL.

VALLEJO, Feb. 1.—Carl H. Kreh, member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has completed all arrangements for the big installation and banquet to be held on Saturday night at the Labor Temple. It is expected that at least 200 will be present.

LEGION CHAPTER INSTALLS CHIEFS

HAYWARD, Feb. 1. — Newly elected officers of the Hayward Ladies' Auxiliary of the local American Legion Post, will be installed at the regular meeting tonight, to take place at the home of Mrs. Andrew Sorensen, corner C and First streets. The meetings are usually held at the Bank of Hayward hall.

Mrs. Laura Frank is the retiring president. The new officers are: Mrs. Ethel Flynn, president; Mrs. L. Teason, first vice-president; Mrs. C. Woods, second vice-president; Mrs. Jack Twaddle, secretary; Miss Minnie Teason, treasurer; Miss Irma Hauber, sergeant-at-arms.

Little Shop Made Fortune for Man

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 1.—Dust is "fast" collecting in the narrow window of a little store down on Biddle street.

Residents of the ghetto district passing by stare at the rudely-penciled sign on the door: "Closed on account of death."

Jefferson Wall, the storekeeper, is dead. Behind him he left the dusty little shop and a fortune of $600,000.

At the age of 12 Wall started business here with a peddler's pack. That was 55 years ago. He bought a small shop, made money and invested it in tenements, apartment houses and other real estate.

They say of Wall down at Thirteenth and Biddle streets that he never raised his rents a dollar and that he sold goods at cost from his shop during the last 15 years. He never gave to charity, holding it made people lazy, until his later years. He worked from 8 to 6 every day, and transacted all his dealings from his dusty little shop. Few knew of his large fortune.

Detailed Plan Ordered For Athens Clubhouse

The board of directors of the Athens Athletic club today instructed the building and finance committee to immediately proceed with the preparation of the detailed plans and drawings in order to determine the actual cost of the proposed club building, following assurances from the committee that the structure will be financed in the amount which the committee deemed necessary. With plans having matured to this extent, the directors also authorized the selection of an experienced club manager.

Over the signature of the secretary, the following letter will be sent to the membership of the club tomorrow:

"On behalf of the board of directors of the Athens Athletic club, I am pleased to announce that after negotiations extending over a period of many weeks the building and finance committee of which Sherwood B. Swan is chairman, has obtained definite assurance that the club building will be financed in the amount which the committee deemed necessary. With this assurance your board has authorized the selection of an experienced club manager, and instructed the building and finance committee, in conjunction with the architect who has already submitted preliminary plans and the superintendent of construction, to immediately proceed with the preparation of the detailed plans and drawings that accurate and final estimates may be obtained as to actual cost."

San Josean Held For Shooting Wife

SAN JOSE Feb. 1.—Louis Rogers aged 30 years a cook, was arrested at the home of his cousin Nicholas Aidams, 961 McClelland street here last night in connection with the shooting of his former wife in San Francisco yesterday. Rogers is alleged to have admitted his guilt in regard to the shooting, saying that it resulted from domestic difficulties. Following the shooting police here were asked by San Francisco authorities to watch Aidams' residence. Rogers appeared last night and was taken into custody by Police Detective Theodore Swanson being booked en route to San Francisco.

SHORT CALLS COURTHOUSE FIRE MENACE

Disaster Foreseen if Blaze Is Started With Crowds in the Courtrooms; Repairs Are Urged in Survey Report

The present court house by reason of its wrong construction obsolete wiring and lack of proper fire protection, is "liable to a 100 per cent fire starting in the basement and with the courtrooms crowded, a disaster might result in view of the stairway construction" according to a report by Fire Chief Samuel H. Short to the Board of Supervisors.

The report follows:

"Basement—Record room rubbish deposited in paper containers. Ceiling protected in part by tongue and groove only. Openings in walls all unprotected. One opening has been cut too wide leaving a weakened condition. Rubbish and inflammable material stored at many points.

"Wiring—Cleat and bushing type (old style) and unsatisfactory. Drop cords overhanging metal.

"Sweeping compound in sacks on floor. Incubators for fire very prominent.

First floor — Closets under stairways. Unapproved rubbish containers.

"Stairways lead to one point and fire would cut same off. Open well type.

Extinguishers are not charged properly.

"The rubbish chute is not lined, being nothing more than a wooden flue which would carry fire from basement to upper floors and mushroom throughout.

"Second floor — Court rooms stairway to roof very dirty and blocked with rubbish, brooms, etc.

COMMENT.

"The building being very old, is liable to a one hundred per cent fire starting in the basement and with court rooms crowded, a disaster might result in view of the stairway construction. While there are no exterior exposures, there are too many interior ones that should be protected.

"The basement should be ceiled with metal lath and plaster throughout and all openings in brick walls of same should be closed properly with metal clad fire doors. All storage of inflammable material should be discontinued at once.

The building should be entirely re-wired in an approved manner.

"Your attention is respectfully directed to the hazard existing here which may result in loss of life if not remedied, and I therefore respectfully suggest that same be brought to the attention of the proper authorities."

San Joseans Told Annexation Benefit

SAN JOSE, Feb. 1.—Proposed annexation of the Hester and College Park residence districts suburbs west of San Jose to be voted on at a special election to be held February 12, was the subject of discussion at the weekly meeting of the San Jose Rotary club. W. T. Rambo president of the Greater San Jose club, which is carrying on the campaign for annexation, and George Campbell, cashier of the Security State Bank of this city, were the principal speakers. Rambo answered the arguments which have been raised against annexation. Campbell pointed out that the community as a whole will benefit greatly if the two districts are annexed to the city.

Approximately 10,000 people reside in the two districts affected by the annexation project.

Opponents of the proposed annexation have called a meeting at the Hester School for Friday evening, February 5, at which time an anti annexation club will be formed and speakers will talk against annexation. Speakers will be persons fully informed on the annexation proposition, according to J. D. Wills, V. A. Benson and J. W. Noyd.

Woman Leader Of Democracy Luncheon Guest

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Mrs. Charles L. Donohoe of Oakland, Democratic national committeewoman from California, who has just returned from an executive meeting of the party's leaders in Washington, D. C., is inspiring a brilliant luncheon at Hotel Bellevue, San Francisco, tomorrow. The Woman's State Democratic club has taken this means of honoring Mrs. Donohoe and of claiming for themselves the privilege of hearing, at first hand, the story of the deliberations of the national Democratic committee. The organization is extending its hospitality to men and women who will be interested in joining it on this occasion.

Mrs. Donohoe and James D. Phelan will be the principal speakers on the after-luncheon program. Leaders from various parts of California, who have been summoned to San Francisco for the meeting will present brief greetings.

Mrs. M. A. McCarthy, president of the hostess organization, will preside as chairman of the day. The guests will be made welcome by a reception committee of which Mrs. Gaillard Stoney is chairman. Mrs. W. J. Hotchkiss is chairman of the committee on general arrangements.

A study section in the psychology of adolescence will be organized shortly in Oakland under the general auspices of the Fremont High School Parent-Teacher association, with the probable cooperation of the Oakland High School Parent-Teacher association. Dr. William Palmer Lucas, widely known through his work with children, will give the lectures and guide the course, which will be of particular value to mothers of students of high school age.

The project follows a movement which has been launched already in Alameda and San Francisco by the local high school parent-teacher associations. Dr. J. V. Breitweiser, department of education, University of California, an authority on the study of psychology, is presenting the course before the Alameda mothers. Dr. Lillian Martin of San Francisco is offering a similar study across the bay. A complete announcement of the course, which is being discussed by Fremont and Oakland High school mothers, will be made within a fortnight.

Mrs. Alma Crowley and Mme. Caro Roma, two Oakland composers, presented the program today before the Pioneer Women of Oakland, meeting in Wigwam hall, Pacific building. Mrs. Crowley has some interesting compositions to her credit, a group of which were sung by her old friend, Mme. Roma. Among them were "Swing on the Old Apple Tree," and "My California Rose." Martin Hobbs, cello, rendered two numbers by Mrs. Crowley, with the composer herself assisting at the piano.

Thompson, Los Angeles, chairman, with the co-operation of the Hotel Men's association, for the accommodation of the several thousand visitors who will be drawn to the state by the convention. Reservations are being offered in fifty downtown hostelries, 11 surburban hotels and 71 apartment houses.

The program of science for the Piedmont High school, demonstrated by students, will be presented before the regular meeting of the local parent teacher association Thursday afternoon, February 14, in the school music room. Miss Hattie Haub, dean of girls and head of the chemistry department, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Charles Colvin, chairman of program, has adopted a plan of presenting a faculty member from each department during the semester to outline the work and illustrate it by students in the classes. The February meeting has been dedicated to science.

"Mayhonner"

That's an old French verb meaning "to stir, to worry, to fatigue".

From this word comes our Mayonnaise, and every home-maker who has stirred and worried and become fatigued in trying to make Mayonnaise at home can appreciate the fact that "there's something in the name". And these home-makers can doubly appreciate and all that its name has come to stand for—new-laid eggs, the finest of oils, the most piquant of seasonings—a real home made Mayonnaise without the trouble of being made in your home.

GOLD MEDAL is made fresh daily and is always fresh at your grocer's—Write for free booklet of Recipes.

Seventy-Ninth Annual Statement

TO THE POLICY-HOLDERS:

As a policy-holder you are chiefly interested in the quality of your Company and in the service it renders. By "quality" I mean the character of its business; the grade of its securities and standards maintained by its Executive Officers.

I can not paint a complete picture, but in order to drive home some of the truth I give just below a picture of the work of one Committee during the year 1923.

During 1923 the Finance Committee made the following investments:

BONDS PURCHASED

Bonds Bought	Cost	Average Yield
U. S. Government Treasury Notes	$11,013,860.00	4.65%
Domestic Railroad Bonds	13,569,960.00	5.44%
Domestic Municipal Bonds	4,050,912.00	5.02%
Domestic Public Utility Bonds	9,216,596.00	5.49%
Canadian Municipal Bonds	494,700.00	5.24%
British and Other Foreign Bonds	5,470,312.00	5.14%
Total	$43,816,340.00	5.17%

BOND AND MORTGAGE LOANS MADE

City Loans	$59,262,432.00	5.81%
Residential Loans	10,002,094.00	5.80%
Farm Loans	18,097,561.00	5.38%
Total	$87,362,087.00	5.72%
Bonds bought and B. & M. Loans made	$131,178,427.00	5.54%
B. & M. Loans renewed	$12,991,730.00	5.50%
Total	$144,170,157.00	5.53%

This total—$144,000,000.00—was much more than our net income. The Committee believed it saw an opportunity to benefit you through selling and reinvesting, without risk, in order to increase the earning power of invested assets. They therefore sold Bonds amounting to (par value) $44,845,459.25 during the year, of which $33,182,900.00 were United States Government Bonds. By this process, and by transferring certain foreign bonds, in reinsuring foreign business, they increased the earning power of Ledger Assets by over $1,000,000.00 annually for an average of nine years.

We sold Government Bonds—

1st. Because our holdings were proportionately too large in Peace days ($120,000,000 par);
2d. Because we could sell at a profit;
3d. Because thereby earning power could be increased and the cost of your insurance reduced.

A COMPARISON OF INVESTED ASSETS

$992,310,807.52	4.96%	Total Ledger Assets	$1,009,837,958.97	5.06%

In addition to the Finance Committee we have five other standing committees and several sub-committees. They all work. The standing committees make detailed reports to the Board of Directors monthly. The members of the Board are in close touch with matters of fact as well as matters of policy.

The new business in 1923 was $693,000,000.00
The gain in outstanding insurance was over $300,000,000.00
The total insurance outstanding is $4,300,000,000.00
The admitted assets, at market values, aggregate $1,003,773,000.00

FABIOLA'S WORK IS REVIEWED AT YEARLY MEETING

Free Care Given 151 Persons at Hospital; Improvements Are Made.

Members and directors of Fabiola Hospital Association met this afternoon in the directors' room of the institution. Mrs. Katherine Dunn, president of the hospital, presided. Reports were read and officers for the year were elected.

Despite the many demands upon the hospital and the many free patients admitted, the directors announced they had completed the work of building the new maternity wing of the hospital, which is one of the best equipped buildings of its kind in the west. During the past year there were 151 cases given free care at a cost of $6707.58 while 212 cases were discounted at a sum of $5466.09, the total value of the free work amounting to $12,173.67.

REVIEWS WORK DONE.

Mrs. Dunn's annual report, which was addressed to the members and directors of the Fabiola hospital association follows in part:

"Much has been done both in caring for the sick and in making additions and improvements to the hospital—and with it all we have done the usual amount of free work, so it is with just pride I submit the following figures:

151 cases given free care—
—value $6,707.58
212 cases given discount
value 5,466.09

363 cases. Total value..$12,173.67

"Last February, after much thought and serious consideration, we undertook to assume a great financial burden in the sum of $160,000 for the construction of a new maternity unit, the first of a group of modern hospital buildings; that building, to accommodate fifty mothers and babies, is now an accomplished fact, and was opened to the public December 15. The long list of advanced bookings for care in that department gives proof of its very great need in the community.

"Courage and faith seemed to be the paramount qualities for such an undertaking. Of faith, we had plenty, but it took some years to develop sufficient courage to make the final decision. The generous support of our bankers and the constant urging and encouragement of our staff doctors helped us to make that decision, and now we hope our faithful and public-spirited friends will bring us the material assistance necessary.

"The Dottie Cooke has been transferred to the former maternity building, it having been thoroughly renovated and equipped to accommodate children of all ages. We are ever grateful to Mrs. H. E. Cooke for her generous contribution to this branch of our work, which is so necessary and always so interesting and appealing.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE.

"Among the numerous improvements during the year has been the installation of a complete and modern X-ray department, second to none on the Pacific Coast. It includes a deep therapy machine and is under the able direction of Dr. Charles E. Peters. Already it has proven a most successful addition to our equipment.

"The training school continues to be a very important feature of our work. The young women who come to us from all parts of California soon develop into splendid women and make not only good nurses, but also better wives and mothers as a result of their twenty-eight months training.

"The addition to the nurses' home, completed in February, has proven most comfortable for the nurses; the auditorium has been much used not only by the nurses, but also by our staff physicians, who have held a number of their meetings there.

"Tennis courts have been provided for the nurses' recreation and we feel that their home and environment is quite complete now.

"The day of the opening of the maternity unit, the staff doctors of Fabiola, as a demonstration of their loyalty and devotion to the hospital, entertained 150 doctors of the bay cities as their guests at a luncheon served in the nurses' auditorium. A feature of the luncheon was a short history of Fabiola Hospital—very ably presented by Dr. Daniel Crosby. We shall always cherish our copy of Dr. Crosby's paper as a faithful and just appreciation of the efforts of our association from its inception in 1877 to the present day."

ESTATE PROBATED.

An estate estimated between $25,000 and $50,000 will be equally divided between two daughters by the will of Mrs. Ella V. Merchante, pioneer resident of Oakland, who died January 23. The daughters, who are jointly appointed executrix are Inez L. and Leona M. Merchante. The estate includes an interest which Mrs. Merchante had in the estate of her father, George H. Fogg.

ADVICE ON INCOME TAX PROBLEMS

Heavy penalties are provided by the revenue act for failure or "willful refusal" to make a required income tax return and pay the tax on time—on or before March 15, if the return is filed on a calendar year basis. If the taxpayer makes his return on the fiscal year basis it should be filed on or before the 15th day of the third month following the close of the fiscal year.

For failure to file a return on time a taxpayer becomes liable to a penalty of $1000 and a further penalty of 25 per cent of the amount of the tax, unless the return is later filed and it is satisfactorily shown to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that the delinquency was due to a reasonable cause, and not to willful neglect. For willful refusal to make a return and pay the tax on time a taxpayer becomes liable to a penalty of $10,000, or one year's imprisonment, or both, together with the cost of prosecution, and a penalty of 25 per cent of the amount of the tax.

When a return is made in good faith and an understatement of the amount of the tax thereon is due to no fault of the taxpayer, no penalty attaches, but interest attaches to the amount of the deficiency at the rate of 6 per cent a year. If the under-statement is due to negligence—"absence of reasonable care under the circumstances"—there is to be added 5 per cent of the total amount of the deficiency, together with interest on the amount of the deficiency at the rate of 12 per cent a year from the time the tax was due, or if paid on the installment basis, on the deficiency of the installment from the time the installment was due. If the understatement is fraudulent with intent to evade the tax, the penalty is a fine of not more than $10,000, and imprisonment for not more than one year, together with the cost of prosecution, and an added assessment of 50 per cent of the amount of the deficiency.

Youth Gets Three Years as Arsonist

MODESTO, Feb. 1.—John Silveiria, 19-year-old Hughson boy, has been given a three-year term in San Quentin, according to word received from the state prison board. Silveria was convicted of setting fire to six large ranch barns in this county. He was sent to prison on conviction of second degree larceny in January, 1923. The damage done by him was estimated at $30,000.

John J. Murray sentenced from here for improper acts, was given a ten-year sentence by the state board. Ivan Hinkley, sent up for forgery, must serve five years.

SON IS CHIEF BENEFICIARY.

The bulk of an estate left by Mrs. Elizabeth Walton, who died in Berkeley, December 18, goes to a son, George H. Walton, 1540 Oxford street, Berkeley, filing of the will for probate discloses. He receives the residue of an estate valued at $10,000 after bequests of a lot in Pasadena each to two granddaughters, Mrs. Minnie Brown and Mrs. Clara Van de Mark, both of Berkeley.

PROBATION GRANTED.

MERCED, Feb. 1.—Fred Kelly, who some two weeks ago pleaded guilty to a charge of driving away Edward C. Chinn's automobile from Burke's garage here last summer, and asked for probation, has been admitted to probation for the term of two years Frank C. Hale was Kelly's attorney.

MERCED, Feb. 1.—The funeral of A. E. Burnside, pioneer resident of this section, who died at his home north of town, was held in the I. O. O. F. hall here under the auspices of the local Odd Fellows lodge. Interment was in the Odd Fellows cemetery

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 1.—Governor Pierce was the first person to pay taxes under the recently enacted state income tax, similar to the federal tax except that it exacts one per cent instead of four per cent on small incomes. He paid $77.50 on his $7500 salary as governor.

WELCOME PUTS WIFE OUT COLD; HUSBAND JAILED

Wallop on Jaw Signalizes Home-Coming Reception for Mrs. Alto.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. — "Welcome" was on the doormat for Mrs. Jennie Alto when she got back from her visit. So was Mrs. Alto before her home-coming party was over.

Mrs. Alto's husband, Andrew, is a two-fisted man. Mrs. Alto is well acquainted with both fists.

It was regrettable, indeed, that a social affair of such charm as the reception arranged by Mr. Alto on the occasion of his mate's return from a visit out of town should have been marred in any way. Likewise, thought Magistrate Silberman in West Side Court, that Mrs. Alto's eyes should have been marred.

The party took place at the Alto home, No. 67 West 100th street. A gentleman and his wife comprised the guests. Little Miss Jennie Alto, twelve, was allowed to attend, it being her first formal party.

Patrolman Willy Donovan of the West 100th street station had not been invited. In fact, he had not even heard Mr. Alto was giving Mrs. Alto a party until sometime Sunday night, when little Jennie Alto came skipping along the street to him, her braids flying at right angles to the rest of her coiffure.

"Come quick," shrieked Miss Alto. "Poppa is walloping momma again."

It was the old domestic triangle—father, mother, and a cop.

"Again" queried Mr. Donovan, for he recalled that Mr. Alto had five previous convictions of beating his wife or attempting to beat patrolmen.

Under these circumstances, the sympathy of the entire force, represented ably by Mr. Donovan, was with Mrs. Alto, and he accepted the belated invitation.

CADOGAN FUNERAL SET TOMORROW

The funeral of Patrick J. Cadogan will take place from St. Francis de Sales church at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow morning, when a requiem high mass will be celebrated for the repose of his soul. Intimate friends of the popular clubman and stockbroker will act as pallbearers. They are Victor H. Metcalf, Norman de Vaux, Jack Millar, Ira Luther, H. H. Michaels, W. B. Bancroft.

Cadogan died yesterday, following an illness of two weeks. Surviving him are a widow, Mrs. Alice Cadogan, two sons engaged in mining in Mexico, and two daughters. They are: Anthony G. Cadogan, one of the fastest sprinters ever developed in the University of California; Lucas Cadogan, Mrs. Ernest T. Langdale and Miss Carmelita Cadogan.

Cadogan as a boy was widely known throughout the British Isles as a runner. He was born in Waterford, Ireland, in 1851. Coming to San Francisco a half century ago, he was elected to the Wanderers, the famous rugby team.

During the gold rush in Nevada, "Pat" Cadogan was one of the large operators in the Tonopah field. His securities at one time amounted to a considerable fortune. For the past nine years he has been associated with E. F. Hutton & Company as Oakland representative.

Cadogan was prominent in the Athenian Nile Club.

Midnight Fire at Tracy Does Damage

TRACY, Feb. 1.—Fire, believed to have been caused by defective electric wiring, practically destroyed Easley Confectionery and the T. & R. Grill here last night. The damage is estimated at $10,000.

The fire was discovered about 1:30 a. m. by a nightwatchman. The flames were then burning fiercely in the basement of the confectionery. Because of the location the fire was difficult to fight, it being almost necessary to flood the basement of the stores in the block to extinguish it. Other firms in the block suffered damages from smoke and water.

BRITAIN FAVORS 3-ENGINED PLANE

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The three-engined aircraft machine has been adopted by the British Air Ministry as the standard bombing machine in time of war, and already orders have been placed with aircraft manufacturers for designs and machines.

Essentials to be embodied in the designs include ability to fly with little loss of power on two engines. Designs for a central engine of 450 horsepower and two engines of 240 horsepower—one on each side—will be favored, it is understood.

TOKYO, Feb. 1.—Tokyo has been reunited.

At last the "new Tokyo" that the politicians promised the people, and the present prospect is unfavorable to a realization, ever, of that promise.

For the politicians are simply talking and squabbling, leaving the government impotent—with plenty of plans for reconstruction, but nothing agreed upon; and with no money for the job.

Meanwhile the people have just simply gone ahead and built their "new Tokyo" themselves. It is here. It's a city of cars, wooden shacks with tin roofs, to be sure. It sprawls in mud, and is a menace to anything remotely approaching adequate transportation facilities.

But it has been done within a few months by individual effort—while the politicians have talked, and are still talking about what the government is going to do.

The probabilities are that the "new Tokyo" that exists today, the city of tin-roofed shacks surrounding the few undestroyed big office buildings, will be the only "new Tokyo" for a long time to come, for the simple reason that the political squabbles over plans, details and budgets for reconstruction do not bid fair to conclude indefinitely. And almost every day the tentative estimates of the government's expenditures for reconstruction are trimmed more and more.

The entire reconstruction situation has become the most bitter question in Japanese politics. The people of Tokyo and Yokohama grumble fierce contempt that the government has done nothing. The taxpayers of the provinces, already overburdened, say Tokyo and Yokohama want too much.

The cabinet points out that the D... has passed no appropriations for reconstruction, that the Diet continues to abolish the entire ... to reconstruction board and to ... still more sharply slash already reduced proposed reconstruction budget. The Diet retorts that the cabinet and reconstruction board talk too much and do too little; that they want ... money than is necessary.

... the original aim of the political party, which controls the House of Representatives, seems determined to whittle the reconstruction ruthlessly, and to regulate it as reconstruction board. The Seiyukai does this, primarily, in order to appeal to rural votes and voters in other cities who think Tokyo and Yokohama want too much.

STATE DECREES DISHWASHING IS HAZARDOUS JOB

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Dishwashing may take its place with hazardous occupations. The state industrial accident commission recognized this today when the red and chapped condition of the hands that follows dishwashing as "occupational dermatitis" and allowed Frank Svoboda, Oakland cafeteria dishwasher, $14.62 a week for his "compensatory accident" when his hands became too sore to follow his given occupation for a month and a half.

Paper Dealers Are Accused of Combine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Pacific States Paper Trade Association and wholesale paper dealers affiliated with it through local associations, were ordered by the Federal Trade Commission today to "cease and desist" from the alleged practice of regulating prices through stifling competition.

Wholesale dealers to which the order is directed include Union Paper Company of Oakland; Richardson Paper Company, Sacramento, and the following San Francisco firms: Paper Trade Conference; Blake Moffitt & Towne; Bonestell & Co.; Pacific Coast Paper Company and Zellerbach Paper Company.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due to excesses out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is extremely dangerous, and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion, or they can eat as they please in reason and then make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid that will prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestents.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets if never-ones as a liquid, milk or cream of magnesia is inconvenient. Try this plan and see what you will eat your next meal and whether you can't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Advertisement.

BRAZIL CRAVES STEEL; HAS IRON ORE MOUNTAINS

American Financier Angles for Concessions as Natives Argue Over Wealth.

By C. M. KINSOLVING.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 1.—That Brazil should manufacture her own steel has been the contention of persons interested in the country's development, but when the Siderurgical Commission appointed by the Brazilian government to study the feasibility of making Brazil a steel producing country, recommended that the iron and steel industry in this country should be entirely in the hands of Brazilian citizen-owners, exporters, contractors, unanimously affirmed that the "steel age," as far as Brazil was concerned, was far off.

As far back as 1868, Sir Richard Burton, in his book, "The Highlands of Brazil," called attention to the vast ore deposits in the country. Quite recently Professor Oliver C. Farrington of the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago, in a report to his Institution after a trip through Minas Geras, called attention to the great mountains or iron abounding in that region. This region is probably the richest in the world in iron ore, but it's inaccessibility has caused its resources to remain undeveloped.

Most of the Brazilian papers think that members of the commission laundered through a mass of theory and failed to take the practical side of the question into account.

It is generally thought that the recommendations to the effect that the industry be kept strictly in the hands of Brazilian owners is due solely to the fear of Percival Farquhar, an American capitalist now in Rio, trying to obtain a concession for the exploitation of the deposits in Minas Geraes in which the land containing mineral wealth in the state of Minas Geraes is in the hands of British capitalists, who have not yet been fit to develop the industry.

ACTION LOOMS ON CHARGES AGAINST HOSPITAL IN S. F.

Experiments on Dying and Neglect of Patients Are Alleged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 1 Possibility of definite action is under general consideration today following —sensational accusations against the San Francisco hospital, made at a meeting of the health commimttee of the board of supervisors. It was charged that patients at the hospital in question are experimented on while in a dying condition, that dying patients are neglected, and that the injured and sick are in some cases left unattended.

The meeting was called to investigate charges that Mrs. Kate L Molony had been refused admittance to the hospital by authorities of the institution, and that she was shipped in a freight car to Chico, to a charitable institution The assertion, made by Supervisor James E. McSheehy, that $8000 should be spent immediately on sick wards at the hospital also came up for investigation.

Charges of inhumane treatment of patients were made by Thomas C. McCaulay, 1549 Page street Mrs Annie Wilson, 240 Trumbull street and Miss Amy Toppiano of 24 Tingley street.

The charges will be further investigated next Thursday.

OMAHA, Neb Feb 1 — The thirty delegates from twenty-five states to the convention of the People's Progressive party were on their way to their homes today following the closing of their meeting at which they nominated Robert R. Pointer, of Dearborn, Mich. as a caandidate for president and Roy M. Harrop of Omaha as a vice-presidential caandidate.

Alimony Strike Succeeds After 13-Month Term

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

ANACONDA, Mont., Feb. 1.—George Deslauries has been released on order of Judge Carroll of Butte after thirteen months in jail for refusing to pay alimony. Deslauries was committed for contempt of court in December, 1922. He was a rancher on Lost creek and said he would not work for wages to pay alimony to any woman. The court thereupon committed him to jail until he changed his mind. But Deslauries said he would remain a prisoner the rest of his life rather than do that.

At first he was given many privileges but as the months passed he was rigorously restricted in the hope that he would ask his liberty. It was a vain hope. After he had been given his freedom Deslauries expressed regret at having to leave the jail where he said he had lived better and enjoyed himself more than he ever had in his life.

In California the projects are in the California, Shasta, Klamath, Plumas, El Dorado, Stanislaus and Angeles national forests. The work there is in charge of D. Dunning, S P. Shaw and E. N. Munns.

The scope of this investigating work will be materially increased if congress takes favorable action on pending legislation to authorize establishment of a forest experiment station at Berkeley, in cooperation with the University of California.

MAN HORSEWHIPS WIFE TO CONFESS

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

CANTON, N. Y., Feb. 1.—A key-hole vision of his spouse curled on the lap of another man, missing lingerie found in the visitor's car, and cigar ashes in his bed, when he smokes only a pipe, resulted in a horsewhipping for Mrs. Caroline Gessler by her husband, Brant A. Gessler, who seeks a divorce.

The "other man" in the case, unnamed, and admittedly unknown, is believed to be an Owego doctor by Gessler, who says that all attempts to identify him upon his visits at the Gessler farmhouse here have proven futile.

Gessler said his wife denied she was sitting in any man's lap, and ascribes her guest's hurried departure as due to a belief that the husband had suddenly gone insane.

The farmer admits he wielded a horsewhip with satisfactory results so far as his desire to get at the facts was concerned.

"My wife admitted she had fallen in love with another man, but she steadfastly refused to reveal his name. She confessed a long series of misdoings, and agreed to let me get free. I have sent her back to her home town."

NEWS and GOSSIP
FROM STAFF WRITERS AT HOME AND ABROAD

By FRANK SAVAGE,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—With radio movies looming on the horizon, a transatlantic dirigible line either from London or Madrid to New York an immediate possibility, and with both this country and Britain laying plans for aerial circum navigation of the globe, a full program for 1924 seems to be in the making for those of a scientific turn of mind.

Innumerable other advances, of course, are being made both in America and abroad. Some of less spectacular nature are none the less important. Among these are progress in medicine and improvement of methods in various other well established branches.

The successful isolation of living tissue for a period of twelve years, recently announced by officials of the Rockefeller Institute, for example, may be listed not as a sensational development, nor discovery, but as a reward for the illimitable patient experimentation and observation involved, whole new vistas of medical lore and data for the study and prevention of disease may come to view.

On January 17 this living fragment of chicken flesh completed its twelfth year of "life in vitro," which means that reposing in a special dish its cells have received and assimilated food and discharged the surplus precisely as though they were part of a living, crowing, scratching rooster—over a period of a dozen years.

A normal question would be: "What is the value of such an experiment—what good does it do?"

Science answers that, for one thing, it proves immortality! Not spiritual immortality, but physical immortality—for life could be maintained in vitro indefnitely, they assert.

For another thing it permits precise and accurate study of cancer. Cancer is a fatal foe to humanity because it is an uncontrollable growth. With a cancer living in vitro science can record, without guessing, the effect of radium, of X-rays and of other treatment.

The experiment doesn't however, hold out any possibility of extending human life indefinitely. Death as great scientists have said, is the price we pay for our complex bodies; chiefly because elimination is not so successful as assimilation.

"Metal Mike" has just successfully guided a big British ship across the Atlantic. His brain is composed of a whirling metal disk, assisted in its functionings by numerous gears, eccentrics and various other mechanical contrivances. His nerves are fine strung wires. But he was able to keep the Cunarder Laconia within one-sixth of a degree on her course—much closer than any human hand can steer her. "Metal Mike" is otherwise known as the Sperry gyro pilot. He is able to operate mainly because of forces set up by rotation of the earth.

Captain E. T. Britten, the master, while appreciative of Mike's capabilities and reliability, nevertheless requires that a quartermaster "stand by" at all times, in case Mike gets metallic apoplexy.

When engineers decided recently that a "dead spot" existed over Manhattan WEAF, local broadcasting station, tried super-tubes. They penetrated the resisting area with ease. Prior to this a test proved the tubes able to transmit radio waves to a receiving set located in the vehicular tunnel under the Hudson river—right through steel walls, water, earth and other impedimenta.

Dr. Francis C. Wood of Columbia university, has announced the discovery of a new type of X-ray tube for the treatment of cancer. While curative powers are not enhanced, speed of the operation is reduced from hours to minutes, it is claimed.

Man Ray, Rumanian photographer extraordinary, is due in New York the latter part of this month to demonstrate a method of making pictures without use of camera or lense. A time exposure on a sensitized plate, in a dark room, with red bulbs burning, are the chief elements.

Cautious announcement, obviously designed to stay over-enthusiasm, was made recently by Dr. R. A. Dochez, Columbia, of a serum for scorlet fever. Dr. Dochez did not promise a definite cure, but declared experiments had shown "certain promise."

PIONEER HURT.

VALLEJO, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Susan Colvin, pioneer resident of Vallejo, fell at her home, 1203 Marin street, on Wednesday night and received severe bruises and possible internal injuries. Mrs. Colvin fell at least 12 feet while she was in the act of walking down stairs.

AUTOIST GETS 90 DAYS IN JAIL

MARTINEZ, Feb. 1.—Ninety days in the county jail was the sentence meted out by Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie to Fred Sealy for driving an automobile while intoxicated. Sealy was arrested several weeks ago following a collision on Alhambra avenue and was liberated on bond, but failed to appear for his preliminary examination. He was arrested by Stockton authorities on a minor charge and returned here for trial. He pleaded guilty Monday.

A DOUBLE SERVICE.

The man who gives now, and more generously than has been his habit in the past, to the Community Chest performs a double service. He accelerates the movement of fund raising at a time when one stimulus begets another. He swells the daily contribution, narrows the distance between what has been raised and the goal, and adds to his money the gift of assurance and confidence.

There are men and women who are doing this in Oakland today, who are not waiting for the committee to call but are mailing their checks. The Community Chest represents a load which may be lifted easily by a given number of hands. The volunteers are coming forward in large numbers. There is force in example, the one brings another.

The Oakland public has had a demonstration of what the Chest has done in 1923. It knows of the thousands of babies cared for, of the food and fuel which has been distributed, of the boys and girls given directing influence, of the home visits of nurses, of the maternity wards supported, of the helping hands given to the down and out. The one who contributes to the Chest has the reward of knowing that he had done his part in meeting the obligations of the community.

The Chest campaign is under way. It is a job of but a few days if the enterprise and spirit that were evidenced in the Community Dinner of Wednesday evening carry along with them a comparable realization of the city's duties toward charity and welfare agencies.

A BOYS' WEEK.

A celebration in which three million men and boys will take part will be held in the cities of the United States in the week of February 8 to 14. It will mark the fourteenth anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scout organization.

The benefits of the boy scout movement are not questioned by anyone who has the slightest knowledge of the work. A good Scout will be a good citizen and will be one of those most interested in training the youths of another generation. One of the reasons for the growth of the movement is the fact that a large number of young men, Scouts a few years ago, are Scout leaders and Scout friends today.

From a small start the organization has grown until it is established in almost every civilized country. In addition to being a force for the development of upstanding men it is one for the establishment of understanding among nations.

On February 8, Anniversary Week, Boys' Week, will open with a recommitment to the Scout Oath and Law by every Scout and official. There will be special emphasis upon the citizenship-training values of the program. The program for the other days follows:

February 9, Saturday, Demonstration Day—Scoutcraft demonstrations, preferably out doors, for the public, with emphasis on the leadership-training values in the activities.

February 10, Sunday, Scout Sunday—Every Scout in his church in uniform. Scout sermon at morning or evening service, with emphasis on the character-building values of the Scout program.

February 11, Monday, School Day—Scouts in uniform; Scoutcraft demonstrations and adult presentation of the Boy Scout idea, with emphasis upon Civic Service features of the program.

February 12, Tuesday, Lincoln's Birthday, Citizenship Day—Flag raisings, troop hikes to historic spots, participation in patriotic exercises. Emphasis throughout to be upon the patriotic character of the Boy Scout Movement.

February 13, Wednesday, Home and Friendship Day—Getting neighbors and home actively interested in the troop; special good turns to neighbors, and in hospitals and orphanages.

February 14, Thursday, Round-Up and Start-Out Day—Emphasis on re-registration, enrollment, more troops, more Scout leaders, with adoption of objectives for the year ahead; concluding exercises of a patriotic character.

The Scouts of the Eastbay will take part in this celebration. They will invite participation and co-operation from the adults. There is opportunity here to help the Scouts and to learn what they are doing.

TROTSKY IGNORED.

Denied of the power, Trotsky at least succeeds Lenin as the mystery man of Europe. Each day brings a different report as to his welfare and whereabouts.

It is said that he is virtually a prisoner in a small village, that he dare not try to escape, and that he is afraid his enemies will seek him out. Again, it is reported he is desperately ill and his friends do not believe he can recover. There are other intimations that no one knows where he is.

At least it is agreed that Trotsky, today is not a power in Russia. A turn of events may bring him out of hiding and into the saddle. He is a man who is used to jails and ostracism and he knows the value of sympathy, the effects of the role of the martyr, in winning supporters.

There may be some significance in the fact that Trotsky who protested when Lenin receded and conceded finds that his protests have denied him the succession of power. Is this one of the signs of a change in Russia?

LOWER INCOME TAXES.

If there is a cut in the 1923 income taxes it will not affect the size of payments this year but will be returned as rebates. Those who have been delaying the payment of their first installment of income taxes on a hope that legislation will whittle something away from the size of that payment may as well walk up to the counter, do the usual arguing and explaining, and write their checks.

There is some consolation in the news that a rebate is a possibility. If it comes next year and when the income taxes are due again it will help. And next year, according to the program now being considered, the rate will be lower upon earned incomes. The size of the check which the average man must pay will be cut in two.

In the meantime, for the sake of the men who are doing the work for the Government, and to avoid the congestion of the last days as well as the penalty for being late, the wise man has filled his blank and is settling his account with Uncle Sam.

VICTIM OF OLD PUZZLE.

Westport, Connecticut, home of freak news stories, has as one of its citizens an aggrieved garbage collector. He is so put out that he has resigned his job and the cause of his action may be laid to the old puzzle which has to to do with the disposal of safety razor blades.

What is the best way to get rid of the blades which are dulled enough to refuse their designed duties and are yet sharp enough to be a menace? Certainly, the proper thing is not to do as Westport did, throw them in the garbage. There they were fed to the pigs occasioning death and distress. That is why the garbage collector resigned. He found that pigs would not thrive on a diet of razors and he liked his pigs better than his job.

This question is a national, perhaps international, one. It has been given deep consideration and is worthy of more. One man thought he solved it by sticking his used blades in the sides of freight cars and letting the railroad companies distribute them over the country. Another dropped them down a well only to have regrets when his drinking supply came up rusty. There are a thousand and one schemes but the favorite is to stick them on the top shelf of the medicine closet and let the wife and housecleaning season face the problem as best they may. The garbage man of Westport is the latest victim of this nefarious practice.

"Nation-wide Drive on Wets Proposed." More work for the mop-up committee.

The next bloc in Congress will, in all probability, be the scofflaws.

It is important that a dark horse should not have a dark past.

The book season is gone forever but we have a Bok one.

NEW ANTIOCH BRIDGE.

Antioch celebrated last Friday the completion of plans and acquirement of sites for the great bridge that is to connect the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys with the bay districts via the Victory highway. The Oakland Chamber of Commerce sent a special committee to attend the celebration. Gradually the obstacles that have overcome rapid transportation between the valleys and the coast are being overcome. The bridge over Carquinez straits, now under construction, and the Newark-San Mateo structure which will connect with the new thirty-foot highway down the peninsula, will give automobile traffic new routes to tidewater. The Antioch bridge crosses the Sherman Island, spanning the San Joaquin river, and thence on to the main shore on the east side. It will be 2600 feet long with 100-foot concrete spans. It will do away with auto ferrying at the point where the valley highways connect. The bridge from Crockett to Vallejo will cut out the auto ferries there, and give auto parties a direct route to Lake county and the new Napa and Sonoma highway systems in the most picturesque part of California. The Newark-San Mateo bridge spans the lower bay and connects the Niles canyon highway with the valley and makes a through-to-the-coast road. Now what we want down this way is the Sierras-to-the-Sea road. Then we will be pretty well "hooped up" with laterals—and everyone of them is needed.—Hanford Sentinel.

THE CONNING TOWER

Heroic Ballad 1976.

As told to Will Irwin by Flight-Lieut. Ehrlich Faraday Miller, Aerial Gas Corps.

All hail the sturdy vats and tanks
That brewed the gas of victory,
And hail, all hail thy patriot ranks—
Industrial Chemistry!

And hail Field Marshal Poggleburg,
That miracle of chemic lore,
Who gave our land its bulwark firm—
Z⁷ CO⁴!

The tocsin tapped at 8:15;
At 9 we slipped our mooring-mast,
And ere 11:55
Our far frontier was passed.

My vision plumbed the midnight deeps,
And saw our mobile retorts glow
A line of light from sky to sky
Eight thousand yards below.

Ah, swift our strutted vulture winged
Its plotted course; but swifter still
The lethal gas that laughs at masks
Swept over vale and hill.

Ye footmen of our Chemic Corps,
How well ye plied your task that night
Three thousand thousand hostile eyes
Saw not the morrow's light.

But nobler patriot aim was ours
That down the midnight air-lane flew—
Ye hawks of vengeance, steel your souls:
Your reckoning be true!

We sought his city's wide expanse
Whence all his railroad lines were laid,
And where ten million perjured hands
Maintained his export trade.

My dial swung to eight-point four;
I saw the speaking-signal glow.
Our chieftain's accents rang along
The tuned radio.

"Men, yonder sleeps the invidious brood
Whose greed has raised our ocean freights
And put upon our pork and prunes
Discriminating rates.

"Wise bombsmen, draw your cosines true!
Wild wingsmen, speed as ne'er before
Your answer to their bootless taunts—
Z⁷ CO⁴!"

With His eternal aniline
The Almighty Chemist hued the East.
Our gas-bombs clattered in their racks
As eager for the feast.

And lo, the imperial city stretched
Its checkered roofs across the plain—
I threw my firing-lever home
And loosed our chemic rain.

A moment all my senses reeled,
A moment scarce I dared to hope,
Then cleared mine anxious eyes! I seized
My teleperiscope

I focussed on a city street
A film of mist and naught beside—
Till from the doors contorted throngs
Burst quivering—and died.

O'er dome and stack my lens I swept,
O'er park and stately avenue—
Ah stout Z⁷ CO⁴,
How swift thy stroke, how true!

And did I pity, comrades? Ay
As he who slaughters for our feast
May drop one unrestraining tear
Above the shambled beast.

These were not Nordics; let them die!
A lesser folk, decadent, frail;
Scarce reached they six-point forty on
The anthropometric scale!

From roofs and spires the untended fires
Smoked sullen to our rudder-gears;
The squadrons wheeled; the wave-lengths reeled
With gay, exultant cheers.

Home, heroes, to your ransomed land;
See yonder how her steel-works gleam
Ho, Eagles! From her pylons tall
Victorious banners stream!

Enraptured kisses wait your lips
And bosoms warm invite your rest.
Of Nordic maids with Class A minds
Upon the Benet test.

Her palaces will ring tonight,
With fires of joy her cities shine,
While heroes all in hut or hall
Quaff the synthetic wine.

And ere the fiscal year was done
Our trade had won its guerdon due,
Our balance rose from three per cent
To nine-point-forty-two

Well if anybody wants to win the 1924 watch, he'll have to write a better—in our judgment—piece than Mr. Will Irwin's.

EXCERPTS from the NATIONAL PRESS

New York Herald: "The neglect of William Jennings Bryan by his fellow Democrats during the recent meeting of the Democratic National Committee is described by the correspondents as 'pathetic.' Mr. Bryan hung about the hotel in which the meeting was held, but no member of the committee offered him a proxy. Old acquaintances shook his hand and hurried on to business. The photographers snapped Mr. Bryan only from force of habit. Whether he favored or opposed sending the convention of 1924 to the place he once called 'the enemy's country' nobody seemed to know or care."

Lowell Courier-Citizen: "The professedly 'Liberal' college students are holding a convention. If only the college boys who profess Liberalism devoted half as much energy to study as they do to the gentle art of trying to shock the conservative alumni and the few remaining conservative professors, they would lead their classes and take all the honors. As a matter of fact, they find it much more delightful to make trial of faculty and alumni patience by daring experiments—just as others greatly prefer athletics to intellectual activity."

Lansing (Mich.) State Journal: "What is sauce for the goose is not always acceptable to the gander, or what is right for one party at a particular time is entirely wrong at another. Back in 1911 when the Democrats controlled the house of representatives they adopted the Underwood rule, which practically made it impossible to offer from the floor important amendments to revenue and tariff bills. Now the Democrats are in a minority and they form a coalition with the insurgent Republicans and repeal the rule, because, theoretically at least, the rival party is in control."

Atlanta Journal: "To place the Democratic party in a position of unqualified approval of every clause of the league covenant would be neither expedient nor right; in fact, it ought never to have been placed in that position, and would not have been if its leadership had tempered zeal with discretion. But the party by all means should continue steadfast to those great principles out of which the League and the World Court have grown."

Galveston News: "The Southern delegates at the national convention will be thoroughly informed on the sentiment of the Southern constituency toward prohibition, and will effectually block any effort to foist a wet issue or candidate upon the party. The probability of such a contingency is too remote to arouse serious apprehension or to waste many words in its discussion."

Kansas City Times: "In Philadelphia, the City of Brotherly Love, it has been decreed that policemen who add notches to their pistols, if it be for killing bandits, shall get promotions in rank. Philadelphia may yet produce its Luke Shorts, its Bat Mastersons and its 'Wild Bill' Hickoks."

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

What will probably be a parmanent summer camp ground for Boy Scouts of Contra Costa county has been secured in Mitchell's Canyon, in the foothills of Mt. Diablo, with the signing of a ten-year lease on the property with C. B. King, a San Francisco realter, who recently acquired 466 acres in that section. The rent has been paid in advance for the tract, King charging the sum of $1 for the camping privilege.—Martinez Gazette.

Mrs. E. E. O'Brien, a one-time resident of Brentwood, now a resident of Martinez, where she has carried on the contracting business of her late husband, was awarded the contract for grading of the site of the million dollar veterans' hospital to be erected at Livermore. She has sent her men and grading apparatus for the purpose of starting operations.—Brentwood News.

Steamers on the Sacramento river handled over a million tons of freight last year. This is an increase of about 200,000 tons over the year previous and suggests that water transportation is still an important matter in the Sacramento Valley.—Riverside Press.

New York World: "Some may call Lenin a failure because his policies failed; but he was himself ready to see when and how far he must yield to conditions beyond his power to alter and make new dispositions accordingly; and what else does any ruler do? About the new economic policy he was as brutally frank as he had been in accepting the butcher's bill for revolution. It was his theory that Communism must recoil only to leap the more surely. And he carried his people with him. To the end of his days he was the philosopher not only of Soviet Russia but of vast numbers beyond its boundaries."

County Superintendent of Schools Nielsen has made known through his attorneys that he will appeal from the decision of Superior Judge Gregory, who ruled that the appointment of Mrs. Nielsen and A. W. Churchley as supervising deputies of Butte schools was illegal. The case, which also involved the payment of two salary warrants, has attracted considerable attention all over the county.—Oroville Register.

A statement that he is not a candidate for the Appellate bench and does not expect and will not ask for such appointment, was made by Superior Judge H. D. Gregory yesterday. The statement followed an article in a Chico newspaper that Judge Gregory might be appointed to the Appellate bench in the event that Judge Richards was moved up from the Court of Appeals to take Judge Kerrigan's place on the Supreme bench.—Oroville Register.

JUST FOLKS
By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE EX-CONVICT'S STORY.

I was tired of the small vexations,
the merciless urge of care,
The dull drawn face of my duty and its constant ghosts of despair;
I had wearied of dreading disaster, grown sick of the petty fears
Which follow the hopes we cherish and snarl at the passing years,
When a man who had been in prison came into my room and said:
"It's good to be out in the open and look at the hills ahead.

"It's good to wake up in the morning and wonder what night will bring
And whether you'll miss your dinner and whether you'll curse or sing.
It's good to have doubts and worries, it's good to be on your own
When failing or winning matters—why, I've sat in my cell alone
And wished for a bit of trouble, a bill that I couldn't pay,
A fright, or a hunt or something, just to make it a different day.

"I've been out of the world, I tell you, three years in a prison cell.
Fed morning and noon and evening when somebody rang the bell,
And never a storm could catch me, I was under a roof, and yet
I've envied the shivering newsboy the pleasure of getting wet.
I've had shelter and food and clothing, and never a cent to pay,
But the curse of it is tomorrow is doomed to be like today.

"I laughed when I started out there and said, for a stretch of time
With never a care to fret me I'll pay for my foolish crime.
But inside of a week I hungered for trouble or pain or care—
So I say, thank God for your burdens, thank God for the hurts you bear:
Be glad for your doubtful future, rejoice that you do not stay
In a place where each tomorrow is doomed to be like today."

IN ROOSEVELT FASHION.

Two features in the hearing before the senate committee on the Teapot Dome scandal stand out impressively, aside from the exposures involved. They are the fearless testimony of Archibald Roosevelt and the jealous family guardianship of the Roosevelt name.

First was the family decision that Archibald Roosevelt should resign his connection with the Sinclair interests and tell the whole truth so far as he knew it, together with the suspicious circumstances that had come under his notice. This had to be done regardless of every other consideration. That was the Roosevelt way, the Roosevelt tradition, the Roosevelt standard of honor and square deal.

Next was the voluntary appearance of the witness, backed up by every member of the family who could be present, for the additional purpose of protecting the Roosevelt name.

This whole proceeding was thoroughly characteristic. There could be no compromise with corruption, or seeming corruption, no matter what the personal or political considerations might be.—Kansas City Times.

PERSONAL HEALTH SERVICE

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.,
Noted Physician and Author.

ANOTHER CASE OF HAY FEVER.

For the benefit of those who may have tuned in late, may I first explain that this is station NUT broadcasting on a wave length of one meter, equivalent to 23 kilowat hours, and that our program recently consisted principally of a letter from a minister of the gospel who babbled about a case of acute fulminating hay fever, which I am now going to review briefly in order to refresh your memory if you were listening in.

The reverend gentleman cited:

". . . . a friend who was loading hay last winter. It was very cold, about zero. He got very hot. Took off his coat, then his hat, later his vest. Presently a neighbor came along and wanted to talk with him. He stopped and talked without resuming his clothing. A few days later he died of pneumonia.

"If I sit with my head in a draft I get a headache. Am I to understand that the germs of pneumonia, or coryza, or whatever it is, are lurking around and that a sudden chill causes them to develop?

"I know this is going to sound like the babblings of a donkey to you. But you must remember that we who have been brought up to believe in colds have an awful job to throw off our childhood's beliefs even though science points out their error."

All the germs that "lurk" around will never hurt anybody. There's nothing furtive, slinking or sneaky about the germs. They hop in when a neighbor stops to spray you with conversation, not because they are malevolent, but just because it is their lot to be carried from the neighbor's nose or throat, in the moisture droplets which shoot out for a distance of about four feet in ordinary conversation—just far enough to get the victim neighbor is chatting with.

Now I opine—and mind, I have at least as good logic to support me as has the minister for his explanation of his friend's pneumonia—I think that perhaps his friend would not have contracted pneumonia had he stayed in the haymow or on the load and shouted down to his neighbor, the carrier, on the ground. The only difference is that the minister's notion rests on tradition.

My notion, at present, seems about as foolish as was Henry Ford's gasoline buggy a few years ago; what made Mr. Ford so foolish was his attempt to run a buggy without a horse hitched to it. Horses had always been deemed indispensable for pulling buggies. Likewise a real or assumed draft, chilling, wetting or simlar "exposure" has always been deemed a necessary preliminary to pneumonia and the other respiratory infections, as we know them today. Most adults old enough to know better can recall when even tuberculosis was believed dependent somehow on night air. Thousands of people have died of "inflamation of the bowels" while the world waited for science to teach us that this was generally appendicitis and surely curable if operated on without delay.

Right now several agencies, including the United States Public Health Service, are planning extensive experimentation to try to find out whether "exposure" has any relation whatever with one's susceptibility to these respiratory infections. This will be love's labor lost. I do not hesitate to predict, for the rabbit's foot could be more readily upheld by science.

How Did She Know?

The lights were turned low in the cozy library. She sat in the big arm-chair, her heart a-flutter and her brain in a whirl.

Bozo was to visit her that night. And he would take her in his arms. Perhaps they would be married—

The bell—

Bozo entered, his hair slicked back, and his bow tie on elastic band. He advanced toward the table, and removed three cigars from his vest pocket. Then he turned with outstretched arms.

"Stop," she sobbed. "You have loved before."—The Phoenix.

W.P. TO PUT MILLIONS IN NEW WORK

Railroad Announces Program of Betterment Estimated to Cost $6,500,000; Oakland to See Rail Betterments

Improvements amounting to $125,000 are to be added to the Western Pacific Railroad property in Oakland in connection with the $6,500,000 development program for 1924 announced by Charles M. Levey, president of the company.

Among the improvements in Oakland will be a new loading platform at the freight depot, accommodation tracks for 70 cars for loading and discharging directly into wagons and trucks, the installation of 161-pound girder rails along Third street and the installation of new machinery and equipment at the machine shops.

Principal items in the development program are the electrification of the Marysville shops, the building of a new freight depot at Reno, the completion of the North Channel spur at Stockton, the enlargement of the Sacramento shops, and the addition of new rolling stock.

The program contemplates the spending of $3,750,000 for new rolling stock alone. This item including 10 extra heavy engines, 175 refrigerator cars, 200 automobile cars, 100 logging cars, 125 stock cars and 10 cabooses.

The electrification of the Marysville shops is to enable the Sacramento Northern Railway, a subsidiary, to remove its freight shipments from the center of town and bring such shipments in on other tracks. An addition to the hospital at Portola also is planned.

Replacements, including the raising of 12 miles of track outside of Salt Lake City and the tearing out of all wooden bridges in favor of steel structures, are also included in the program. An important replacement will be a steel bridge over Meyers street in Oroville in place of the present wooden structure.

"A tremendous increase in fruit shipments and general business during 1923, and the promise of even greater business in 1924, has made this great development program possible," President Levey said.

Bitterman to Open Own Establishment

R. C. Bitterman, vice-president and manager of the California Optical Company, today announced his retirement from the firm for the purpose of opening his own establishment here under the name of the R. C. Bitterman Optical Company. Bitterman has been with the firm for 24 years, and has been manager of the Oakland business for ten years.

Bitterman leaves immediately for a three-months' business trip, in which he will visit modern optical establishments and make an intensive study of the optical industry before returning to Oakland.

Negotiations are now under way for a location for the new store.

"With the great advancement in science, we live today largely under artificial conditions," said Bitterman, "consequently the manufacture and fitting of glasses must meet these conditions. Glasses should be fitted neither in sunlight nor in the darkroom, but in a combination of the two, as this best meets all of the circumstances under which glasses must be used."

Four Thousand Years Ago!

That was when the first Chinese maiden gazed into this ancient mirror, which now reflects the beauty of Lee Mooy, a guest at the Hotel Oakland.

Chinese Girl Visitor Carries Mirror of 4000 Years Ago

In her father's suite at the Hotel Oakland today, Lee Mooy, young daughter of Lee Yuk-Tin, capitalist and diplomat, carefully powdered her nose before a mirror into which prehistoric Chinese princesses used to glance before going downstairs to greet prehistoric princely suitors.

Since the mirror was first used, probably more than 4000 years ago, practically all the events that make up the known history of mankind have taken place.

"How time flies!" murmured Lee Mooy today, as she finished powdering her nose before the polished bronze surface of the mirror.

Lee Mooy's mirror lay buried for 2000 years, or half its present existence, in the grave of an ancient monarch—Chao Wo. Chao Wo's grave was unearthed by workmen excavating for the foundation of a new mansion for Lee Yuk-Tin near Canton, and the mirror and other relics found in it were placed in Lee's keeping by the Chinese government.

Lee Yuk-Tin, with his wife, and his two daughters, Lee Mooy and Lee Gun, are stopping at the Hotel Oakland, while Lee himself arranges for the establishment of a branch of the South China Development Bank in this vicinity.

HUNDREDS HUNT GIRL'S ATTACKER

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—Searching steadily throughout the night, more than 200 police and special officers had today failed to find the attacker of 10-year-old Beatrice Ward, San Pedro school girl. The child, outraged and beaten, is in a Long Beach hospital, fighting for her life.

All roads leading from San Pedro are barred as the man hunt continued today. Automobiles are searched for the "big, dark man" while ships in the harbor are being inspected. Scores of citizens, joining the authorities in the search, are talking of lynching.

The crime occurred late yesterday while she was helping her small brother deliver papers.

OHIO RIVER BOAT SINKS, 5 DROWN

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PADUCAH, Ky., Feb. 1.—Two passengers and three negro deckhands were missing today as a result of the wreck of the river steamer Thomas C. Powell in the Ohio river near Wilson's Light, eight miles from here, last night. Survivors landed here by the towboat Marcia Richardson told graphic stories of the wreck and expressed belief that those missing were trapped below by an onrush of water or pinned by shifting freight when the boat listed.

The boat is believed to have struck a large ice floe, and sunk in three minutes. The dense fog and presence of ice in the river added to the difficulty of rescue work. The Powell carried thirteen passengers and a crew of seventeen.

MANY TONS OF EDIBLES CONDEMNED

Food Inspector Seizes Big Quantities of Fruit and Vegetables During January —Restaurants Are Warned

Many tons of spoiled edibles were condemned within the city limits during the past month, according to a report for January, submitted to Commissioner Frank Colbourn by Food Inspector Harry Smith, starting a new system of monthly reports by the food inspection department.

Smith reported that he condemned 14,360 pounds of tomatoes, 70 boxes of oranges, 200 pounds of spinach, 19,225 pounds of potatoes, 180 pounds of cranberries, and 240 pounds of eggplant, or enough stuff, if it were eatable, to feed a good-sized village.

The department made 800 inspections of markets and investigated 20 waiters and food handlers. Two restaurants were given five days to "clean up or quit."

"The food inspection department is constantly on guard," said Smith, "and many thhings which might have slipped into the city are barred out. The monthly report system shows the achievements of the department toward raising the health of the city."

ERROR KEEPS DIVORCED COUPLE WED

Difference in Phrasing of the Interlocutory and Final Decrees in the Eggert Case Held to Void All Action

Although Irene Eggert of 2440 Montana street, has both an interlocutory and a final decree of divorce from Frederick H. Eggert, she is still his wife and the marital ties have never been severed, it developed today in Superior Judge Dudley Kinsell's court when attorneys representing both parties appeared seeking to have the final decree modified.

It appeared fro mrecords in the case and from statements made by attorneys that the Eggerts were divorced May 20, 1922, when Judge Kinsell granted a final decree on Mrs. Eggert's testimony that her husband had told her he no longer cared for her.

The final decree was signed August 4, 1923, by the late Judge Mortimer Smith. Later it was discovered by attorneys for Mrs. Eggert that the final decree differed in phraseology from the interlocutory decree. A check of the records showed that the entry by the county clerk in the judgment book is not a true copy of the decree.

Judge Kinsell cited a case in which the higher courts have declared that unless the decree is correctly entered it is not entered at all. In the light of this he held the interlocutory decree has not yet been entered and the final decree cannot be granted until a full year after the entry of the interlocutory decree.

Judge Kinsell told the attorneys that their only course, apparently, was to have the correct entry made at once and let the year begin to run from that date, at which time a final decree can be awarded.

Rum Assets Raise Novel Law Question

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Can a man liquidate his debts with alcoholic liquid? This is the problem faced today by Gustave Gunzendorfer, who was brought into Judge Mogan's court by Mrs. Gunzendorfer to show cause why he had not paid $1320, which had been awarded to her as separate maintenance. The Gunzendorfers were divorced in May, 1922. Gunzendorfer told the judge that he was so situated that he could pay his alimony in liquor, but being restrained by law from selling his liquor, he could not convert it into cash to give Mrs. Gunzendorfer. Gunzendorfer said his principal asset now was liquor valued at $5000.

McClintic Pleads Guilty to Battery

SAN JOSE, Feb. 1.—Ray McClintic, son of Mrs. Lucy McClintic, secretary of the Santa Clara County Law and Order League, through his attorney, Grant R. Bennett, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of battery preferred against the youth as a result of a fight on December 9 in which Wadsworth Hawes, McClintic's cousin, was knocked to the pavement on San Carlos street and run over by an automobile, receiving a broken arm. The complaint was sworn to by Charles Hawes, father of the injured boy. It is alleged that the fight started when Hawes made an insulting remark concerning McClintic's mother. Hawes denied this on the stand yesterday.

SIX BURGLARY SUSPECTS TAKEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—An automobile license number obtained several nights ago when a Burlingame clothing store was ransacked by burglars and loot valued at $5000 taken, was responsible today for the arrest of six suspects by police, five of whom have prison records, and all of whom are booked enroute to San Mateo county.

The police discovered that an automobile bearing the license said to have figured in the burglary had been placed in a Polk-street garage. A watch was set upon it. Early today two men called for the machine, and were trailed by Detective Sergeant Milliken and a posse of officers in a second car. The trail led to an Ellis-street hotel, where the police surprised the pair and four others, all of whom were taken into custody. They gave their names as: James Clinton, 23, clerk; James O'Connor, 24, salesman; George C. Dawson, 27, laborer; Maurice Allen, 21, printer; Walter Humphrey, 24, butcher; Merritt Higbee, 24, clerk. Humphrey is said to be the only one of the prisoners previously unknown to the police.

JAPANESE CRISIS CAUSED BY BOYS IN MOVIE STUNT

Attempt of Youngsters to Wreck Train Results in Riot in Diet.

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

TOKYO, Feb. 1. — Two small boys, inspired by an American-made movie film which they had seen, were responsible for yesterday's attempt to wreck a train carrying 25 members of the diet.

Their prank led to riotous scenes and finally to dissolution of the diet later in the day.

After dissolution of the diet investigators reported that instead of the attempted wreck being the work of anti-government plotters it was the prank of two youngsters with over-inspired imaginations.

But it was too late then to turn time back—the diet had been dissolved and all Japan had been thrown into a furore.

The government of Premier Kiyoura was attacked in the diet.

The incident of the train was laid at the door of anti-government elements; the ministry was called on to explain why such things were allowed to be possible; a riot followed in which blows were said to have been struck by men high in Japan's affairs; and finally the diet was dissolved.

It was one of the most sensational crisis in recent Japanese history.

Several of those who were held responsible for disturbances in the diet, including two members of the house, were arrested. The press unanimously denounced the diet's dissolution as contrary to constitutional provisions.

MISS DELLA COYLE, who is arranging dance for benefit of Irish soldiers' families

DANCES TO SHOW NEW IRISH STEPS

Families of the Irish republican soldiers are to receive the proceeds of a dance to be given by General Phil Sheridan Council, American Association for the Relief of the Irish Republicans, tomorrow evening. Special Irish step dancing will be a feature of the evening. The dance will be held in Knights of Columbus hall, 660 Thirteenth street.

Prominent on the committee arranging for the affair is Miss Della Coyle, 4208 Grove street.

Two Are Held for Drug Store Robbery

SAN JOSE, Feb. 1.—Alleged to have entered the Alameda pharmacy, 1101 The Alameda, this city, early Wednesday morning, and to have stolen several hundred dollars' worth of novelties, Herbert Anderson and William Ward were arrested by Deputy Sheriffs George Pyne, Earl Hamilton and Ben Frederickson while speeding to Oakland shortly before noon yesterday. In the possession of the two men, who were traveling by automobile, was found all of the loot taken from the pharmacy.

The burglary of the pharmacy was the second within a few months. On November 28 last the place was entered and a similar amount of loot secured by the thieves. Quick work by Sheriff George W. Lyle in spreading a net for the thieves resulted in the arrest in Salinas of Tom O'Shea and William Fornac, who had the stolen property in their possession. Fornac and O'Shea pleaded guilty in superior court and are now in the county jail here, waiting final disposition of their cases.

BATTLE CERTAIN ON TAX REVISION

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Assurances of a battle royal on the floor of the house over tax revision have been increased by the action of the republican members of the ways and means committee to stand solidly—in committee, at least—behind the Mellon bill without material change.

The majority members of the committee, having doned attempts to frame a non-partisan measure, voted 11 to 8 yesterday to support the surtax schedules proposed by Secretary Mellon, the chief bone of contention between them and the Democrats. Their decision, reached after a conference with the Republican steering committee, binds them to vote in committee for the reduction of the surtax minimum, from 50 to 25 per cent, but leaves them at liberty to act differently when amendments are taken up on the floor under the recent modification of the rules.

The government would suffer a loss of $347,981,491 in revenue with a reduction of taxes as suggested by the Democrats against a loss of $287,814,261 under the Mellon plan, Secretary Mellon informed Representative Garner, author of the Democratic scheme, without comment in estimates submitted today.

Jordan Finds New Trout in Volcanic Lake

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 1.—Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus, and George B. Culver, Dean of Men, have discovered a new species of trout. The name and description of the fish will be published in Philadelphia soon, Dr. Jordan said today.

Culver, an ardent angler and naturalist, discovered the fish while angling in the Kern river basin. A lake had been isolated from the main stream due to volcanic disturbances and in these waters this particular species has developed. The lake has been named Culver lake.

This is the fourth species which has developed through isolation due to volcanic disturbances, says Dr. Jordan. The others are all golden trout, while this one is black. The new trout is described as being large and very active. It has an unusually large mouth and a flat head like a pike.

Debating League Ratifies Rules

MANTECA, Feb. 1.—With a few minor changes the constitution recently written by Principal George L. Linn of Manteca union high school for a south San Joaquin high school debating and forsenic league, has been ratified by the Escalon, Ripon, Tracy and Manteca schools.

Among those disbarred was Margaret Wilson, Los Angeles.

SLAYER TRACED BY PHOTOGRAPHS

STOCKTON, Feb. 1.—His identity established by a photograph, W. H. Fox, alias "Big Boy," and other names, is expected to be arrested for the murder of Frank Smith, ex-service man, in the railroad yards here two months ago. Smith was killed with a club.

Peter Nevin, who witnessed the affair, informed the police within half an hour, but no trace of the slayer was found. According to Nevin, a knot of men were seated around a camp fire discussing labor and I. W. W. questions. Smith, he stated, informed the group that he was an ex-soldier, a workingman, and had no sympathy with the I. W. W. As he turned to get his blankets, Nevin told the police, Fox struck him down with a club and beat him to death. Smith had worked all summer at Marysville.

Deputy Sheriff Walter Ower, who has been working on the case, states that the identity of Fox has been established beyond all doubt, that the man is well known as an I. W. W. organizer at Susanville and other mountain camps. He declares Fox will be taken in a short time.

Nevin has also disappeared and search is on for him as a material witness.

WIVES ON WARPATH.

BANGOR, Pa., Feb. 1.—Objecting to their husbands' participation in modern dances, married women at Bangor have organized a dancing club and forbidden the fox trot.

Building for 'Y' To Be Constructed

RICHMOND, Feb. 1. — That Richmond is to have a Y. M. C. A. building was announced late last night, coincident with the actual planning of the work for the building. The structure is to be financed and erected for the "Y" by P. M. Sanford, local contractor and president of the Y. W. C. A. here since it was founded in 1919.

The building will be erected on the west side of Thirteenth street, between Macdonald and Nevin avenues, facing the area recently purchased for a memorial park.

Flareback Halts Still at Oil Plant

MARTINEZ, Feb. 1.—One still at the Associated Oil company's Avon plant was put out of commission last night when a flareback occurred. From the plant today it was declared no one was injured and that the loss will be nominal.

GERMANY HAS TOO MANY COLLEGES

By GUS M. OEHM.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, (By mail to United Press.)—Germany has too many universities, though as yet no move has been made to consolidate or eliminate, according to Professor G. von Below, of Freiburg, Bavaria.

"Recently the report was spread that several of Germany's biggest and best universities were to close because of lack of attendance and financial support," Below declared. "This, however, is not true. The universities are all functioning, although the attendance in institutions of higher learning throughout the country has fallen to such a degree that several of the newer universities might better be closed."

Following the revolution of 1918, Below declares, new universities sprang up all over Germany. Thousands of young people entered the higher schools. Now the financial conditions make it impossible for any but the very richest or the most industrious to maintain themselves in a university.

"The new universities, such as those at Frankfurt, Cologne and Hamburg, were founded largely to satisfy municipal pride," Below said. "Such schools bring great numbers of academic young people into town and each town wants the benefits to be derived therefrom."

TEXAS SLEUTH TELLS HOW HE FOILED CROOKS

Trailed Gang That Divested Him of Lifelong Savings Through Stock Game.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Feb. 1. J. Frank Norfleet, celebrated Texas rancher-sleuth who basked in national prominence through his relentless three-year search and capture of the four con men who relieved him of his life's savings of $45,000, has succumbed to the lure of the lecture platform.

Following the opening of his engagement here, Norfleet stated he had arranged a long tour over the nation that he might lay before the eyes of the world his own fallacy as a warning to get-rich-quick aspirants—and recuperate his fleeting fortune.

Three years ago four swindlers, presenting an ancient stock game, appeared at his home and allowed him to make a few nickels on his first minor investment.

"One of them dropped to his knees and, with a Bible to his forehead, declared that, in the name of his 'Angel Mother,' their investment was an honest proposition," he says.

On the strength of their mother oaths and his first small profit, Norfleet plastered his ranch with mortgages, sold off his cattle, withdrew his savings from the bank, borrowed of his friends and brought forth $45,000 in cash on the well known silver platter. The notes which he placed in their keeping were never cashed, confining his loss to the currency.

With frequent illustrations of "quick drawing—shooting from the hip—desperate grappling with his assailants" — Norfleet punctuates his talks with an enthusiastic vigor that twangs an excitable cord along the spinal column.

He tells of his three-year search for the four swindlers, several personal encounters attending their capture and how each in turn — when confronted by himself, single handed—dropped to his knees, pleading for clemency with genuine tears.

He has sent three of them to prison. The fourth will be brought to trial here within several weeks.

However, several prominent educators who absorbed his preliminary talk, as an embryo orator, to a number of school children, report his speech as "nicely flavored —but not too blood-curdling for thrill-loving boys and girls."

Pirates in Fast Motorboat Raid German Castles

By GUS M. OEHM,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BERLIN, Feb. 1.— (United Press.)—Pirates who sail the inland lakes and the River Havel, co-operating with robbers who scurry about in automobiles, make life uncomfortable for rich villa dwellers in the wealthy suburban districts of Berlin.

Spandau, Potsdam, Brandenburg and other towns on the inland waterways are terrorized by these pirates, who are so thoroughly organized that arrests so far have been impossible.

They seek out castle-like villas lying alongside the river or the lakes or within easy access of much-traveled automobile roads and approach and leave in motorboats and automobiles.

The water pirates fly a flag when at work—much the same kind of flag used along the Spree by pirates years ago.

They carry with them an expert glass cutter, who cuts a hole in the window pane, through which a hand can unfasten locks.

These story-book-like thieves prefer silver, jewelry, Persian rugs and cut-glass.

Authorities are considering inaugurating inland water police, but the lakes and rivers are so crowded with all sorts of boats that even then detection would be difficult.

ONE-TIME ABLE PHYSICIAN DIES DERELICT 'DOC'

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. — Behind the death, Wednesday afternoon, under the tailboard of a Salvation Army wagon of Augustine F. Kingston, once a prominent physician in the Bronx and a graduate of Fordham and Cornell, lies the story of a well-kept secret.

The man who was once Dr. Kingston, resident physician of Dannemora Prison, died as plain "Doc" Kingston, helper on a paper-collecting truck, dependent on the Salvation Army for food, clothes, a bed and weekly "grants" of $3 and $4.

George Ferguson, driver of the truck on which Dr. Kingston was helper, yesterday told in Homicide Court of the accident that ended the "Doc's" years of poverty and loneliness. The truck, he said, was at 154th street and Amsterdam avenue when Kingston, who always rode on the rear so former friends might not see him, was thrown off by a sudden jerk of the horse. Kingston died of a fractured skull.

"He came here last September," Joseph Grace, adjutant of the Salvation Army Industrial Home at No. 229 East 120th street, said. "He was a victim of domestic unhappiness and drink, but he worked with the constant hope of getting back to his place in the world.

Last September Kingston went to Memorial Hospital, Princess Bay, S. I., as resident physician, but lonliness overcame him. Within six weeks he was back on the paper truck and playing checkers to pass his evenings. In his pocket when he died was a letter promising him a position in the civil service.

Kingston's secret, whatever it is, is guarded by his brother and sister, who live at No. 574 East 168th street, the Bronx. His father, eighty-six, knows only of his son's death, not of the details of his later life.

RARE VOLUMES GET HIGH PRAISE

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Feb. 2.—A genuine, perfect leaf from the Gutenberg Bible, printed in 1450, the first book printed from movable type, is credited with being among the more than 1,600 books comprising the library of F. L. Hadley, recently sold here for more than $15,477.

The library also contained, it is claimed, a copy of the Nuremberg Chronicle, printed in 1593, with a pigskin cover and iron clasps. It sold for $185, while the leaf from the Gutenberg Bible brought $155. "Voyages," by Captain Cook, printed in London in 1773, sold for $80, the first issue of the initial edition of Nathaniel Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter" for $40, and the Fourth Folio of Shakespeare's works, printed in London in 1685, brought the highest price of the sale, $370.

Tut's Sarcophagus To Open in 10 Days

LUXOR, Egypt, Feb. 1.—Howard Carter is seriously pre-occupied with the problem of how to dismantle the fourth of the nest of shrines that envelope the coffin of Tutankhamen—the one immediately enclosing the sarcophagus—with as little damage as possible, for this golden box apparently is a replica in wood of the pink crystalline coffin within.

The shrine seems to be made of one piece instead of in several sections, like the others. Carter is hopeful, however, of raising the lid of the sarcophagus itself within the next 10 days.

Prosperity Claimed Due To U. S. Navy

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 2.—(By the United Press.)—Almost $16,000,000 has been spent by the Federal government on naval establishments here in the last year, according to Rear Admiral Ashley H. Robertson, commandant of the Eleventh Naval District. The average monthly payroll of officers, enlisted men and civilian employees of the naval district is $740,000, and the total monthly pay for all naval forces here, ashore and floating, is approximately $1,500,000, said the admiral.

MY FAVORITE STORIES by IRVIN S. COBB

Tracing An Iniquity to Its Source

Little Willie had been misbehaving and his mother caught him in the act. She turned him face downward across her knee and applied the back side of a family hairbrush where it was calculated to do the most good. Upon being released, the culprit presently checked his sobbing, to put the question:

"Mamma," he asked, between sniffles, "did Grandpa ever do this to my daddy when he was a little boy?"

"He certainly did," answered his mother.

"And did Grandpa's pa spank him when he was bad?"

"Yes."

"And did his papa spank him?"

"I'm sure of it."

The child considered for a moment:

"Well," he said at length, "what I want to know now is, who started this durned thing, anyway?"

BOOSTERS.

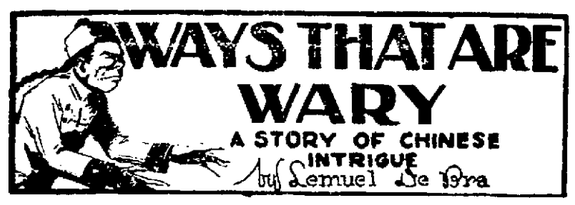
I knew a man—
Of easy means—
Who always knocked his own home town—
Because the weather didn't suit him—
And when a stranger landed there—
He used to pan his town for fair—
Until with spirits drooping—
He'd pull up stakes and emigrate—
Unto some far and distant state—
And there he'd loosen his purse strings—
Become a useful citizen.
And so my friend went up and down—
And slipped a knock to his home town—
Each chance he got—
In summer time it was so hot he couldn't sleep—
The winters were so dog-gone fierce—
Cold chills would creep—
And lay him up with stiffened bones—
So he set out to find a place to call his home—
Some clime where cool soft zephyrs played—
From which he'd never roam.
And soon he landed in a town—
Called Buggysville By-the-Sea—
A city that had won renown—
Because the sun would never frown—
But showed each day a smiling face—
Upon this place—a perfect spot—
That's what the advertising pamphlets said.

But when my friend dropped off the train—
He couldn't find his way for rain—
That soaked him to his very hide.
Two weeks he staid—
And every day it rained and hailed—
And seemed 'twould never stop.
He saw a man go smiling by—
With whistled step and beaming eye—and said to him—
"My friend—I've read a lot of bunk—
In this bum book—about your climate—
The man who write this ought to be arrested."
But still the man stood there and smiled—
Then with a twinkle — slow he sa'd—
"The book is right—my friend—don't grieve—
Just tarry with us—pray don't leave—
This is the best town on the map—
This weather is most unusual."
And every man he talked to there—
Told him the same—but one—
He said he'd lived there forty years—
And never saw a week go by but what it rained.
He looked into this croaker's face—
Saw his reflection—
That night he sat right down and wrote this letter:—
"Good folks—I know now my home town—
My own sweet home—is best of all—
No matter where I roam—
And so I'm coming back again—
This time to be a booster."

WAYS THAT ARE WARY

A STORY OF CHINESE INTRIGUE

by Lemuel De Bra



CHAPTER XXVII.
(Copyrighted.)

Toi and Soo conversed for a moment in Cantonese. "He says," translated Toi, "that he was afraid that Bo Ch'at would do harm to Lee Quan; so he sent this man Wing to watch Bo Ch'at. Bo Ch'at left his house this morning at about 9 and went at once to Canton street. He hung around there all morning. When the officers left with Lee Quan and Ah Lim, Wing saw them. Bo Ch'at also saw them, and appeared to take great delight in their arrest. He hastened away at once. Wing was about to follow him when he happened to see Mr. Soo. Mr. Soo was on his way to Lee Quan's room to see him on a business matter. Informed by Wing of Lee Quan's arrest, Mr. Soo got in touch with me at once—and here we are."

"I see," mused Brown. "Now ask Mr. Soo if Ah Lim ever said anything to him about a man named Ah Kee?"

Toi did this. Soo Wang quickly confirmed everything Ah Lim had said about Ah Kee and the plot against Lee Quan.

Brown was convinced. This couldn't be a cooked-up story. It had been confirmed on many times. Moreover, Brown could not but be most favorably impressed by Soo Wang. Sitting erect and dignified, his slender fingers combing his thin gray beard, he looked every whit the Chinese gentleman.

"Toi," said Brown, "do you know this man, Ah Kee?"

"I don't know him, but Mr. Soo has told me what he has learned. It seems that Ah Kee is one of the few remaining old men of our people who smoke opium. They say he works for Bo Ch'at. I am rather surprised at that. Bo Ch'at is not particularly well liked by the Chinese, but he has always been a good citizen. Why he should employ an opium user I do not know."

"And where did he get the morphine he had Ah Kee put in Lee Quan's room?"

"You will have to ask Bo Ch'at about that," smiled the secretary.

"That," concluded Brown, rising, "is just what I propose to do without any more delay. Toi, if I release Lee Quan and Ah Lim, will you give me your word that you will in no way interfere in my investigation of this case?"

"More than that, I will give you my word that Soo will assist you in every way possible."

"Good enough. Ellwood, bring Lee Quan and Ah Lim here. We'll tell them just where we stand."

This was done. Brown and Ellwood prepared to leave for Chinatown.

"We'll go by your room, Lee," said Brown. "I'll pick up the two men I left there and take them with me to call on Bo Ch'at."

"I'll go with you," said Lee Quan. "I remember you told those two officers to grab everyone who came to the door. I'm curious."

Sutherland touched Lee on the arm.

"Mr. Lee, can you step over to my office a minute. Mr. Soo is very anxious to see you."

Lee Lann turned to Brown.

"I really wasn't expecting any callers this morning. Do you think it necessary for me to accompany you to my room?"

"Not at all," smiled Brown. "I'll make due apologies to any of your creditors who may have dropped in."

Accompanying the broker across the street to the latter's office, Lee Quan found that Soo Wang and Toi Lo had preceded him. Sutherland put out chairs, then sat down at his desk.

"Lee," said Sutherland, smiling, "Mr. Soo wants to know how much you will take for that option you have on his stock of Ng Ka Py?"

"Not that I understand," the shepherder talked into the horn, "but it sounds sociable-like. Go ahead."

"And now little children, I will tell you the story of the fuzzy caterpillar and the long-billed crane." A sweet voice laden with gracious accent fell in the man's loneliness.

"You don't say," he gasped. "And a fuzzy caterpillar, too—my, my!"

Breen's man decided he would do this thing to do his worst. So he sat with his fists clenched and his body strained forward, not moving a muscle of the bulging arms. Then came music, a choir singing on a Wyoming range with the stars, the sheep, and Breen's mind to listen. It was too wonderful to be true. He knew he was dreaming but encouraged the dream. Then the concert stopped.

"I am much enlisted," said Breen's man into the horn. Perhaps" and he hesitated bashfully, "perhaps you would like to hear me play. I'm not so good, you know, never having any lessons, but some times." He played his repertoire to the smiled that the instrument which had brought music to his soul came back to him.

"And I hope you liked it," said Breen's man as he put the violin away.

There were concerts now every evening, one night a board meeting of a big was brought back to the activities of the world. He was being informed of things which had happened that very day! He regarded the radio now with reverence.

"For the third time," the voice from the horn said, "I am making an announcement for the Acme Title and Trust Company. If there is anyone within radius of this station who knows the whereabouts of Peter V. Jellison, he is requested to notify the Acme Company at once."

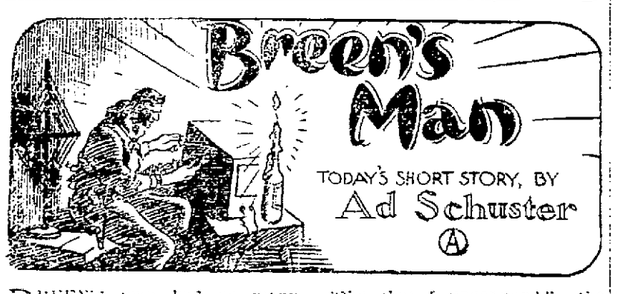
Breen's man was white and trembling. He cowered with his hands over his head, as if expecting this machine would seize him.

"It has been discovered that a great wrong has been done, that Jellison is innocent of the crime for which he was suspected and his old place, and more, is awaiting him. That is all tonight." And the voice was still.

"All tonight," repeated Breen's man, with his eyes on the heavens. "It's enough." And he started planning how he would take up life again where he had left off.

Tomorrow—Annabel's Idea.

(Copyright 1924.)



BREEN'S man had as many friends, perhaps, as any other, but none of them was human. There were the regiments of pines, sizzagging the distant hills, the more sociable cedars, boxelders and cottonwoods and, always, there were the sheep. Breen's man was a herder. In shearing season he came in with the herd, spent a few weeks with the hand-clipped and hand-sweating shearers, and then departed into the hills with his clip-weary dog, horses, [illegible]

There are some men who [illegible] Discover it and develop it; lift your mind to the greater heights.

Goodbye, little girl. May God bless you and protect you, and you, too, Jerry. A thousand blessings. May your good work continue.

Sincerely,
ORDINARY BOY.

P. S.—Not so much of a boy either. My hands are feeble with age and writing is hard for me.

Thanks, Friend. I'm glad you wrote. Ordinary Girl is going to pull through. I just KNOW it.

"Two Distracted Ones" were LOVESICK, SILLY, FLIGHTY 16-year-old children who were wildly in love with a couple o' sheiks who met 'em on corners and proposed. Yes, Gang, proposed. Now these two babies used to kiss Ma and Pa goodnight, go to bed, ostensibly, and then climb out their windows and meet the fascinating rascals of 20 around on another street.

They didn't know the first principles of playing fair and I didn't mince words in telling 'em so. Here comes a little girl who agrees with me.

Dear Jerry:

Well, Jerry, I suppose you don't know me. Well, I am a member of the Gang—at least I consider myself one. I have never written before, but I read your column in the paper every night.

I read the letter from the Two Distracted Ones and they made me so mad that I just had to write.

I am only 16 myself, and I think they are positively foolish, and they are not old enough to do as they please. In fact, people never do as they please. These two boys of 20 they speak of are only making little fools of them. They may be handsome, but what are looks, anyway? And, Jerry, dear, I agree with you when you say that they are "sneaky little yellow cheaters."

They may not think that their parents trust them, but they do. All parents trust their children. Of course they don't see anything wrong in it, because they are only babies.

And my little "checkered apron sisters," which you should be, you have plenty of time ahead of you to go to parties and dances. I do not think it awful to go to dances or parties either. I also indulge in them. If I go to a dance, my mother or father usually goes to chaperon me. I go to parties with boys, but they drive up to the door and come in and always speak to my mother and dad before we go out, and I always have a good time because I don't have to worry about what would happen if my parents should wake up and find me gone out of my bed.

Jerry, I am not an old fogie, either. Do you think so?

I came near forgetting to mention something about their thinking about marriage. These boys who meet them on corners wouldn't think of marrying them. But what they do is to go home and laugh over the crazy things those two silly little kids do. They even go so far as to tell the rest of their gang, and the girls also.

Lovingly,
JANE.

Of course I don't think you're an old fogie, but I think you're maybe wrong about the boys. Sheiks of 20 who sneak to meeting places with girls around corners would probably marry them. They're probably just as foolish and lacking in grey matter as the Two Distracted Ones.

What can a girl do if the boy she loves won't have her? Same as the boy who gets "turned down" I guess—JUST GO AHEAD WITHOUT CRYING.

Dear Jerry:

Please, may I hang myself on your tree for awhile and let some of my blues blow away?

I am a girl that attracts more attention than a circus. Sure I'm good looking and I know it. Why shouldn't I? Everyone tell me about it. I dance well, sing fairly good and I am fairly good company.

Now I'll quit bragging and get down to business. I came home the first of July, having been away for about six years. I had to get used to all my old pals all over again. 'Taint no joke, either.

Well, I met a fellow who is three years my senior, and I fell flat. What I mean is, just like a pancake. I really think he liked me, too, but one night I got my dates twisted and I couldn't explain. Now we're on the rocks.

Jerry, no kidding, I'd do anything to get him back. He comes to the house and seems friendly and all that rot, but he says he won't walk across the street with me. What can I do? Since we broke up I have been stepping out, doing most anything to keep from thinking of him. If I don't get some advice quick I'm going to the dogs.

Yep, was married once, divorced, and I want him so bad I'd almost eat worms.

Help me out. Slippin' fast.

I am. JUST TEDDY.

No foolin' Girl, I know how a busted heart feels, but I know, too, that if you're a good fighter you won't "go to the dogs." You're not the first one to have the experience of being "refused," but if we all wept over our disappointments, there'd be no need for rain.

Sounds like regular Pollyanna advice, doesn't it? But I don't mean it that way. If you're a weakling, you'll go under. If you're worth while, you'll GRIN AND WIN. Here's my hand, Girl.

Who says we don't know each other in these columns? Not I. I feel as though I were personally acquainted with most of the Gang who write, and here is another woman who feels the same way.

Dearest Jerry:

My hat's off to Cyclone Sal. Say, but she is great. It was encouraging to read her letter.

I have lived here four months, and Jerry, outside of "Good morning, "Nice day," that's all I know of my neighbors.

I hung up clothes, looked in mail box, sunned myself on the porch, but alas, they don't see me.

Would be glad to serve fruit cake and coffee, tea or chocolate to anyone of them. My house is not "open for inspection" at all times, but Jerry, the "Welcome" is turned upon my doormat.

As for Home Lover, Jerry, she shouldn't give her baby a bath right after breakfast, and a two-year-old should not have a bottle.

It must be wonderful to have your home run like a machine. Mine looks all upset a good deal of the time, but it's CLEAN IN THE CORNERS. If I would stop to make beds and wash dishes before I started to wash clothes, the clothes wouldn't get dry. I wonder what Home Lover would do if she had three all under five, and had two very ill at the same time?

Well, Jerry, I must ring off now, as it is time to get dinner.

WHIRLWIND JEANE.

All I gotta say is this. Your neighbors don't know what they're missing. Folks get terribly busy some times, Pal, as YOU know, and maybe that accounts for seeming coldness. But once the ice is broken, and they find a helper and worker in their midst, you're going to have your hands full.

Isn't Cyclone Sal a wonder? Won't you come again and feel that the Gang, all of 'em, are your friends?

FLEDGLINGS MEETING SHEIKS ON THE QUIET

Substitute Offered For Home Life Often Proves Insufficient

There was a little girl, good looking, plenty of pocket money, attending a well known private school, who signed herself "Ordinary Girl." Her parents were "too busy" with card parties and golf to care how she grew. Their duty ended when clothes were bought and tuition paid. There were no parties or home life for "Ordinary Girl," and she turned to boys and petting and auto rides for her "fun."

But she wasn't an "ordinary girl." Behind the lines of her letter there was a heartache covered by bravado. If she hadn't had the heartache she would have slipped down the grade, but the lonesomeness showed that the worthwhile part of her nature wasn't satisfied with the substitute for home life.

Here is a word of encouragement for her.

Dear Jerry:

Please may I say a few words to little "Ordinary Girl" through your columns? This is in plain language and I hope it will be taken in the spirit in which it is written.

Please, oh please, little girl, don't throw your young life away for men that are only "men" to you. Experience is a bitter teacher, a cruel one that we all turn to. You are learning the lessons of life from this teacher. Will these so-called petting parties always have the same thrill? If not, where, then, will you turn? Watch your step, little kid. Your parents are hopeless, but why not make the best of life with the things it does afford you? Your parents will most likely send you to college, so why not get in and surprise them by finishing school at an early age?

At college you will find your vocation perhaps. Somewhere in your heart you have a hidden talent for music, or art, perhaps. Discover it and develop it; lift your mind to the greater heights.

Goodbye, little girl. May God bless you and protect you, and you, too, Jerry. A thousand blessings. May your good work continue.

Sincerely,
ORDINARY BOY.

P. S.—Not so much of a boy either. My hands are feeble with age and writing is hard for me.

Thanks, Friend. I'm glad you wrote. Ordinary Girl is going to pull through. I just KNOW it.

"Two Distracted Ones" were LOVESICK, SILLY, FLIGHTY 16-year-old children who were wildly in love with a couple o' sheiks who met 'em on corners and proposed. Yes, Gang, proposed. Now these two babies used to kiss Ma and Pa goodnight, go to bed, ostensibly, and then climb out their windows and meet the fascinating rascals of 20 around on another street.

They didn't know the first principles of playing fair and I didn't mince words in telling 'em so. Here comes a little girl who agrees with me.

Dear Jerry:

Well, Jerry, I suppose you don't know me. Well, I am a member of the Gang—at least I consider myself one. I have never written before, but I read your column in the paper every night.

I read the letter from the Two Distracted Ones and they made me so mad that I just had to write.

I am only 16 myself, and I think they are positively foolish, and they are not old enough to do as they please. In fact, people never do as they please. These two boys of 20 they speak of are only making little fools of them. They may be handsome, but what are looks, anyway? And, Jerry, dear, I agree with you when you say that they are "sneaky little yellow cheaters."

They may not think that their parents trust them, but they do. All parents trust their children. Of course they don't see anything wrong in it, because they are only babies.

And my little "checkered apron sisters," which you should be, you have plenty of time ahead of you to go to parties and dances. I do not think it awful to go to dances or parties either. I also indulge in them. If I go to a dance, my mother or father usually goes to chaperon me. I go to parties with boys, but they drive up to the door and come in and always speak to my mother and dad before we go out, and I always have a good time because I don't have to worry about what would happen if my parents should wake up and find me gone out of my bed.

Jerry, I am not an old fogie, either. Do you think so?

I came near forgetting to mention something about their thinking about marriage. These boys who meet them on corners wouldn't think of marrying them. But what they do is to go home and laugh over the crazy things those two silly little kids do. They even go so far as to tell the rest of their gang, and the girls also.

Lovingly,
JANE.

Of course I don't think you're an old fogie, but I think you're maybe wrong about the boys. Sheiks of 20 who sneak to meeting places with girls around corners would probably marry them. They're probably just as foolish and lacking in grey matter as the Two Distracted Ones.

What can a girl do if the boy she loves won't have her? Same as the boy who gets "turned down" I guess—JUST GO AHEAD WITHOUT CRYING.

Dear Jerry:

Please, may I hang myself on your tree for awhile and let some of my blues blow away?

I am a girl that attracts more attention than a circus. Sure I'm good looking and I know it. Why shouldn't I? Everyone tell me about it. I dance well, sing fairly good and I am fairly good company.

Now I'll quit bragging and get down to business. I came home the first of July, having been away for about six years. I had to get used to all my old pals all over again. 'Taint no joke, either.

Well, I met a fellow who is three years my senior, and I fell flat. What I mean is, just like a pancake. I really think he liked me, too, but one night I got my dates twisted and I couldn't explain. Now we're on the rocks.

Jerry, no kidding, I'd do anything to get him back. He comes to the house and seems friendly and all that rot, but he says he won't walk across the street with me. What can I do? Since we broke up I have been stepping out, doing most anything to keep from thinking of him. If I don't get some advice quick I'm going to the dogs.

Yep, was married once, divorced, and I want him so bad I'd almost eat worms.

Help me out. Slippin' fast.

I am. JUST TEDDY.

No foolin' Girl, I know how a busted heart feels, but I know, too, that if you're a good fighter you won't "go to the dogs." You're not the first one to have the experience of being "refused," but if we all wept over our disappointments, there'd be no need for rain.

Sounds like regular Pollyanna advice, doesn't it? But I don't mean it that way. If you're a weakling, you'll go under. If you're worth while, you'll GRIN AND WIN. Here's my hand, Girl.

Who says we don't know each other in these columns? Not I. I feel as though I were personally acquainted with most of the Gang who write, and here is another woman who feels the same way.

Dearest Jerry:

My hat's off to Cyclone Sal. Say, but she is great. It was encouraging to read her letter.

I have lived here four months, and Jerry, outside of "Good morning, "Nice day," that's all I know of my neighbors.

I hung up clothes, looked in mail box, sunned myself on the porch, but alas, they don't see me.

Would be glad to serve fruit cake and coffee, tea or chocolate to anyone of them. My house is not "open for inspection" at all times, but Jerry, the "Welcome" is turned upon my doormat.

As for Home Lover, Jerry, she shouldn't give her baby a bath right after breakfast, and a two-year-old should not have a bottle.

It must be wonderful to have your home run like a machine. Mine looks all upset a good deal of the time, but it's CLEAN IN THE CORNERS. If I would stop to make beds and wash dishes before I started to wash clothes, the clothes wouldn't get dry. I wonder what Home Lover would do if she had three all under five, and had two very ill at the same time?

Well, Jerry, I must ring off now, as it is time to get dinner.

WHIRLWIND JEANE.

All I gotta say is this. Your neighbors don't know what they're missing. Folks get terribly busy some times, Pal, as YOU know, and maybe that accounts for seeming coldness. But once the ice is broken, and they find a helper and worker in their midst, you're going to have your hands full.

JERRY SAYS

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

By Mildred Marshall

KATHLEEN, KITTY AND KATE.

Kathleen, Kitty and Kate are names of individual charm, yet they spring from Katherine and are really only translations, diminutives, and contractions of that most popular of feminine names. No name is more universal than Katherine and her various derivatives, partly from beauty of sound and partly from association.

The graceful Kathleen originated in Ireland, after Katherine had become established in England. It is an adaptation of the old Ossianic Cathlin, meaning the "beam of the wave," and the name given to one of the stars.

Kitty and Kate are old English names, which stand on their own merits as individual names and are frequently given baptism. Katie is the Scotch adaptation. Catherine, belonging absolutely to England, has even produced a masculine counterpart: Catherin. Catherin Davita, the famous historian, was so-called since he was unfortunate enough to have Catherine de Medici for his grandmother.

In Italy, Santa Caterina is a term of endearment for an old maid. Many hills have been named after Catherine, the Vocaress of Sienna, and Ekaterinenburg was so-called in honor of the Russian empress.

In France the name is Catherine, Catherina, Cecon, and Trinette. In Spain, we have Caroline, Caterina is Italian, and Katherine, Katherien, Kate and Trina are Teutonic, Kathlyn is Russian, and Katrina and Kollas are Swedish. The Slowak adaptation is Katrina.

The talisman is gem assigned to Katherine and her derivatives is the moss agate which promises a bold heart and freedom from danger to its wearer. It is an excellent amulet to be worn by travelers and signifies a journey when it is the subject of a dream. Tuesday is Katherine's lucky day and 2 her lucky number.

Waller's charming poem, "Kitty Neil," is familiar to everyone:

"Sweet Kate! who could view your bright eyes of blue,
Beaming humidly through their dark lashes so mildly—
Your fair-turned arm, heaving breast, rounded form—
Nor feel his heart warm, and his pulses throb wildly?"

My Husband's Love

Adele Garrison's New Phase Of Revelations of a Wife

IS THERE SOMETHING JIM WISHES TO TELL MADGE ALONE?

It was my flashlight whose rays found Jim first, and though the light from Katie's played upon his bound figure but a few seconds later, I had time to clap my hand over her mouth and silence the terrified scream which tore from her throat at the sight of her husband.

"Keep quiet," I muttered sternly. "He isn't hurt, I'm sure, but you don't know who may be near us."

"I be so good," she whispered humbly, "ef you shoost let me go by my man."

"Of course, silly," I whispered back. "Put out the flashlight, keep close to me and don't utter a sound."

"I not breathe, me," she promised earnestly, and in the darkness we groped our way toward Jim.

I fumbled first with the gag, and found that it had been so carelessly tied that its removal was an easy thing.

"Don't try to speak, Jim, for a little," I warned in a whisper. "Let the stiffness wear away from your mouth first. Katie, spread your coat over Jim's hands and hold your flashlight under it, so that I can see what I am doing."

She obeyed me scrupulously, and I set to work on the securely-knotted bonds. It was a tedious task, and Katie's sense of deference was not proof against the feminine instinct to say, "I told you so."

JIM IS ODDLY EXCITED.

"Maybe you wish now you had dot beeg knife you made me put down—no?—yes?" she whispered slyly.

Jim saved me the admission I would have felt bound to make. From his stiffened lips came the one word explosively:

"Pocket!"

I grasped his meaning at once, but it was several seconds afterward that I realized he had almost shouted the word, taking no precaution against being overheard.

"Look in his pockets, Katie," I said quickly. "I think he has a knife there."

"I know eet," she answered, handing me the flashlight and rummaging through the pockets of her spouse. "I beeg fool no tink of dot before. Here eet is."

She held up her hand triumphantly, and the next moment, with the aid of her strong teeth, had opened the blade. But she did no hand the knife to me.

"You better hold coat und flash light, let me cut," she said uneasily but authoritatively. "I mor used to knife like dees."

"You are right, Katie," I assented readily. Within a few second she skillfully had cut the bond confining Jim's wrists and ankles and with both of us helping him, he got up to his feet, staggered a bit and then spoke, slowly as is his wont, but with no marked effects of the treatment to which he had been subjected.

"I'm all right," he assured us, and I knew by his voice that he was speaking the truth.

But there was a suppressed excitement in his tone, foreign indeed to stolid Jim, and something awkward, indefinable in his manner as he moved forward with Katie's arm underneath his—she persisted in the delusion that he could not walk without her aid—gave me a sudden little intuition that his excitement concerned me in some manner, and that he was only waiting Katie's temporary absence to tell me about it.

"WHAT'S THAT?"

Katie had no intention of being absent for some time to come, however. Her anxiety for Jim's safety allayed, she was ready to indulge her cinema-led soul with all the thrills to be gleamed from the situation.

"Jeem! Jeem!" she pleaded in a stage whisper. "Did dot bootlegger get away?"

"He sure did," Jim replied in ordinary tones, "clean as a whistle."

"Hush-h!" Katie warned dramatically. "Maybe somebody hear."

"The whole world can hear now," Jim returned a bit despondently. "The fellow's gone, and the man——"

He stopped short, went back laconically.

"The fellow's gone a long ways by now, and there's nobody else around to hear, so there is no use whispering."

"The trooper didn't pass your way then?" I asked.

Jim was unconscionably long in answering, I thought.

"Ye-es," he said at last, "but what's that?"

CARE OF OVERSHOES.

One mother says:

The care of rubbers becomes quite a burden in a large family. I have found it most convenient to hang them from hooks on the back porch, each child having his own hook with his initials above it. I made a loop of black tape for each rubber, which could be tucked inside when the rubbers were on. When not in use the rubbers were kept together very easily and the porch floor was relieved of muddy tracks.

THE SNAKE WITH THE GLASS EYE.

One day there was a great commotion in the Palace of the King. His daughter, Dorothy, had disappeared, though how nobody could tell except one and that was a snake with a glass eye. The snake was brought to court and made to tell where Dorothy was. The snake said that he would tell where she was, provided he would give his kingdom to him.

The King knew that the snake was requiring too much of a sacrifice from him, but he only said, "For the sake of my daughter, I will do it."

"Come, that is sensible," said the snake. "Go down to the lake and you will see something shiny on the bottom of the lake. That is my eye which fish poked out about two years ago. In some way or other I could never get it out. That is how I came to have this glass eye. If you get it out for me I will give you your daughter."

The King with one of his faithful attendant set out on the journey to recover his daughter. When he got to the lake he saw nothing of the eye. He kept on looking for about an hour, when something strange happened. Out of the water jumped a strange creature which the King had never seen before. "My name," said the creature, "is Flyaway, and I know what you are hunting for." "What?" asked the King. "You are looking for my friend, the snake's eye. He sent me here to help you hunt for it, for he said that you could never find it without me," said Flyaway. "Wait here a minute, please." He dove down under the water, and finally came up bearing the eye in his mouth. The King was so overjoyed that he could hardly hold himself. He thanked the fish and was turning away to go home, when a surprise awaited him. There, instead of the fish, stood his own daughter. She told the King how the snake had changed her into a fish and bade her go away and that she would never be changed back into her real form until he should send her father for his eye.

The snake was so overjoyed to get his eye back that he gave the King the kingdom back. There the King and his daughter lived happily for the rest of their lives.

"THE VISION."

CHAPTER I.
Freddie's Childhood.

Little Freddie Barker's mother was a widow. She taught her little son to believe in God and to say his prayers. Mrs. Barker was poor, ill, and weak. Still she did not give up hope for her small son of two years.

They lived in North Dakota.

Mrs. Barker would watch with pride upon her small Freddie. Even though only two years of age, he showed his strong little body and physical condition.

She loved to hear him say his little prayer: "Dear Tod, peas hes ever body, and hep me to be tood."

As he grew older Mrs. Barker took more and more pride in him.

When Freddie was nine years of age, his mother suddenly took very ill. It was Christmas eve. She grew worse. Between gasping breaths she told him to go to the nearest neighbor, who was five miles away.

Freddie started bravely late in the afternoon. It looked like it was going to snow. But as he was very strong, if he hurried he would arrive before the storm broke.

CHAPTER II.
"The Vision."

He had covered not half when it began to snow. Lightly at first, then in a few minutes it was a raging blizzard.

Freddie kept on. The snow stung his face. His feet and hands began to grow numb and cold. He started to run, because he knew if he did not he would freeze.

Then it seemed as if the world was all a huge mass of hurling snow.

Suddenly he knew he was lost. Wandering aimlessly. Then he fell down. The world went black. Then—a light! Was that a light? Yes! Angels beautiful angels—crowded around. There in a manger lay a beautiful baby—a holy light around his head. In a stable with a donkey and a cow. The three wise men—and the angels singing, "Peace on earth: good will to men. The babe smiled—yes, smiled—upon the world.

CHAPTER III.
The Neighbor's House.

Freddie came to himself with a start. Where was he? In this world so white. T' a be remembered. He tried to go on, but fell back with a groan. His left ankle was half frozen. He found a stick and went on. Then he saw the light from the neighbor's window through the snow. He went nearer. The light shone from the window. He peeped into the room.

Freddie went to the door. He fell against it. Someone opened the door. Then he heard a voice say, "It is the Widow Barker's son. Something's the matter." He knew no more.

CHAPTER IV.
The Awakening.

When Freddie awoke he found himself in a warm bed, his mother bending over him, saying in a soft voice: "Freddie, my brave, brave boy." Freddie felt himself clasped in his mother's arms. He fell asleep, to dream of the wonderful vision.

THE PICTURE

There's nothing behind it but the wall;
And in front there's nothing at all;
It hangs up there upon the wall;
To get it you would likely fall;
To do the picture you need oil, icky and a scrape;
The first thing you know its a landscape;
Now that I told you all I know,
You can go to bed and let the wind blow.

My BED.

The little bed in which I lay
Is made entirely of nice yellow hay.
It's right by the window where I can look out,
And watch the people walking about.
I see the steeples and rooftops in the distance,
Take the Catholic church for instance.
I see this entirely from my bed.
So that is all that is to be said.

A DESCRIPTION.

The cold gray fog bound morn was coming on.
No noise could be heard.
The fog was raising but still it was cold.
In the distance could be made out the village with all its steeples.
Piercing the sky with its highness,
The people were just taking off the shutters on the doors of stores,
It was a cold gray weird fog-bound morning in December.

GAN LEE.

Richard Seige lived in England. This was in the time of William the Conqueror.

One day as Richard was taking a walk he saw a dreadful sight, for six robbers were going to kill a man. Richard layed at them with his great battle ax. The robbers fled, for they knew him to be a great fighter.

The man whom Richard had rescued nearly fainted. The man said his name was Louis Lain.

Two years passed. Richard and Louis became faithful friends.

One day Richard said to Louis: "Say, Louis, let's go hunting." Louis said, "Sure." They soon were in the forest. They passed a cave. They went in and saw the bones of a dragon. They went in a door and saw a two big boxes. These they took home on their horses. When they got home they had a bad time opening the boxes but they got the boxes open. The boxes had jewels of a queen. They became rich as kings.

A POOR BOY.

Once there was a poor boy and his name was Tom. Tom was 14 years old. His father was dead, but his mother was living. One morning they had nothing to eat. They had no money to buy any food, so they did not know what to do. Tom said, "Mother, can I go down town?" Tom's mother said, "Why do you want to go down town?" "Well," said Tom, "I saw a sign on a post the other day and it said that a girl, 14 years old, was missing and the one who could find her would get a good reward from a rich man.' so then Tom's mother thought it over and then she said, "Well, you must get a pistol and a package of bullets because you might get caught yourself." So then Tom got his pistol and bullets and all the things he needed.

So the next morning he started on his way. He headed for the mountains. Soon as he reached them he took a rest. He then ate a little food. Then he started on his way again. He walked about ten feet when he heard a whispering voice saying, "Here, grab her!" Tom went to see what it was, but he didn't see anything. He pulled up a clump and saw a big hole big enough for him to go through. So he went down the hole and he saw a big bird leading him about fifty feet long. He saw a door which said "Danger!" He then opened it and saw two angry lions, so then he shut the door again and went to the next, which said "Private!" So he went in and saw a bag of gems on the bag was writing, which said "First National Bank." So he packed it up and brung it with him. He went to the other door. It said "Keep out!" He went in and saw the girl, so he told the girl that he was looking for her. He brought her home and her parents were glad to see her. So the girl gave Tom $10,000 reward and Tom thanked her. Tom went home to his mother and they lived happily ever after.

MY GHOST HAUNT.

Three years ago from last Hallowe'en I came to the Ghost Haunt and this is how it happened: Hallowe'en eve, 1910 A. D., I was across a large lake for that had many sassafras trees on it when I came upon a straight path through the sassafras trees. The moon was directly behind me, so I started to run. I tripped and fell in a big hole that was covered with leaves and twigs. I fell fast and slow. First I fell very fast, then very slow. When I fell slow I saw counters with candy, ice cream, cakes, pop, pink lemonade and peanuts. Since nobody was there, I helped myself. At last I came to a shelf that had a trunk on it. I went a little farther and reached the bottom. There was a still larger trunk there. I climbed up to the first trunk. I opened it and saw a George Washington suit in it. I put it on and then climbed down to the other trunk. I opened it and saw some steps. I climbed in and went down the steps till I came to a long hall. It had a lot of doors in it and on a chest were a lot of keys and but one door. I looked at a door. I looked my wondering what to do and there I saw a door in the ceiling. I jumped up and got a hold of the door knob. Seeing I could not open it by kicking on the door knob, I dropped. Next I stretched two of the keys and used them for stilts. Well, after I got through the door I found myself in another hall. I ran down it till I came to a door. I took the next littlest key from the bunch and opened the door. A ghost confronted me and took all but the two littlest keys from me. Then the ghost asked me, "Where are the two biggest keys?" "In the corner of the bigger hall; I used 'em for stilts," I said, with my knees knocking. "Ho, Ho!" said a voice in my ear. I turned and there was Captain Kidd in full pirate regalia. "He, Ho! come and see my friends." Captain Kidd led me into another room and there I met George and Martha Washington (the greatest of all Dutch Governors in the Dutch colonies, John Silver and his shipmates and oh! a couple hundred of other people, many of them I read about. Lorna Doone and I became great friends and we had an uproarious time. Midnight came and we all trooped out to have our fun with the earth people. Some had flying horses; others had brooms and the pirates rode in boats. I rode on a flying horse. I had some wax in my pockets and I waxed all the skylights. We did a whole lot of mischief, but did not damage anything, though we caused a rich man to break a thousand dollar vase by putting it on a chair and put it in his way and the man knocked over the chair and broke the vase. In the midst of our fun the cock crowed and I found myself in bed.

I go to the Ghost's Haunt every year on Hallowe'en night and New Year's Day. I have the two smaller keys for the doors so I can go without any trouble. If I try and find it any other day except the two I mentioned the hole is covered up.

Columbus was born in Oakland, Calif. He was the first man to sail on Lake Erie in Africa.

But Columbus was not the kind of man that used to use his own money to used to use others. Even though he had the most money of the time he asked John D. Rockefeller for some dough. He was the richest man in the world that was that. He also proved that there were great sea monsters.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps the intestine clean—and purifies it. It drives out the poisons which undermine your children's health. It makes the bowels function regularly and naturally.

for Making PIE CRUST

Snowdrift

SNOWDRIFT—a pure, rich, creamy cooking fat—is made by the Wesson Oil people out of oil as good as a fine salad oil. (You need oil that's good to eat to make cooking fat as good as cooking fat can be.) Then Snowdrift is packed in a truly air-tight bucket (air-tight—but as easy to open as winding the clock) to keep it as sweet and fresh as the day it was made—sweet and fresh all the way down to the bottom of the bucket.

Using Snowdrift in your own favorite recipe is the best way to find out how good Snowdrift is. Remember to add salt because Snowdrift is sweet, fresh, and unsalted.

KATE BREW VAUGHN'S recipe for PIE CRUST

1¼ cupfuls flour
⅓ cupful Snowdrift
Ice water sufficient to make a dough
½ teaspoonful salt
Cup the Snowdrift into the flour with silver knives and add ice water to make a dough. Roll the dough out. Dot over with Snowdrift, fold several times, and roll out again. Line pans and cover with the same. Crust for pie should be about a quarter inch thick and rolled larger than pans to allow for shrinkage. Perforate top crusts to allow steam to escape.

ARIZONA AND CALIFORNIA BASKET TEAMS MEET TONIGHT

STANFORD DEFEATS NEVADA IN FIRST GAME, 28 TO 13; ST. MARY'S VICTORS OVER Y. M. I.

Wildcat Five Arrives Late; Play Tonight

Coach Stanley's Men Missed Connections; Should Give Bears Hard Game.

By DOUG MONTELL.

Missing connections somewhere between Oakland and Southern California, the University of Arizona basketball team, which was due to have arrived in our midst last night, failed to put in an appearance and did not arrive until early this morning.

The change in arrival has not in any way upset the plans for the two-game series, which opens tonight at the Oakland Auditorium against the University of California hoopsters and basketball fans, who have been looking forward to the coming of the Wildcats, will have their patience rewarded.

Everything points to as fast an article of basketball as any seen this season. Coach "Chick" Stanley, while not claiming a world's championship for his team, stoutly maintains that if the brand of basketball played by the University of California is no better than that shown by the Bears a year ago, that his team has better than even chances of taking both games of the series.

ARE SELF-CONFIDENT.

Nothing like self-confidence at that, and the visiting Wildcats have an abundance of faith in their own ability to swamp any basketball team west of the Rockies.

Arizona more than gave Whittier College a trimming Wednesday night by a score of 47 to 12, while California failed to beat the Poets by a score out of the 20 column, winning 29-20.

An air of mystery pervades the Arizona squad, Stanley being silent as to the type of game played, noncommital as to the stars and in general making the Wildcats more "unknown" than they figure to be.

By a glance at the results of the previous games, it is seen that three men will bear the brunt of the Arizona offensive work tonight, Patten, Tovrea and Lester, while on defense a thoroughly grounded system of five-man defense will be employed.

Lester, making his appearance here after an absence of nearly a year, since leaving St. Mary's College, will show local fans far greater ability than he ever did while performing for the local college, according to Stanley.

TOVREA IS STAR.

Likewise Tovrea, captain of the Arizona quintet, and one of the leading forwards of the southwest, is a man who will bear close watching, a deadshot from outside the free throw line. Bob Thomas will do the honors at running guard in tonight's game, with Clark slated to hold down the fort as standing guard.

California will be a problem at the outset. Although Talt is almost of no value as a point scorer this year, Coach Wight continues to start him at the forward position in nearly every game, with Huovenin as his slated running mate tonight.

Higgins is slated for center, with Belasco having the nod over Kyte for running guard, and Kincaid at his position as standing guard.

Tonight's game will start promptly at 8 o'clock at the local Auditorium, the results to be broadcasted by TRIBUNE KLX radio between 9 and 10 o'clock.

The line-ups:

CALIFORNIA	POS.	ARIZONA
Huovenin	Fwd.	Patten
Talt	Fwd.	Lester
Higgins	Center.	Patten
Belasco	Guard.	Clark
Kincaid	Guard.	Thomas

The horse's total purse and stake winnings reach $248,456, close to the mark of $249,465 made by Man o' War when he was retired.

Canadians to Meet Yanks in Hockey Finals

Maple Leaf Aggregation Defeats England 19-2; U. S. Wins From Sweden.

CHAMONIX, Feb. 1.—The American hockey team defeated Sweden 29 to 0, in their semi-final Olympic match here today. The United States thus earns the right to meet the Canadians in the final.

Canada's great hockey team became a finalist for the Olympic championship here this morning by defeating England, 19 to 2, in the first of the semi-final matches.

Being the heavy favorite for the championship, the victory of the Canadians over England was expected but there was some great surprise when the English were able to score two goals.

It was the first time in the championship tournament that the Canadians had been scored on.

Their total today indicated a strenuous game when Canada and the United States meet, the Americans scoring a 11-0 victory over the British yesterday.

Johnny Carleton of Hanover, N. H., famous as a ski jumper a Dartmouth College several years ago, was painfully injured in a fall on the Olympic ski jump today, badly spraining his left arm and having his left eye completely closed. Carleton is now an American Rhodes scholar at Oxford. The accident served to confirm statements by the various contestants that the ski jump here is unsafe for competition. Asked his opinion on this subject, Carleton said: "It is nothing less than a man-killer."

Saints Will Open February Schedule

The Saint Mary's baseball varsity will start its February schedule tomorrow afternoon against the M. J. B.'s. Gasso has been concentrating all week on batting practice and expects his charges to show a notable improvement in this line from now on. The heavy hitters of the Saint Mary's squad have failed to connect with the ball this year, but Gasso expects them to come out of their slump and to stay out of it for the remainder of the season.

Hugo Bocchi, Harrington, Mascarelli and Lucchesi are natural batters and should be the best of the season, which has compared favorably with last year. When these players get going as they should, the Saints will be a formidable team for any opponents they have been booked to play.

Espinosa Criticises Southern Golf Course

SEATTLE, Feb. 1.—Home today from Los Angeles where he played in the recent California open golf championship tournament on the links of the Los Angeles Country Club, Al Espinosa, professional at the Inglewood Golf Club of this city, criticised the seventeenth hole of the southern course with the cup placed as it was in the first two days of the competition. Espinosa said that the green is 110 yards from the tee for this hole, and is guarded in front by a deep barranca or gulch, with a trap on the far side and a hill rising beyond that.

Secretary of White Sox to Take the Stand

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 1.—Harry Grabiner, secretary of the Chicago White Sox, is expected to take the stand this morning in the trial of Joe Jackson's suit against the Chicago club for $18,500 alleged to be due to him on two years of his three year contract, which he had at the time he was discharged from the club, following the expose of the 1919 world's series "scandal."

The contract on which Jackson is suing was negotiated by Grabiner with Jackson in Savannah, Ga., in February, 1920. It was for three years at $8000 a year. Jackson testified yesterday Grabiner represented that there was no ten day clause in it, that he was unable to read and signed the contract upon Grabiner's representation.

Jackson testified further that Grabiner told him the Chicago club knew "you received $5000 from Lefty Williams," but knew he had played his best.

GOLF

By W. D. McNICOLL.

Municipal links in every city invariably furnish the humorous side of golf, and the Oakland municipal at Lake Chabot are no exception to the rule. George Anderson records the following incident as having taken place at the first hole:

Two women golfers, obviously beginners, each with a complete set of clubs which they used without discrimination in their endeavor to propel the ball towards the first green, finally arrived there and seated disconcerted. Anderson and his party were following close behind and arrived in time to hear one of the players say to her companion: "I'm sure it must be here somewhere because he told me there was one at every green, but I have looked everywhere and can not find a cup to put the ball in."

At the Berkeley golf and country club yesterday about sixteen women golfers competed in the regular monthly invitational sweepstake tournament over 18 holes. The course during the earlier part of the day was enveloped in a dense fog which occasionally dispersed at various points on the course. During the progress of the game the sun finally emerged and a delightful afternoon's golf was enjoyed by the members and guests.

Mrs. C. R. Kruse, who usually medals the course in the nineties, did remarkably well to negotiate the course in the low gross score of 104, her handicap of 18 gave her a net score of 86.

In the class A players' section, Mrs. Wilson S. Hatch had low net with a score of 115-18-100, while another member, Mrs. G. L. Parmenter, assisted by local knowledge, was able to locate the greens more accurately and won the low net prize in the class B contest with a score of 120-30-90.

The winners' scores were as follows:

Mrs. C. R. Kruse, 104-18-86, low gross.

Mrs. Wilson S. Hatch, 115-18-100, low net class A.

Mrs. G. L. Parmenter, 120-30-90, low net class B.

Tennis teams from Harvard, Princeton, Yale and other American colleges will go to England next year to play a series of matches with Oxford, Cambridge and various British tennis clubs.

Cards Swamp Nevada Quint In First Game

Captain "Nip" McHose the Bright Star of Stanford's 28-13 Victory.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 1.—The Wolf Pack of the University of Nevada were outplayed by Coach Andy Kerr's Stanford Cardinals by a score of 28 to 12, in the first game of a two game series here last night in a game which lacked many of the expected thrills.

The effect of the two games against the California Bears earlier in the week told on Coach Martie's Nevadans and last night, although they stepped fast for the first ten minutes, they appeared dead on their feet and Stanford had no difficulty eluding their mid-court defensive line and dribbling under the basket.

The only thing which tended to keep the score to as low a figure as it stood at the final gun were the baskets missed by Andy Kerr's team.

CARDS TOOK LEAD.

Stanford took the lead from the outset and were never headed. Captain McHose put the Cardinal pennant at the top where he caged two free throws following a foul committed early in the game. From here on Stanford always out in front.

The stubborn Nevada defense, which marked their play against California, held good against the Card attack for twelve minutes of play. It remained for McHose to loop the first field goal, a long arc shot, after that length of time had elapsed and by halftime the Stanford team was leading 10 to 2.

Arandall, who replaced Hobbs at guard for Nevada shortly before the end of the first period, looped the only field goal scored by the Wolf Pack in the opening half and saved being blanked.

McHOSE WAS STAR.

In the second half McHose was once more a shining light for the winners, his floor work being the best seen this season on the local pavilion floor, while his shooting improved. The Cardinal skipper led the men of both teams in scoring with a count of 15, while Steele was second high with 6.

The two teams meet again tomorrow night in the second game of the series.

In the preliminary game last night the Stanford 130-pound basketballers coached by "Tiny" Thornhill, lost a 10 to 6 decision to the San Mateo high school 130-pound team.

The line-ups:

Stanford (28)	Pos	Nevada (13)
McHose (15)	Forward	Fredricks (2)
Nevers (4)	Forward	Hainor (2)
Steele (6)	Center	Harrison (2)
McBurney	Guard	Hall
Olivia (1)	Guard	Goodale (2)

Substitutes—Stanford: Alexander (2), Nevada: Arandall (2).

The Sport Crucible

YOUR DICE, MR. WRIGLEY

In view of the fact that the ball club is backed by the Wrigley millions, it is more than passing strange that the Chicago Cubs have made little effort to keep step with the Giants in the matter of minor league purchases. A great plenty has been spent since Wrigley came into baseball—$500,000 for his controlling interest, $250,000 for the renovation of the ball park, $300,000 for the Los Angeles franchise and a cool million for Catalina Island, where the Cubs train—but the outlay for new players has been comparatively light. Wrigley seems to think more of his ball park than of the club itself. In other words, millions for the fence, but not one cent for human bric-a-brac. At that, the Cubs have done pretty well with young players who have come up without furor or fanfare.

BEDTIME STORY

Once upon a time there was a boxer who fought every day in the month at the rate of $1 a day. He was caught in the draft.

Quite a few fans may go out to the ball park to see Heinie Groh, but the little fellow never does.

The following slogan has been adopted by the Volstead Society for the Preservation of Lemonade: The Scofflaw Shall Not Wring Tonight. "Obviously," remarked the official announcement, "no scofflaw can wring or be wrung with any degree of accuracy unless thoroughly moist. We intend to see that he shall be kept in a cool, dry place."

DIDST?

Didst ever start to take and cart
Your troubles out before your friends?
With vast distaste, unseemly haste,
They'll quit you cold without amends.

Didst ever slip your hand toward hip,
A gesture fraught with consequence?
With mouths agape, as you escape,
They'll chase you over yonder fence.

It is noted that Battling Siki, the open-at-the-throat model from the African jungles, is a consistent loser as he descends the fistic ladder, rung by rung and bum by bum. Perhaps he never amounted to anything, yet the fact remains that he was a world's champion twelve months ago and cannot hold his own with third-raters now. Absinthe makes the fist go wander.

GROGGY BUT GAME

A Japanese engineering firm has written to officials of the New York Yankees asking for blue print plans of the Yankee Stadium, the largest and most commodious ball park in the country. It is the intention of the Japanese to erect a similar structure at Kobe. This might sound like so much hokum, garnished with apple sauce, if it wasn't for the fact that it is the same nation that took up lawn tennis in an odd moment, produced Kumagae and Shimizu, and in a few years was contesting America's possession of the Davis Cup in the challenge round, after all other nationos were eliminated. Only a nation of this kind could think in terms of sport stadiums with the country just staggering to its economic feet from the effects of a great earthquake.

Alexa Sterling To Compete in Del Monte Event

DEL MONTE, Feb. 1.—Miss Alexa Sterling, national golf champion in 1920, will compete in the Pebble Beach women's golf championship, February 15, 16 and 17, according to definite word received here.

Edith Cummings, present national champion; Marion Hollins, national champion in 1921, and Rosamund Sherwood, captain of the American international team in 1923, are already on their way to the coast and are expected to arrive in San Francisco February 5. They plan to practice on bay city courses before coming to Del Monte.

A telegram received here today indicated that Mrs. Fred C. Letis Jr., Chicago, and Miss Glenna Collett may also take part in the tournament.

Other entries include Mrs. Charles F. Ford, San Francisco city champion; Mrs. Emil Sutro, San Francisco; Mrs. Alice Habbard and Mrs. H. D. Hammond, Los Angeles; Doreen Kavanagh, present state champion; Margaret Cameron, Mary Browne, Mrs. Luther Kennett and Miss Louise Pike, all of Southern California. Mrs. H. G. Hutchings of Winnipeg, former Pacific northwest champion, will represent Canada at the tournament.

Last Night's fight results

NEW YORK, Feb. 1. — John Mendelsohn of Milwaukee, and Herb Bodie, of New York, fought 12 fast rounds to a draw last night.

AMARILLO, Texas, Feb. 1. — Donald Greer of Lawton, Okla., was given a decision by newspaper men over Wildcat Monte of Amarillo in a ten-round bout here last night.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 1. — "Chick" Roach of San Francisco got a decision over Mason Griffin of San Jose after four rounds of boxing here last night. Stanley O'Day won the first round over Timothy Callahan. Tim Vahey and George Gilmore, and "Steamboat" Morgan and Mike Bailey were awarded a draw decision in their fights; Joe Powell got the decision from Jack McCarthy and Al McCoy was given the decision over Al Andrews.

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 1. — Frankie Farren of San Francisco last night defeated Johnny Trambitas of Portland in a sensational six-round match billed for the championship of the Pacific coast at 135 pounds. Farren scored two nine-count knockdowns in the second round and knocked Trambitas down again in the third, but Trambitas came back in the final three rounds in a thrilling but futile attempt to even the match, although he won the closing rounds.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 1.—Joe Lohmaan of Toledo outpointed Battling Siki, singular Senegalese, in their ten-round contest here last night, according to newspaper men.

California Tennis Prospects Bright

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 1.—Although the tennis teams to represent the University of California for this season have not as yet been picked, prospects for the banner team to represent the university are bright. The racquet squad is captained by Phil Bettens and managed by Frank Dunne.

Both the varsity and freshman teams have plenty of material to work with and promise to make stellar combinations.

The challenge rounds of the California net season will start February 4 and teams will be selected from the winners of these matches to represent California in the Stanford contests in April.

Saints Beat Y. M. I. Five In Slow Game

Transbay Clubmen Unable to Maintain Place; Lawless Is High Scorer.

Bowing before the superior teamwork of Coach "Slip" Madigan's St. Mary's College collegians, the Y. M. I. quintet of San Francisco last night lost the verdict by a score of 31 to 14 on their home floor.

The two teams started off at a fast clip, both playing offensive ball at the sacrifice of close defense in an effort to get a lead. The Saints were by far the most successful in this style of play, the shooting of all members of the team baffling the Y. M. I. quintet, who were forced to rely on the ability of Bailly to cage all their shots.

Keeping Bailly under close observation in the second half the St. Mary's guards had little trouble in stifling the offensive attack of Elmer Harris' lads.

At the end of the first half St. Mary's was out in front by a score of 18 to 10, the game up to this point having been one of the best aggressive games seen on the Y. M. I. court this year.

Lawless proved too much for the slower Y. M. I. guards last night and working in a scoring combination in the forward rank with Kennedy, the local collegian was high point man for the night with 12.

The lineups:

St. Mary's (31)	Pos.	Y. M. I. (14)
Lawless (12)	Fwd.	John Begley
Kennedy (4)	Fwd.	Bailly (7)
Lorigan (4)	Center.	Schmidt (4)
Conlan (7)	Guard.	Dunn (3)
Paynter (4)	Guard.	Coghlan

Substitutes: Y. M. I.: Jas. Begley (1).

Vigorous Old Age

WHY separate youth and old age with a deep and ever-widening abyss?

The bloom of youth and the hardy, ruddy glow of Old Age—sixteen and sixty—should be separated only by the span of years and not by varying differences of physical wholesomeness.

Vigorous old age is within the grasp of all. S. S. S. brings that hale and hearty feeling back with a rush. Rich red blood is the greatest enemy of weakening, health undermining Old Age. S. S. S. builds Red Blood Cells. Rich, red blood coursing through your veins sweeps away impurities that retard the proper functioning of your system. Old Age—once a dreaded agony becomes a vigorous, enjoyable, care free time of life.

S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks—scientifically prepared and proportioned. Welcome Old Age when it comes. Be ready to withstand the attacks of diseases that follow in its wake. Meet Old Age with a hearty handshake. A handshake that speaks of well being—of a vigorous, clear thinking, red blooded constitution. S. S. S. is your best friend when Old Age is seen rounding the corner. Get a bottle and drive care and worry away. All leading drug stores carry it. The large size is the more economical.

Tilden Will Not Quit Job As a Writer

Would Rather Lose Title As Player Than Please a Couple of Officials.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH,
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1. — William T. Tilden II and the United States Lawn Tennis Association will take up the moot question of when does a tennis player cease to be a writer, if ever, at the annual meeting of the organization tomorrow afternoon. It promises to be one of the big moments of lawn tennis. Politics and blackjacks will be checked outside with the hats. Out of the melee will come the intelligence as to whether Tilden will continue to represent America as the greatest player the sport has known, or drop out of the amateur competition by request.

The meeting will be asked to decide the issue by vote. It will have placed before it the recommendation of the executive committee that after January 1 next no ranking player be allowed to write tennis articles for "pecuniary gain" under pain of losing his amateur status. The measure was and is directed at Tilden, Vincent Richards and other stars, and in the case of Tilden will most certainly result in his permanent retirement if passed.

"I will not give up my writing, no matter what happens," he told the writer recently. "If a few men at the head of the tennis association wish to legislate me out of the game, let them do so. I will not be dictated to when I know that I have done no wrong and am an amateur heart and soul. My decision on this point is final." In brief, the question of power has come to a showdown, and, according to some accounts, Tilden held the cards. The measure needs only a majority vote for passage, but it is said that a quiet, discreet canvass of the association has revealed a majority for Tilden.

The New York delegation is solidly behind the executive committee and is trying to swing New England in line with reasonable chances of success. Philadelphia and the middle Atlantic district in general have gone on record as favoring Tilden. Victory will be gained or lost, therefore, in the west and south and these sections are said to be for Tilden.

The executive committee, said to be knowingly facing defeat, held a star chamber dinner not long ago, at which peace with Tilden is alleged to have been established. If so, it is possible that an announcement to this effect may be forthcoming following the committee meeting today.

Mike Sexton Asked To Visit the Coast

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—An invitation to M. H. Sexton of Rock Island, Ill., president and head of the board of arbitration of the National Association of Professional baseball clubs, to visit the Pacific coast next summer at the expense of the Pacific Coast league, was extended yesterday by Harry A. Williams, coast league president.

Mrs. Sexton's position with the minor leagues is similar to that held by Judge Landis with the major league organization, and though the Pacific Coast league is the largest minor circuit, the "Landis of the Minors" has never visited this part of his domain.

'Round the Sport Circle

By HENRY L. FARRELL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(United Press).—"Jack Dempsey," says Billy Nolan, commenting in a western paper, "is a great fighter, but he can't stop 'em with one punch, like Bob Fitzsimmons could. When Fitz hit 'em, they stayed down.

Nolan, who managed Bat Nelson and Willie Ritchie and who made poor old Joe Gans weigh in with his shoes and gloves on, saw the Dempsey-Firpo fight, and gave it as his opinion afterward, that Firpo would have been a cinch for Fitz. "Firpo got up eight or nine times after being punched by Dempsey, but he couldn't have taken more than one from Fitz. Dempsey can hit, but he lacks the knack of hitting so that he punch is deadly."

There are no one-punch fighters among the champions today and there weren't very many among the old-timers. If Fitzsimmons had the knack of keeping his man down with one punch, he learned after he fought Jack Dempsey, the Nonpareil.

Dempsey has won several fights with one punch before he won the championship, and if he has failed to do it since he won the title there is a reason for it. Dempsey couldn't get a fight if he stopped all his opponents with one crack. He could have stopped Carpentier with one shove. He didn't knock out Tom Gibbons, but there hasn't been a fighter in the heavyweight class who could have stopped Tom with one punch.

Against two of the biggest men ever in the ring—Willard and Firpo—Dempsey won in such short time as to rank himself with the best punchers of the class. Arguments on the subject will not prove anything, but it is very doubtful that Fitzsimmons or any other former champion of the class could have won any quicker from those two giants than Dempsey did.

Frank Chance, who has the rep for making the boys do as he says, has ordered that the White Sox players next season shall not smoke cigarettes, shall not drink "likker" and shall not have their wives tagging along on the road trips. That makes the P. L. eligible for the vice-presidency on one of the "Donters'" tickets next fall. If Commissioner Landis sustains the argument of Urban Shocker that a player, rather than the player's club, has the say in matters pertaining to his wife, the non-wife orders on several clubs will cease to function. Cigarettes will only taste sweeter to the boys when they are forbidden.

:o: :o: :o: :o:

Running hot and cold water in the dressing rooms is to be one of the novel accommodations the French Olympic committee is going to provide for the boxers who compete in the Paris games next summer. Running water in the corners and a sink in which to empty the dirty water from the buckets also will be provided.

Electric fans and radio ear attachments to carry words from the coaches during the rounds, for some strange reason, have been overlooked. The committee is considering specifications for a sliding couch that can be adjusted with great speed behind a falling boxer with springs strong enough to set him up again. The French sure do do things!

New rules have also been approved for the boxing bouts. Each bout will consist of two three-minute rounds and one four-minute round, and in no case will an extra round be ordered. The committee takes a reasonable stand that at the end of three such rounds either one of the boxers is the winner or it is a draw. The judges, in handing in their slips at the end of the round, must voice the number of points given to each boxer in each round.

:o: :o: :o: :o:

Benny Leonard and Mickey Walker are as good as matched to fight this summer for the world's welterweight championship. Leonard does not like to fight as a lightweight, and Walker is afraid of the welterweights. Both of them hate decisions, and it is probable that they will fight in New Jersey. Leonard figures that the match will draw $700,000. He should say that he hopes it will draw that much, as he will work for a percentage. If the top price for seats is kept within reason—and it is limited in Jersey—the match will not draw anything near that sum.

No fans are violently agitated about Leonard when he steps out of his class. He acted so peculiarly in his last attempt to win the welterweight championship by fouling Jack Britton when he was out, that he seemed to have a reason for not wanting the title. Perhaps he may still have the same reason.

Walker has been so cautious since he won the championship that it will create some speculation if he does sign to fight Leonard. As a match it would be one that could do boxing no good and it would not be permitted in New York, where most anything goes.

:o: :o: :o: :o:

The same birds who chirp about boxing being the "manly art of self-defense" and about boxing winning the war, have figures to show that more athletes have been killed in playing baseball, football and hockey and in riding horses and automobiles than fighting in the ring. But, as was pointed out in a letter to a New York paper, fighters go out purposely to do bodily injury in the ring, and they don't in other sports.

Chester Bowman Beats Fast Field In Sixty Yards

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Chester Bowman, the fleet Syracuse University sprinter, won the invitation 60 yard, the feature of the municipal games at Madison Square Garden last night, showing his heels to a field composed of Loren Murchinson, Newark, A. C. flash; Bob McAllister, New York's "flying cop," and Jackson V. Schols, the Illinois A. C. marvel.

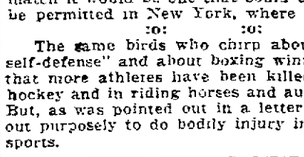
It was Murchinson's first defeat since his return to the track after his announced intention to hang up his spikes. McAllister was second in this event and Murchinson third. The time was 6 3-5 seconds.

Joie Ray and Ray Watson, Chicago athletes, ran an exhibition 440-yard dash, Watson nosing out his team mate by a narrow margin. Harold Osborne, Illinois A. C., jumper and claimant of the world's indoor high jumped record, cleared the 6-feet 2-inch mark in an exhibition. More than 1000 athletes competed in the 33 events.

Willie Hoppe Is Again Victorious

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 1.—Willie Hoppe, world's champion billiard player, defeated Jake Schaefer in the second block of a 1600 point match here last night by the score of 400 to 243. The match now stands: Hoppe 800; Schaefer 196, the champion having won the afternoon contest 400 to 253.

The final two games will be played this afternoon and evening.



The Oakland Natives were defeated for the first time this season in Division 2 of the Eastbay Unlimited Basketball league Wednesday night at Fremont high school when they lost a 39-17 decision to the Athalian club.

The victory practically cinched the league for the Athalians, who have but one game yet to play against the West Berkeley Athletic club.

Minus the services of Stoddard, Mackay and Waugh, the N. S. G. W. quintet lasted their usual speed and were trailing 12 to 10 at the end of the first half.

In the second period the winners romped away with matters, Coppel was high point man for the night with 15.

The lineups:

Jones (6)	Forward	Bibb (2)
Coppel (15)	Forward	Getchel (2)
Holland (6)	Center	Rose (2)
Mims (9)	Guard	Weakley (2)
Weaver (6)	Guard	Taylor (1)

Molla Mallory Now Eligible For Olympiad

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, seven times national women's tennis champion, who has been barred from competing for the United States in the Olympics, is eligible to represent Norway, her native land, if she desires to do so. This question, a subject of uncertainty for several weeks, was settled definitely yesterday in an invitation extended to Mrs. Mallory to compete for Norway.

The invitation, sent by the president of the Norwegian Lawn Tennis Association, informed Mrs. Mallory that French Olympic authorities had given official assurance that she is fully qualified to represent her native country, though now an American citizen by marriage. The former titleholder, however, declined to say whether she would accept.

New York Yankees Get Nick Cullop

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The New York Yankees finally bought Pitcher Charles "Nick" Cullop from the Omaha club of the Western league for $10,000.

It is the third time the Yanks had announced acquisition of Cullop. The first time President Burch of the Omaha club denied it; and after he had conceded it the next day, the Yanks made a second announcement, but he sent out a second denial. Mr. Burch was here and agreed that he had sold the pitcher.

Only One Yankee to Get Raise in Salary

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—All the world's champion New York Yankees except Babe Ruth, were mailed 1924 contracts today by Secretary Barrow, and it was understood that only one provided for an increase. Ruth has a five-year contract, and Aaron Ward, second baseman, gets the boost. If Joe Dugan's knee has fully recovered when the season begins, it was indicated the third baseman's contract would be revised.

First Squad Not to Leave Until Feb. 25

Ivan Howard Starts for This City; Massey To Be Released Outright.

By EDDIE MURPHY

Del Howard, business manager of the Oaks, has decided that the first squad of players, consisting of batterymen and rookies will not go into training at Myrtledale Hot Springs until Monday, February 25, and the remainder until one week later, March 3. The original plan was to have the pitchers, catchers and rookies report on February 15, and the others a few days later, but plans have been changed because the league directors voted not to open the Coast league 1924 season until April 8 instead of April 1.

The new plan means that the pitchers and catchers will have a full month and the others, three weeks of training before they will come to Oakland to play a game with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Following their series with the Chicago Cubs the Oaks will have one more week to get ready for the opening of the P. C. L. season, and it is the plan to have them spend that week in Oakland also. The last practice game will be played on Saturday, April 5, and the team will leave that evening for Salt Lake and will probably work out on the Bees' home lot on Monday.

MASSEY FREE AGENT.

Ivan Howard, manager of the team, left Kenney, Illinois yesterday and is expected to arrive here early next week. Then he and his brother Del will put the finishing touches on the plans for training.

Mike Massey, who shared the work with Jack Knight around second base last season, will be made a free agent so that he can catch on with some other club if he cares to. Massey came to the Oaks as a free agent, and for that reason he will be allowed to make a deal for himself.

The game with the Pirates will be played here Sunday morning, March 23. It will be the Oaks' first home appearance. On the afternoon of the same day the Saints meet St. Mary's Phoenix. The remainder of the week and following Sunday will see the Oaks in a series of games with the Chicago Cubs.

FINLEY TO RETURN.

Alexander (Scotty) Finley who trained the Oaks during the season of 1922 and who is regarded as one of the best baseball trainers in the country, is coming back to the Coast league but this time as trainer for the Portland Beavers. Finley went to the Boston Red Sox from the Oaks, but took ill during the middle of last season. It was necessary to get a trainer to fill his place, so there was no job left for him. He wanted to return to the Oaks, but his letter arrived a few days too late as the Oaks had already signed Billy Burke who is also one of the best trainers in the game.

Harry Krause and Ray Kremer hand a lot of credit to Finley for their success of the last couple of years as Finley did fine work on their arms. Bill Kenworthy, manager of the Beavers is lucky to land a trainer like Finley.

BILLY ORR IS SOLD.

Although it has not been officially announced, Billy Orr, infielder for the Seattle club, will not be in the Coast League next season. Billy has been sold by Charlie Lockerd of the Seattle Club to Shreveport in the Texas League. It is understood that Orr has been notified of the sale and that he has said he will not report. It is hard for Orr to leave the coast after playing around here so long, but every player has his day in the P. C. L. and it looks like Billy's has arrived. It has also been said that Orr has a good chance to become manager of the club in time. Ira Thomas, former major leaguer, is managing Shreveport.

BILLY LANE IS SIGNED.

Billy Lane, outfielder for the Seattle club, returned yesterday from Colfax and the little speedball is ready for the sound of the gong. Billy went so big with the Indians during the season of 1922 that the owners of that club gave him a two-year contract when he signed last season. So Billy is one player who will not be listed among the holdouts.

Seals Sign Two More Rookies for Tryouts

The San Francisco Seals have signed a couple of more young ball players, making 54 they will take into training camp. Henry Markowitz, who has been playing in the San Francisco Midwinter League as a second sacker, 22 years old, while Beverly Broaddus of Meadowmere county is a pitcher. The latter is 22 years of age and had a tryout with the Oaks a couple of years ago.

Oaks to Play Champions of The Sand Lots

San Leandro and Caseys Are Scheduled to Meet in the Final Game Sunday.

With the announcement from Herbie McFarlin that the Oaks will play an exhibition game with the team winning the winter championship, interest increased in the championship series which are now in progress. All the teams were forced to take a rest last Sunday, but they promise to come back next Sunday with more enthusiasm than ever. With arrangements completed for their series with the champs of the Southern California K. of C. League, Oakland Council players are more anxious than ever to win their series with San Leandro, champs of the Alameda County League. The final game of the series will be played next Sunday afternoon at the Oakland Coast League Park. This game will decide the Eastbay semi-pro championship.

The Cherry Pickers won the first game a few weeks ago and the Knights evened up a week ago last Sunday. Bill Wagner of San Leandro intends to start Heinie Lay on the hill, although many fans who are coming down from Napa and Vallejo would like to see "Lefty" Hobson do the honors. Manager Johnny Gillespie of the Knights was so pleased with the showing of Jimmy McNamara on the hilltop in the last game that he and Coach Joe Devine got together and decided to start Jimmy next Sunday again, with Mervin Shea behind the log.

There will be several other important games. At Washington Park in Alameda, the Bertillion Hatters and Whelan Markets will fight for the American division championship of the Spalding League. They will start play at 1 o'clock. At the same time at San Pablo playground in Berkeley, St. Joseph's Sodality and Knights of Pythias will meet in the final game for the championship of the Spalding Eastern class B division. No Chance of Dempsey Ever Meeting Wills

Tex Rickard to Promote the Wills-Firpo Bout in Spite of Many Bidders.

By HENRY L. FARRELL,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—In the course of tracing down mysterious millionaires who are bidding wild for a heavyweight contest between Harry Wills and Luis Firpo, some very interesting facts concerning the entire heavyweight situation have been learned from a source that is absolutely authentic and reliable.

These facts are:

That Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills positively cannot fight this year and it is doubtful that they ever will be allowed to fight in this country.

That Tex Rickard will promote the Wills-Firpo fight—if they fight.

That Rickard will meet the bid of any rival promoter and that he will have the advantage in his favor because of his reputation.

That there is only one state in the country that is willing to listen to a mixed bout and that this state will sanction a Wills-Firpo bout only after some clever political manipulation.

That New York state positively will not grant permission for a Dempsey-Wills or a Firpo-Wills fight.

That the authorities are willing to sanction a Dempsey-Gibbons or a Dempsey-Firpo fight, but they will not permit Dempsey to fight more than twice and probably not more than once this summer.

While positive information was not secured, it was understood that Connecticut is the only state that will even listen to a proposal for a mixed heavyweight fight and that Pennsylvania and New York will never permit one.

S.F. Symphony Is Acclaimed In Dohnanyi Suite

Conductor Hertz' Rule On Repetitions Imperiled by Applause.

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH.

Ernest von Dohnanyi's suite in F minor struck away many of the suspicions that concert-goers are wont to entertain against the moderns when it was played last evening by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra at the Auditorium Theater. Apparently it converted every person in the house, the applause at one time almost seeming to shake even Alfred Hertz' stern and rock-bound opposition to repetitions.

The suite is beautifully constructed, varied, particularly rich in orchestration, distinctly modern in quality and yet fabricated from the most solid materials. It exploits two of the most striking virtues of the Hungarian composer, his felicity in melodic invention and his feeling for orchestral textures.

Here and there is a tour de force, sometimes dependent upon unusual rhythmic forms, sometimes upon novel instrumental combinations, but none lacks either facility, beauty or good musical taste. For the rest there is substantial and charming writing. It was the third movement, the rondo, which won chief approbation from the audience. It is an olio of solos and trios; first the oboe, then the 'cello, then the English horn contributing its bit, and finally a trio arriving for a single violin, viola and 'cello. Th individual playing here kept pace with the general performance of the work by the whole orchestra; good playing, good conducting.

Schumann's Fourth Symphony was played in the first half of the program, following a spirited but not well-unified or organized rendition of "The Flying Dutchman" overture. The symphony is seldom heard and not of a particularly popular appeal. It betrays some of Schumann's worst faults, in particular his indifference to thematic development and his occasionally muddy orchestration. In its form, however, it has the virtue of a novelty, at least for the student of music, and the Schumann feeling for melody seldom fails. The orchestra seemed to feel that a perfunctory performance would but emphasize the lack of distinction it otherwise possesses and played it with vigor and grace.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, which is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store; it is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

Beauty Bevy to Be Seen In Comedy Film

The Bathing Beauties are back! Mack Sennett has decided to reintroduce a new bevy of charming femininity such as originally helped make him famous. Among the former beauty brigade were several girls who are now stars or featured players, including Gloria Swanson, Louise Fazenda, Marie Provost and Phyllis Haver. The 1924 Bathing Beauties include many girls of whom more may be heard in the future. They make their first screen appearance together in "Picking Peaches," Sennett's latest comedy, starring his new find, Harry Langdon, former Orpheum star, which will be shown at the American, starting tomorrow.

William de Mille supplies the more serious part of the bill in his latest sensational production, "Don't Call It Love," featuring Nita Naldi, Jack Holt, Agnes Ayres, Rod La Roque, Robert Edeson, Theodore Kosloff and a cast of Paramount favorites.

Adapted from "Rita Coventry," a novel by Julian Street, which ran serially in the Saturday Evening Post recently, "Don't Call It Love" is the story of an honorable man torn between the allure of a fascinating opera singer and the love of a charming refined girl. Who wins out and how, portrayed behind the doors of New York's best society, makes a picture with all the punch of "Nice People," and the comedy values of "Grumpy."

TEAM WORK AIDS CHEST FUND DRIVE

Optimists Conduct Monday Luncheon When Reports of Progress Are Made; Results Are Satisfactory

Money for the Community Chest fund continues to pour in at the noonday luncheons to the lilting time of community singing in which such familiar airs as "Li'l Liza Jane" and "By Bonnie" are ruling favorites. Day by day the fund steadily grows and increases, yet campaign officials say that the team organization is just beginning to "take hold" of its big job. Colonels of the twenty-five divisions are beginning to watch more closely the daily progress of field results as they are bulletined on the gigantic blackboard. Groups of captains and team workers are holding frequent confidential conferences to formulate plans whereby their respective squads will increase their percentage over some nearby rival team.

Today's program at the Hotel Oakland was conducted by the Optimists club. The Optimists lived up to their name and reputation of being persons who are firm believers in the theory that everything in the present state of existence is for the best. Every division had a big representative turn-out, and officials state reports are showing daily improvement. Arthur Caldwell, president of the Optimist club, presided and Charles Lloyd led the community singing. Lloyd, together with Hugh Williams, put on a vocal duo feature that was well received and generously applauded.

"RESULTS SATISFACTORY."

Campaign officials state that the results of the solicitation thus far are satisfactory considering the number of prospects that have been solicited. However, it will be necessary to speed up the solicitation, they say, if the goal is to be reached within the ten days allotted time. One of the most encouraging phases of the canvass thus far, it is said, is the gracious and considerate reception that is being accorded the team workers.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said Chairman Oliver, "that our citizens are willing to shoulder the responsibility of taking care of the poor and needy; the big task that lies ahead of us is in getting the immense territory properly canvassed within the alotted time.

WORKERS ENCOURAGED.

"We feel highly gratified at the splendid response business and industrial concerns are making to our appeal for increases in subscriptions over last year. This is very encouraging to the hundreds of men and women who are giving not only of their money but personal time as well, in doing the work of the campaign. Such service as our team organization is giving could not be bought and paid for by even the largest business concern of the state; it is a labor of love in which true human compassion together with civic pride is shown in its best form."

Today's program differed somewhat from those that have proceeded it in that there was no speaker chosen for the day. The meeting resolved itself into an interchange of experiences and suggestions which, it was said, will undoubtedly result beneficially to the entire team organization.

It was announced that the teams will hold their regular luncheon meeting tomorrow.

ONE-DAY BEER STRIKE.

KEYNSHAM, Eng. — Inmates of the local workhouse refused to accept a proposal that beer must be served to them only one day a year and won a demand that an extra allowance of tobacco be served instead.

Don't Know Tom? He's One of 24,339 Aided by Chest Fund

You don't know Tom, but he's one of the 24,339 needy persons the Community Chest has helped during the past year. So are his father and mother. But his six brothers and sisters who were carried out in little white caskets—those no one knew until it was too late. Even the folks next door, who were just as poor but not quite as grief-laden, didn't know much about it.

That's the kind of people Tom's folks are—independent, self-reliant, hard-working. They mind their own affairs, and expect others to do the same.

Yet sometimes, when there are little caskets going out of the home in rapid succession, when it just seems as if no matter how hard you try things are all stacked against you, when there isn't another woman-soul to whom you can tell about the ill luck tha seetms to haunt your babies—well, it's most too much for even the most prideful family to bear.

Tom would have filled the seventh coffin if he hadn't started playing truant. The school nurse called one day to see why Tom had been absent. Tom's father, a day laborer, was away. So was his mother, who worked in a factory.

Over a smouldering fire in the kitchen stove a little boy huddled. The nurse touched his shoulder. Tom raised a wan face marked by burning eyes.

"I jes' can't go to school any more. I got such a misery in my back," he said.

An examination showed he was entitled to all the misery he claimed. A serious organic affliction, symptoms of which his mother remembered had appeared in his infancy, had stricken the child.

The mother looked helpless "I never had no luck with my children," she said.

After an operation at one of the hospitals which share in the Community Chest fund, Tom was sent to Del Valle Farm to "build up."

He's been a "master builder," too. In four months he has gained 11½ pounds. The Associated Charities has shown the mother how to budget her husband's earnings.

Coue to Deliver Two Lectures in Bay Region

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Emile Coue, whose famous formula, "Day by day, in every way, I am getting better and better," was on every one's lips a year ago, is in San Francisco today. The noted apostle of auto-suggestion will give two lectures in the bay district.

An exceedingly lively and likeable little Frenchman for his 67 years, the man who has risen from an apothecary at Nancy to the position of a proponent of a doctrine with followers throughout the world, is an animated demonstration of the efficiency of his own theory.

"It is delightful to feel the sympathy and ready response of American audiences," the distinguished visitor declared. "I am only a teacher. I am not a miracle man. I am not a healer. I am just an optimist with an idea. Auto-suggestion is not new. It is very, very old. I have a formula and I believe that it means much to the happiness of all. I have been amused and delighted and thrilled by those who have taken my formula, 'Day by day, in every way, I am getting better and better,' and have put it in song and story.

"I have only one doctrine to preach. It is that the repetition of my formula influences the operation of the sub-conscious mind, which controls the body, its organs and functions, that it appeals to the imagination and that when properly working will do much in the way of regulating our lives.

"I am happy over my work and I am gratified beyond measure by my reception here."

Coue arrived at the Oakland mole yesterday and took the ferryboat Alameda for San Francisco.

Coue declared on his arrival that stupid people often benefit by his theory more than more intelligent individuals. He attributed this to the fact that the clever type of individual sometimes has a tendency to analyze himself and the theory in a way that destroys the effectiveness of the formula.

Bay Ferries Carry 50,000,000 in 1923

More than fifty million commuters were ferried across San Francisco bay last year by the various lines operating between Oakland and San Francisco, and an additional two million persons traveled on the upper bay ferries, according to the annual report of John K. Bulger, supervising steamboat inspector.

According to the figures, the travel increased a million and a half over that of 1922 on the Southern Pacific lines, and the Key Route travel increased by more than a million. Following is the number of passengers carried by each of the bay ferry companies during 1923:

Southern Pacific Oakland and Alameda piers	20,877,381
Southern Pacific Oakland creek route	1,191,191
Oakland pier auto ferry	1,275,567
Key Route	16,685,643

SUGAR FORECAST IS FOR ADEQUATE SUPPLY IN 1924

Experts Estimate Surplus of About 425,000 Tons From Advance Crop Reports.

BY CONSOLIDATED PRESS SPECIAL TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The sweet tooth of the American people probably will not go unfilled during the current year. Preliminary indications point to an adequate supply of sugar, according to the expert statisticians of the trade, but no one has undertaken to determine just what course the consuming public will follow. Whether the supply is adequate and whether the price will move within narrow ranges depend upon the purchases of the American house wife as well as upon weather and other conditions here and abroad.

1924 FORECASTS.

The experts of the Federal Sugar Refining Company estimate that there will be an excess supply of 425,000 tons available for this country in 1924. This estimate, however, is based on a consumption equal to that of 1923. Distribution of sugar last year did not increase at the same rate which had prevailed from 1918 to 1922. But the total amount consumed did rise above the 1922 level. There is every reason to believe that a normal increase will be shown in 1924 since the additions to population would account for a considerable tonnage even if the individual citizen bought no more than last year.

The total distribution of sugar in the United States in 1923 was 4,780,684 tons. But consumption was sharply curtailed by the spectacular rise in price of sugar early in the year. Of the amount bought last year, the Federal experts credit 1,096,531 tons to domestic beet and cane production and 3,685,153 tons to supplies from insular possessions, Cuba and other foreign countries. They base their estimate of a 425,000-ton surplus this year on anticipation that shipments from Cuba and other foreign countries, Hawaii, the Philippines, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, will aggregate 4,110,000 tons of refined sugar. Taking the domestic beet and cane production of 1923 as a basis for the 1924 supply, this would insure a surplus over 1923 requirements of 425,447 tons. However, it is extremely likely that the domestic beet and cane crops this year will be well in excess of those of last year, as well as that consumption will be at a heavier rate than in 1923.

BEET SUGAR OUTLOOK.

Beet sugar manufacturers and growers have just ended a most prosperous year. Steps already are being taken to cultivate a much larger acreage to sugar beets the coming season. The Louisiana cane producers also sold their products at a satisfactory figure and there is small doubt that with normal weather conditions the domestic sugar production will show an increase.

Weather in Cuba recently has been favorable and there are at present between 160 and 170 mills grinding cane. Early forecasts by some experts of the Cuban 1924 output place it somewhat above 3,800,000 tons. Predictions of the European sugar beet production for the season of 1923-1924 range around 4,980,000 tons or approximately 428,638 tons more than for last season. Germany's crop is expected to reach only 1,125,000 tons. The most important increase is in Czecho-Slovakia, where an output of 1,030,000 tons is anticipated as compared with 726,472 tons last year.

MARKET CONDITIONS.

The above facts, according to men in the sugar trade, will have a far greater bearing on the price and consumption of sugar in the country in the next year than any enforcement of rules or regulations for the conduct of sugar exchange such as were asked in the suit of the Department of Justice against the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange and denied by the United States Supreme Court. The suit asked for the regulation of exchange operations against possibility of artificial price curtail.

The incursions of Western beet sugar manufacturers make such rapid inroads into Eastern markets last fall that it is regarded as likely that further efforts to capture the trade of the Eastern seaboard will be made beginning next October when the output of the Western factories becomes available.

DETROIT BUILDING.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 1.—Construction permits here in the last week involved expenditures of $1,829,000 compared with $1,179,000 the previous week and $1,448,000 the corresponding week of last year.

Many Mergers In Oil Looked For Shortly

OIL development over the next six months will be interesting. There are more than a dozen important independent oil companies mentioned in connection with mergers or change in control. Stocks of many of these companies are said to be under accumulation. Mergers, with an uninterrupted advance in crude oil and gasoline prices, are bound to create a lively market in the oil shares, says the Wall Street Journal.

TAX RETURNS IN FIRST HALF OF 1923 SHOW GAIN

Increase Construed As Sign of Better Business; How States Pay.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Internal taxes brought more money to the government in the last six months of 1923 than in the corresponding period of 1922, showing, in the opinion of treasury officials, a healthier and more active business condition generally, inasmuch as the domestic taxes are levied on scores of different industrial and commercial pursuits.

Statistics of receipts between July 1 and January 1, last as made public by the internal revenue bureau showed payments to the government of $1,339,787,452 from all internal levies, including income and profits taxes. Receipts for the corresponding period in 1922 were $1,167,646,452.

Income and profits paid their usual large share of the total $821,259,551 coming from that source, while in the last six months of 1922, this source yielded $676,796,120. There was an increase also in the "miscellaneous" taxes, covering all of the other assessments under the internal revenue law, the comparative receipts being $518,537,900 for the period ending last January and $490,850,308 for the six months ending January 1, 1922.

The receipts include payments of the third and fourth instalments on income and profits taxes in the respective years end, these being smaller than receipts from the first and second instalments, the total for the first six months of any year always is larger. Official opinion, however, was that the increase as between the two periods reflected prosperity in business effort that could be proved in no better way than that generous returns to the owners developed greater payments of taxes.

New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois, in order, furnished the greatest amount of taxes. Collections from New York amounted to $344,153,387. Pennsylvania $126,081,444 and Illinois $104,981,193. Total taxes paid by the states and territories for the last half of 1923 were as follows:

FAIR GRAIN CROP IS ASSURED BY RECENT STORMS

Grass Is Coming, But Stock Will Not Be Benefited for Some Time.

The division of crop and live-stock estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the California Department of Agriculture, summarizes conditions of the past two weeks as follows:

The long drought in California was effectively broken the past week when "Jupiter Pluvius" favored the entire state with a fairly liberal downpour. It was the first general rain for the season and will greatly relieve the serious feed conditions existing on most cattle and sheep ranges, providing seasonal temperatures follow. Reports are more optimistic and even though the rainfall is considerably below normal in most sections of the state, the recent storm has greatly improved the agricultural outlook for the coming year.

GRASS IS GROWING.

Generally speaking, there is now sufficient moisture in the ground to promote a good growth of pasture grasses; however, temperatures during the next few weeks must be warm in order to obtain this growth. Until new grass is available, no great improvement in the condition of livestock can be expected. Beef cattle and sheep have been suffering rather seriously in some districts. Stock has been fed wherever possible and practicable; nevertheless some loss has been reported, especially of sheep. Much difficulty has been experienced in keeping ewes in proper condition for lambing on account of the scarcity of green feed. Naturally, lambs are showing the result of the lack of milk in the early lambing districts. In the northern counties the peak of the lambing season does not come until later, when it is more than likely that green feed will be available. The market for good fat stock is very favorable to the producer at the present time, due to such stock being very scarce, largely on account of the feed shortage. Only a few stockmen, who have been in a position to feed hay liberally, are able to take advantage of this favorable situation.

GRAIN IS SAVED.

The rain of last week was a "life-saver" for many grain farmers, particularly to those in the San Joaquin valley, where only a very small percentage of the seedings had germinated. While some rotting of seed was reported, the loss from this cause is not regarded as serious. If the remainder of the season is favorable, grain crops still have a fair prospect. Wheat and barley sown in the lowlands in the Sacramento valley are in good condition, while that on the upland has been in need of moisture for some time. Very little growth has been made, but the farmers in those sections state that a good root system has been developed which, if future conditions are favorable, will do much to produce a good crop. Southern California reports that if spring conditions are normal a fair to good crop of grain should be harvested, depending upon the locality. There is now sufficient moisture in the ground throughout the state to permit farmers to plow and seed for a crop of barley.

The rain, besides being of value to livestock men and grain growers, will greatly benefit orchards and vineyards. The ground heretofore has been too dry to satisfactorily transplant nursery stock, but the open weather has permitted the farmer to get well along with spraying and pruning until now when sufficient moisture has come for the planting of trees he can give his entire attention to this work.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Wheat today scored a new high record price for the season. September delivery rising to 110½ soon after the opening. Unfavorable weather conditions emphasizing fear of crop damage acted as the chief bullish influence. Trading was on a liberal scale with offerings well absorbed. Initial prices, which ranged from the decline to 3c advance, May $1.11¼ to $1.11¾ and July $1.10 to $1.10½, were followed by moderate gains all around. Corn and oats were firm in sympathy with wheat. After opening unchanged to ¼c higher, May 73½ to 73c, the corn market soared a little and then made a general upturn.

Oats started at 1c off to 1c advance, May 46½c, and later held near to the initial range.

Provisions lacked support.

SHIPS AND SHIPPING
News of Oakland Waterfront

Edited by FRANK CLIFF.

LAUNCHINGS OF WORLD DECLINE IN YEAR OF 1923

Lloyds Register Shows Considerable Drop Except in U. S.

Less than half as much tonnage was launched by shipyards of the world, collectively speaking, during 1923 than was launched in the pre-war year of 1913, according to a special shipbuilding report by Lloyd's Register of Shipping in the New York Journal of Commerce. Launchings in 1913, the report states, totaled 3,532,000 gross tons, and last year they were but 1,642,000 tons.

While the falling off last year was also marked as compared with the proceeding year of 1922, the report points out that the United States is the only country which showed a gain, 172,817 tons being launched in 1923, as against 119,135 tons in 1922. For Great Britain and Ireland there is shown a decrease of about 385,000 tons and almost a half million tons for all other countries combined. The world total for 1923 was 1,642,181 tons, against 2,487,084 in 1922.

AMERICA INCREASES.

"The increase in the American output last year marks the first break in a continuous period of decline since 1919," the statement adds. "and it is pointed out that whereas the launchings for this country were 912,000 gross tons less than for Great Britain and Ireland in 1922, they were only 473,000 tons less for last year. And, whereas American shipyards launched almost 1,200,000 tons less in 1922 than all the other countries combined, excepting Great Britain and Ireland, in 1923 our shipbuilders launched only about 650,000 tons less. These reflect the sharp shrinkage in tonnage abroad during the last year."

Last year's decline in tonnage launched, which was less than half the total decline for the previous year, shows the first slackening in the proportion of shrinkage since 1920. In that year launchings were 18 per cent less than in 1919; in 1921 they were 25 per cent less than in 1920, and 1922's total was 42 per cent less than 1921's. For 1923, however, the launchings were 33 per cent less than in the previous year, the first break in the progressive decline.

The comparison of production between American and British shipyards during the period under review is shown by "Lloyd's Register" in the following table, showing the gross tons of launchings by years:

	United States	Britain & Ireland
1913	276,000	1,932,000
1919	4,075,500	1,620,000
1920	2,376,000	2,055,000
1921	1,006,000	1,538,000
1922	119,000	1,031,000
1923	172,000	645,000

TANKER TONNAGE LESS.

Last year brought a continuance in the sharp decline in tanker construction, says "Lloyd's Register." In 1921 more than a million gross tons of oil carriers were launched; but the 1922 figures were only about a third of that, while 1923's total was only about a third of that for 1922. While last year's decline was general, the British shrinkage was by far the greatest, as the following comparison in gross tons for the last two years shows:

	1923	1922
United States	9,862	14,440
Britain and Ireland	58,188	262,826
Others	58,131	78,588
World total	126,181	355,854

In 1922 more than 70 per cent of the world's tanker building was in British yards, but last year her proportion was only about 45 per cent.

Coastal Service For Alaska Will Start in Summer

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 31.—Coastwise Alaska service will probably be started by the Canadian National Railways out of this port next summer, according to a statement made today by J. E. Dalrymple, vice president of the Canadian National. A steamship will be chartered for next season's work, he said, but plans have been made to secure tenders for the purchase of a new vessel.

Transports Renamed for English Run

Five Former Troopships Start Passenger Runs On February 27.

The five steamers built for the Army transport service and recently taken over by the United States Shipping Board for the New York-London service of the United States Line, are to have new names. The names selected, according to Managing Director William J. Love, of the United States Lines, and the designated transport name which they will replace, are as follows:

Marne .....American Trader
Ourcq .....American Farmer
Aisne .....American Merchant
Tours .....American Shipper
Cantigny .....American Banker

The service will be inaugurated with the sailing on February 27 of the American Trader, formerly the Marne. The next sailing will be the American Merchant on March 5, the American Farmer on March 12, the American Shipper on March 19, and the American Banker on April 23. The vessels have been thoroughly overhauled and fitted with complete refrigerating systems.

George H. Wells, freight traffic manager of the United States Lines, states that demand for space on these vessels is a heavy one and he expects the first boat to inaugurate the service to leave with a full cargo.

Three Steamers Take on Cargoes For the Orient

Flour and Lumber Are Constituents of Big Shipments.

ASTORIA, Ore., Jan. 30. — The British steamer Baron Lovat, after taking on one million feet of lumber at Westport shifted to the Astoria terminals, where she loaded 150,000 feet of lumber and will sail tomorrow for Japan.

The steamer West Jessup, carrying a cargo from Portland and other points on the river for Shanghai, after lying in the lower harbor over night, returned to an anchorage off the city front this morning on account of E. R. Chrospy, her chief engineer, being seriously ill with heart trouble. He was removed to the hospital, where he is under the care of Marine Health Officer Manning and probably will be able to leave in a few days for his home on Puget Sound. The steamer will be delayed here until a new chief arrives.

TOYAN BERRY ALLOTMENT COMMENCED

Free Seeds for Planting Are Furnished by Park Board; Plan to Remove Temptation to Destroy Shrubbery

The regular annual free distribution of toyon berries, for planting by citizens of Oakland in their yards, was started today at the offices of the park board on the fourth floor of the city hall.

Last year more than 1500 citizens were given these berry seeds for planting. This year, according to Secretary Henry Vogt of the park department, a greater number is expected.

The park board, last Thanksgiving, distributed toyon plants to the hospitals, and many believed that the annual distribution of toyons had started, but that was admitted to be a false alarm. The park board has now started in earnest to give berries for planting throughout the city. Anybody can get a big full. Six big grain sacks full of them are now available for the public, to be given away in small paper bags.

"The park board and the hill clubs approve heartily of this distribution," said Vogt. "We are trying to have toyons grow in every yard in the city, so that there will be no temptation for trampers and campers to denude the back hills of these berries. The hill clubs for years have protested against this habit of trampers, and many of the beauty spots in the hills have almost disappeared. We ask the citizens to grow their own."

Full directions for planting and growing will be furnished free by the park board, with the berries.

Orange Not Substitute But Aid to Milk Diet

Oranges cannot be considered a substitute for milk, particularly in promoting the growth of children, but only as a supplemental food to be taken in addition to milk, according to Professor M. E. Jaffa, head of the department of nutrition at the University of California, and consulting nutrition expert for the state board of health.

Professor Jaffa made this statement in discussing a recent experiment in nutrition made among Oakland school children by Miss Margaret S. Chaney, working under the supervision of the household science department of the University of California.

Miss Chaney, Professor Jaffa points out, found that children who were given oranges or orange juice at the school at lunch time increased in weight more rapidly than those who were given milk. Publication of these findings has given rise to the belief among many person that oranges could be substituted for milk in children's diet, with more beneficial results

But, says Professor Jaffa, those who were given orange juice at the school were already receiving milk at home, as were also those who were receiving the milk diet at the school. It was therefore the combination of milk and oranges that caused the gain in weight, as compared with milk alone. This is made clear, Professor Jaffa says, in another portion of Miss Chaney's report, in which she wrote:

"As determined by the questionnaire, most of the children were receiving sufficient milk at home. On the other hand, oranges were used less plentifully—in many cases not at all. Therefore the oranges fed at school supplemented the milk and caused more rapid gain."

According to Professor Jaffa, oranges lack certain of the constituents of milk that are essential to growth, a fact which prevents their taking the place of milk. They possess qualities which milk lacks, however, oranges as a supplementary food will prove more beneficial than additional milk.

Man Arrested for Attempted Assault

Manuel Feres of 1617 Seventh street is being held in the city prison today and will be charged with attempted assault with a deadly weapon and battery, following his arrest last night by Patrolman H. B. Calane. He was taken into custody on the complaint of his wife, who said he chased her through the house with a butcher knife and threatened to kill her.

Meeting to Boost Street Lighting

Better street lighting for Oakland will be the subject of a mass meeting of citizens called for Friday, February 8, at the Hotel Oakland, by James P. Koll, president of the Oakland Downtown Association. L. A. S. Wood, chairman of the street and highway lighting section of the National Electric Light Association of South Bend, Indiana, will explain the benefits from the installation of an adequate and modern system.

City Commissioner Frank Colbourn, City Electrician C. E. Hardy and City Attorney Leon Gray will attend the meeting on behalf of the city administration.

SOURCES OF WATER WILL BE SURVEYED

Utilities District Directors Decide to Spend $314,000 in Investigating All Possible Supplies in the State

Calling a special meeting last night in their offices at Seventeenth and Telegraph, the directors of the Eastbay public utilities district decided on spending $314,000 to look into sources of supply during the coming fiscal year and to pave the way for the great future metropolitan water system. It was agreed that the district will investigate the McCloud, Eel, American, Mokelumne and Hetch Hetchy sources of supply, the investigations to cost about $275,000.

Arthur P. Davis, chief engineer for the district, set these estimates for the investigation of possible sources, adding that he "did not want folks to get the impression that he was against Hetch Hetchy, but intended to investigate every possible source of supply before deciding on the ultimate one."

PROVIDES FOR SURVEYS.

The budget, it was admitted, provides for surveys of all the suggested sources, which will begin when the money is available.

Concerning Hetch Hetchy, President Marsion Campbell of the district asserted that he had tried to visit both the mayor and chief engineer of San Francisco but had found both "out." A long questionnaire to San Francisco officials was considered last night, but was finally referred to the committee of the whole.

Consulting Engineer F. Emerson Hoar brought in a 68-page petition, asking a valuation of the East Bay Water Company plant, and this will be filed with the railroad commission, according to the directors, who adopted a resolution informing the state railroad commission of their intention to bring a suit in condemnation of the East Bay water distributing system.

ATTITUDE OF DIRECTORS.

Concerning the budget, Director Louis Bartlett issued the following statement explaining the attitude of the directors:

"In fixing the budget for next year the directors of the Eastbay municipal utility district appreciate their duty to manage the affairs of the district as economically as possible and they have accordingly reduced their estimates to the lowest sum that will get results. Their paramount duty is to get water promptly.

"The decision of the supreme court of California has prevented them from obtaining funds with which to start actual work until next July. Unfortunately, the drought and the growing needs of the Eastbay cities have hastened rather than delayed the date at which a new supply will be imperatively needed. For that reason the directors of the district are forced to crowd into one year the work which would normally be done in two, and they have had to arrange their budget with this in view. If the present dry seasons are not relieved by wet years in the immediate future, the building of the upper San Leandro dam will not prevent a water shortage. It is imperative that we commence at the earliest possible date to bring in a distant water supply, and that means that we must immediately examine and compare the available sources and promptly recommend to the people a bond issue for bringing the water in."

Quarrel Over Girl Leads to Shooting

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—A quarrel over the attentions paid to a young woman resulted in the probable fatal shooting here early today of William Sanford, colored, of 503 Bush street. Sanford was found on the sidewalk with a bullet wound in his abdomen. The police arrested Dee Gibson, also colored, of 561 Cedar avenue, who admitted the shooting but claimed he fired in self-defense. He was charged with assault to murder.

Alma Jackson of 2300 California street was the young woman upon whom Sanford called late last night. He was ordered out of the house and when he refused to go a quarrel arose with Gibson. The latter claims Sanford made a move as though to draw a gun and he shot him.

Battery to Hold Festivities Tonight

A drill and dance will be held by Battery A, 143d Field Artillery, California National Guard, tonight at the National Guard armory, at 674 Twenty-third street, according to announcement yesterday from Captain C. R. Patty, commanding.

Drills will be held in handling the famous 75 millimeter guns and in close order work. Following the drill there will be an informal dance, to which members of the battery and their friends are invited.

INVENTORS AID TRANSPORTATION

Every fifteenth patent granted by the United States Patent Office has to do with the improvement of transportation facilities, J. P. Gardner, Oakland patent attorney, told the members of the Mutual Business club at the Hotel Oakland.

As a result, the cost of hauling one ton one mile has been reduced from 30 cents, where it stood 100 years ago, to 1 cent at the present time, Gardner said.

Next to transportation, agricultural implements have received the most attention from inventors, according to Gardner. After that come electrical devices, and then mining implements.

Every tenth patent issued proves practicable, Gardner declared, while one out of every hundred is a commercial success.

Whelan Arraigned; Date of Hearing Set

Earl E. Whelan, held in the city jail in default of $5000 bail, was arraigned before Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell on a charge of violating the "blue sky" law today, and the date of his preliminary examination was set for February 6. Whelan is alleged to have sold stocks without having a state license.

His brother, Ray J. Whelan, also being held in jail in default of bail, will be arraigned February 7 on two charges of selling stock without a license and one of obtaining money under false pretenses.
